SCHOOLYARD RACE STRIFE REPORTED

Sausalito Mother Says Daughter Twice Attacked By Black Groups Over A Class

A 14-year-old white Sausalito girl was assaulted twice yesterday within a half-hour at Martin Luther King School in Sausalito because she had refused to attend a class given by controversial black teacher William Chaka, her mother claimed today.

Mrs. Wanda Fudge told the Independent-Journal that a group of 11 black boys and girls at the school attacked her daughter, Diana, on the school grounds during the lunch hour. She said they knocked her to the ground and, while three girls dragged her across the field by the hair, the other eight kicked and hit her.

Another boy and girl, companions of Diana, were threatened by the group, Mrs. Fudge said, and the boy was knocked to the ground and kicked when he attempted to come to her aid.

The attack ended, according to Mrs. Fudge when one of the school's yard supervisors appeared and sent the black students to the school office and briefly discussed the incident with Diana.

School Principal Robert Thompson said no complaint had been filed with the school office as of this morning and that to his knowledge, neither of the yard supervisors knew of the incident nor had they sent the black students to the office.

He did say, however, that the incident was called to his attention later in the day by a teacher who expressed concern that Diana had been "pushed around in the hall by black students. "The teacher drove Diana home after school to avoid further incidents," Thompson said.

Mrs. Fudge said she planned to discuss the matter with school officials later today.

Approximately 20 minutes after the first incident, Mrs. Fudge said, Diana started to walk to her first afternoon class and "she looked up and saw the hall full of black students," according to Mrs. Fudge, and the same group of students who had assaulted Diana earlier started choking her, hitting her head and kicking her. Another larger group of black students stood by and watched, she said.

After a few minutes the group broke up when a teacher approached and Diana went to her class.

Both incidents were the latest in a series of confrontations between Diana and the black students during the past few weeks, her mother said.

Mrs. Fudge attributes the incidents to "hatred stirred up" by Chaka.

Diana has been attending school in Sausalito for the past four years, is "well liked by both black and white students" and had no particular problems until Chaka 'stirred up this hate in the black students," Mrs. Fudge said, adding that black students leave his class wanting to hurt a white student, "any white student."

She believes that Diana has

Apollo Will Start Home Tomorrow

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Their most dangerous moments behind them, the Apollo 10 astronauts sailed around the moon today, charting the surface for future missions and preparing to start the long journey home tomorrow.

After a hectic day in which they put Americans on the threshold of a lunar landing, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan took it relatively easy today.

They photographed potential landing sites, studied lunar landmarks and perfected techniques for navigating in the moon's environment.

Mission control, noting their busy day yesterday, told the astronauts they could sleep until noon if they desired. But they were up at 6:25 a.m. PDT.

"We all had about five to six hours pretty fair sleep," Cernan reported.

Among the problems was a camera that had jammed yesterday. Cernan said the film refused to advance automatically. He used a pencil to do the job.

Apollo 10 ends it two-and-one-half-day lunar orbit period at 3:20 a.m. tomorrow when the astronauts trigger their engine, while behind the moon to start the 54-hour homeward journey. They are to splash into the Pacific Ocean near Pago Pago at 9:53 a.m. Monday.

They have a lot to report about their remarkable, sometimes hair-raising day in space yesterday.

Stafford, Young and Cernan left little doubt that Apollo 11 will blast off for the moon July 16, carrying astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin A. Aldrin toward a landing on the area called the Sea of Tranquility.

After two looping dives to only 9.4 miles above the primary Apollo 11 landing site near the crater Moltke, Stafford radioed this description:

"It looks a lot smoother than some of the photos show. I estimate a 25 to 30 per cent semi-clear area, so if the LEM has enough hover time, it should not be a problem. However, if you

PSYCHEDELIC BROOM

Sausalito's Vina Del Mar Plaza rarely has been so clean as since the hippies who cluster there acquired this push broom. Frank Russo, a hippie leader, bought the broom Wednesday with money donated by merchants, and built the stand. During the day, it stands available for any who feel moved to use it, and at night Russo takes it home so it won't be stolen. Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean could not even find any trash to use for a prop.

Demos Take $85 Million Whack At Reagan's Record Budget Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Democrats today demanded a $85.7 million slash in Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget as their price for releasing it from the lower house. The cuts included a $26.8 million reduction in state welfare spending, in anticipation of the end of a federal funds freeze.

Assemblymen George N. Zenovich, Democratic caucus chairman, and Robert W. Crown, ranking Democrat on the budget-writing Ways and Means Committee, said the cuts were "just a beginning."

"Governor Reagan, who feigns to be interested in economy but spends more money than any chief executive in California history, should read some of his old campaign speeches in which he pledged to reduce spending."

They said Reagan's record $6.2 billion budget "testifies to the fiscal falsehood" of the administration's claims of economy.

The Democrats also proposed eliminating outright the state's World Trade Program, the Consumer Counsel, the Program and Policy Unit within Reagan's office, the Office of Planning, the Housing and Community Development Department, the California Cadet Corps and the Colorado River Board.

In all cases, the Democrats found these units of government either ineffective or unneeded.

A new fiscal report is due to be made public next Monday and the state is now expected to end the current fiscal year

Sirhan Has Breakfast In Death Row

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was secretly spirited to San Quentin Prison today from Los Angeles, where he was sentenced Wednesday to die in the gas chamber for the assasination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan was taken from the Los Angeles Hall of Justice at 3 a.m. and flown by sheriff's helicopter to Van Nuys Airport in the San Fernando Valley, placed on a seven-passenger, twin-engine state airplane, and flown to Hamilton Air Force Base.

From the base, two carloads of special agents from the state Department of Corrections and four California Highway Patrol cars convoyed Sirhan to the huge prison on San Francisco Bay, arriving there at 5:31 a.m.

Whisked through fingerprinting and processing, he was issued a standard set of prison denims and put in his tiny cell on Death Row by 5:50 a.m. And he got a number: B21014.

About two h9urs later, Sirhan and the 77 other condemned men had breakfast in their cells, including mixed fruit, rolled oats, cheese omelet, bacon, toast, jam, coffee and milk. Death row inmates e at only twice a day.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park, asked how the other condemned men reacted to Sirhan's arrival, said they regard Sirhan "as one of us — with the same fight for his life."

"Nevertheless, we will guard against any stray impulse," Park said. "We don't anticipate any great interest in harming him, but we have to protect him against the stray nut that comes along that may want to 'dust him,' as the boys say."

Park declined to detail Sirhan's reaction to his arrival at what could be his home for the rest of his life. The prison's

Air Force Sergeant Steals Giant Airplane In England

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. ground crew chief swiped a four-engine C130 Hercules troop transport after a night of drinking and flew it out of England today, the U.S. 3rd Air Force said.

About 12 hours later, the Air Force announced the turbo-prop craft is presumed down at sea, out of fuel.

The 60-ton aircraft was taken around 5 a.m. — 9 p.m. PDT — from Mildenhall Air Base by Sgt. Paul A. Meyer, 23, of Poquoson, Va.

Meyer flew through the radar tracks over the English Channel just north of the D-Day battlefields of Cherbourg, France.

Then he made radio contact with the Air Force and asked to be connected by radio telephone to his wife in Virginia. This was done about 6:40 a.m., British time.

"He refused to speak to any authorities on the ground," the Air Force said in a statement.

The Americans said further:

"In the conversation with his wife, Sgt. Meyer mentioned having trouble with the automatic pilot in the plane. At about 0700 (7 a.m.) he told his wife, "Leave me alone for about five minutes; I've got trouble.'

"This was the last transmission received from Sgt. Meyer.

"Since then no further radar contact has been made. No further radio transmissions have been heard and no reports of a ground crash have been received.

SGT. PAUL E. MEYER
Lost in the Atlantic?

The Air Force said the plane was six years old and worth $2.3 million. The C130 has a normal crusing speed of about 350 miles an hour, and could have had enough fuel aboard to reach his Virginia home base.

It belongs to the 513th Tactical Airlift Wing, whose 36th Squadron from Langley Air Force Base in Virginia is spending 90 days in Britain.

Meyer had some experience in flying light planes, an Air Force spokesman said.

Meyer had been drinking somewhere off the base last night, hours before he stole the plane, an Air Force spokesman reported.

"He came back to the base escorted by civilian police and was handed over to our police on the base," he said. "He was taken to his first sergeant and put to bed, under the influence of drink.

"The next thing we knew he

Order Prevents Repair

Vandals who wrecked two pumps on the Tamalpais Creek portion of the Corte Madera Creek project last night have already caused $50,000 worth of damage and the walls of the flooded creek were "rapidly deteriorating today."

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers said the corps can not try to repair the pumps, shore up the walls or do anything else along the creek because of the stop work order on the project.

COURT ORDER

"We would be in direct violation of the court order if we went anywhere near there," Oved Cramer, project engineer said today.

Kent Woodlands Properties Inc. Monday obtained a Marin Superior Court order stopping work along the creek until a hearing can be held next Monday on whether the project was legally set up.

Attorney Roger Kent maintains that plans for the project did not show the Tamalpais Creek portion.

Today workman for the contractor, Elmer J. Freethy Co., arrived on the site to find pumps at either end of the Tamalpais Creek project under about six feet of muddy water. The upstream pump had been disconnected, they said, and a hose on the downstream pump had been turned back so that debris caused the pump to silt up.

TREES

The banks along the north side of the creek were sliding at noon today, and workmen said that trees along the creek may become weakened and fall on the homes there.

Kent was not available today to comment on whether his group, which has opposed the project, would ask the stop work order be lifted so the damage could be repaired.

In addition to the $50,000 Freethy employees said would be the price for restoring the creek to the condition it was in yesterday, the Army Corps of Engineers said the stop work order has cost taxpayers $50,000 this week.

Reagan Keeps Guard At U.C.; Mass Arrests Jail 496 More

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan relaxed one emergency measure imposed around the University of California campus but said today the National Guard will remain "as long as may be necessary."

Reagan modified bans on off-campus loitering as officers made 496 new arrests yesterday —the largest for one day since Berkeley's 1964 Free Speech Movement turmoil. (See also story, page 23.)

The new arrests came one week after street people and others battled police in a continuing feud over a university-owned lot which area residents had converted to a "people's park." Police used shotguns and tear gas in that battle and a nonstudent, James Rector, 26, of San Jose, died of gunshot wounds last Monday.

Meanwhile, University of California students have voted 12,719 to 2,175 in favor of the "preservation" of "People's Park."

Michael Lauer, chairman of the Associated Students' election council who announced the results of a poll today, said: "This shows that some 85 per cent of those who voted want People's Park returned to the people."

It was the biggest election in the university history.

Reagan, speaking at a $100-a-plate Republican dinner in Anaheim last night, said Rector carried a rifle and electronic surveillance gear in his car. He did not elaborate.

The governor said Rector, 25, was with a group on Berkeley rooftops who threw sharpened pieces of metal pipe at police.

"The police didn't kill this young man," Reagan said. "He was killed by the first college administrator who said some time ago it was all right to break laws in the name of dissent."

Reagan reduced a citywide ban on daytime loitering to a 10-block area around the campus but kept a 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew in effect for the entire city.

The day's activities produced little violence, and Reagan said the modifications came "because the situation at Berkeley has improved. . ."

The governor was urged by several state legislators, local labor unions and students and faculty members on a dozen campuses to recall the guardsmen but said they would remain.

"This incredible and unprecedented faith in the use of armed force is Ronald Reagan's idea of solving the great social problems of our time," said state Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco. Reagan has created "his own Vietnam" in Berkeley, Burton said.

All but 14 of the 496 arrests yesterday came when demonstrators stood or sat down in an alley off busy Shattuck Avenue.

Meanwhile, today's classes at U.C. Riverside were canceled "to show concern for the disruption and violence" at Berkeley, said Chancellor Ivan Hinderaker.

At UCLA, Chancellor Charles E. Young shortened his own inauguration ceremony today mainly to his own remarks as "an act of solemn dedication to the deep issues that confront us." Students who led a two-day sit-in said they would not disrupt the ceremony.

Troops And Police Capture Bloody Greensboro Campus

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — About 600 National Guardsmen and police swept across the troubled North Carolina A&T University campus today and routed dozens of students from dormitories with gunfire and tear gas.

One Guardsman was shot and wounded as the officers were fired on. In earlier exchanges of gunfire and missile throwing between midnight and dawn, six police officers and several students were injured. Three of the policemen and one of the students suffered bullet wounds.

A little more than an hour after the sweep began, authorities said they had secured all buildings of the predominantly Negro university, except one. That one was on fire and gunshots resounded in the area.

Hundreds of students were taken into police custody, including many who voluntarily left campus buildings when police ordered the campus evacuated before the sweep.

An order had been issued yesterday to close the university this afternoon. Police said they decided to clear the campus earlier because of continued gunfire from university buildings.

Elsewhere there were these developments:

New York — A tentative agreement between black and Puerto Rican students and the City College administration was announced by a student negotiator. Details were withheld pending a meeting of the Faculty Senate today.

The dissidents sought a separate school of black and hispanic studies and enrollment

Senator Won't Accept Pentagon's Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire has returned unopened the Pentagon's classified reply to his critical questions about a proposed new manned bomber because the secret stamp meant he could not use the information publicly.

Proxmire, D-Wis., a sharp critic of Pentagon spending, posed the question April 7 to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird as part of a campaign to curb military spending.

Among them: "Is this plane really necessary?"

It took nearly five weeks for the reply to arrive, and less than an hour for Proxmire to reject it without opening it.

Howae E. Shulman, administrative assistant to Proxmire, said a military messenger delivered the reply May 12. It was in two envelopes, the inner one stamped "Secret."

When Proxmire saw that, the Pentagon was asked to send a messenger and retrieve the classified material.

Shulman then called Laird's office to say the senator wanted an unclassified version of the response, one that can be used in public.

Proxmire's questions were prompted by a Laird request for $23 million during the next year to "permit the start of a full-scale engineering development" on a new manned bomber.

The Wisconsin senator said the Air Force wants to build 240 of the planes, called the Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft, at a cost of at least $50 million apiece.

Proxmire said he views the initial outlay as a commitment to go ahead with the whole program.

In the questions he put to Laird, Proxmire asked whether that view and those figures are correct.

"If this is so the public should know it and be fully aware of the consequences," Proxmire wrote.

Heart Surgeon Barnard Divorced By His Wife

CAPE TOWN (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the surgeon who made the world's first heart transplant, was sued for divorce in Cape Town Supreme Court today.

Justice M.E. Theron ordered Barnard to restore conjugal rights to his wife, Aletta Gertruida Barnard, by July 20 or to show cause by July 30 why a divorce decree should not be granted.

Barnard was not in court. He left Wednesday for a two-month tour of Europe and North America. In Rome, he refused to comment on his wife's action, saying; "No, no, no comment, no comment," as he boarded a plane for Barcelona, Spain.

Meanwhile, Barnard's and the world's longest surviving transplant patient, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, went home from Groote Schuur Hospital today after surviving another serious setback last Friday.

He will be 60 tomorrow, and his wife said they would have a small family party.

Barnard and his wife have been married for 21 years and have two children, a daughter 19 and a son 18. The daughter, Deirde, is one of the world's top women water skiers.

Mrs. Barnard told the court her husband went abroad last March and told her that when he returned he would not come back to her.

She said they entered into consent agreement giving her support and custody of the children and her husband "reasonable access" to them.

Mrs. Barnard, formerly a nurse, did not share her husband's enthusiasm for the limelight, friends reported. And pictures published widely in South Africa showing her husband with such celebrities as Sophia Loren, Gina Lollabrigida and Princess Grace of Monaco reportedly further strained the relationship.

Foundations To Be IRS Special Targets

He said in congressional testimony released yesterday a division manned by specially trained agents will attempt to guard against abuses by foundations and other tax-exempt organizations.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Terror Claimed

MOSCOW (AP) — Some 55 Soviet citizens have signed an appeal to the U.N. Commission on Human Rights to investigate "violations of basic civil rights" in the Soviet Union.

The petition says the signers are "deeply indignant over unceasing political persecutions in the Soviet Union, perceiving in them a return to Stalin's time when all our country was in a grip of terror."

The appeal is being circulated in Moscow. Among its signers are historian Pyotr Yakir, 46, who spent years in labor camps and is the son of a famed Red Army commander shot in Stalin's purges.

Malaysia Toll Soars

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — More than 500 persons are believed to have been killed in Malaysia's week-long racial rioting, informed sources said today, and 90 per cent of them are Chinese.

The emergency government says 166 persons have been killed and it doesn't make a racial breakdown. But at a special bureau set up today, some 400 persons were reported missing since the outbreak of violence May 13. The Red Cross listed another 39 persons missing.

Other sources disclosed that property damage was in the millions of U.S. dollars, and most of it was to Chinese houses or businesses.

Professor Sees Overemphasis

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A University of California professor says schools are overemphasizing the intellect at the expense of human feelings and producing a "generation befogged in illusion and fantasy."

The education professor, George I. Brown of UC-Santa Barbara, told the San Francisco Association for Mental Health yesterday it is impossible to separate the substance of what a student learns from his feelings about it. "It is the passion of the scholar that makes for truly great scholarship," he said.

"If the contents (of an education) are not something the learner can feel about, real learning will not be sustained," he declared.

Dixie School District trustees will meet behind closed doors at 8 p.m. today to discuss the hiring of new teachers.

Athens Hotel Blast

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — An explosion in the Hilton Hotel in downtown Athens early todya sent occupants running from their rooms in alarm.

No injuries were rpeorted in the blast on the eighth floor of the 12-story hotel. Hundreds of persons were on the hotel's open air roof club dancing when the explosion occurred. It burned part of a carpet and blackened a staircase.

It was the latest in a series of blasts in the Greek capital, allegedly set off by opponents of the two-year-old army-backed regime in an effort to draw attention to their cause.

Hippo Crash Kills 2

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — An Amercian accountant, John Lynch, 30, and a Finnish hotel employee, Anne Liukkonen, 26, burned to death after their car collided with a three-ton hippopotamus and exploded, it was learned today.

The beast trotted away, apparently unhurt, as the car burst into flames from the impact, trapping the couple inside. The accident occurred at Livingstone — 300 miles south of here — within sight of Victoria Falls.

The two were returning, after dark, to the Mosi O Tunya Hotel where they both worked, when the hippopotamus lumbered across the unlit road.

Arabs Blocked

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The army has blocked 400 Syrian-backed guerrillas from infiltrating into Lebanon during the past 48 hours, the newspaper Al Jarida said today.

The guerrillas belonged to the Al Saika organization, with whom the army fought a series of bloody clashes early this month, the report said.

De Gaulle Gets Lots Of Mail

His aides say some 26,000 letters have arrived for De Gaulle since he abandoned power.

Some of the correspondents have been children:

"My general, you're good guy," wrote one.

A small African boy began his letter with the greeting, "Oh, my dear majesty."

New Red Envoy

HONG KONG (AP) — Radio Hanoi reported today that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front has appointed Mrs. Nguyen Thi Chan as a delegate to the Paris peace talks.

The broadcast identified Mrs. Chan as a member of the executive committee of the Women's Liberation association and a member of the NLF committee for Saigon-Cholon-Gia Dinh.

A listing in Hong Kong of leaders and others in the Front identifies a Nguyen Thi Chan as editor in chief of the Front's Liberation Women's Journal and deputy secretary-general of the Front's association of journalists.

Canada Alters Rule

OTTOWA (AP) — Desertion from the U.S. armed forces will not be grounds for refusing a person admission to Canada under a policy announced last night.

In the past, immigration officials at the border have had authority to refuse entry to American deserters. Some college students charged that Canadian authorities were turning back deserters and then tipping off U.S. border officials.

Immigration Minister Allan MacEachen, in announcing the new policy in the House of Commons, denied the tipoff charges. But he said the policy had been ambivalent and forced border officials to decide a "Highly controversial issue."

Investigation Set On Sub Sinking

VALLEJO (AP) — A special congressional panel has been organized to investigate the mysterious dockside sinking of the $50 million submarine Guitarro.

The panel was created yesterday by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.D., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Rep. Samuel S. Stratten, D-N.Y., will head the panel, which also includes Rep. John E. Hint, R-N.J., and John T. M. Reddan of the committee staff.

The panel is expected to begin its probe here next week.

Week's Fights Add 42 U.S. Aircraft To Vietnam Cost

SAIGON (AP) — Forty-two more American planes and helicopters were lost in Vietnam in the past week, raising the total for the war to 5,388, the U.S. Command announced today.

The weekly summary of aircraft losses said the toll for the week included 27 helicopters and 15 fixed-wing aircraft shot down, destroyed on the ground by enemy shelling or lost to other causes. The total was six less than the week before, when 40 helicopters and eight planes were destroyed.

A total of 2,713 fixed-wing planes and 2,675 American helicopters now has been lost since Jan. 1, 1961. Military sources estimate their total value at $5-6 billion.

Among the casualties in the past week were two $2 million F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and a four-engine KC130 tanker lost in a collision during refueling operations off the coast last Sunday. Eight crewmen were killed.

Two of the helicopters were shot down yesterday northeast and northwest of Saigon. Two Americans were killed and one was wounded in the crashes.

Meanwhile, scattered ground fighting was reported in the war and U.S. B52 bombers maintained their pressure on North Vietnamese buildup areas north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands near Dak To.

Seven waves of the giant Stratofortresses dropped more than 1,200 tons of bombs in the continuing campaign to harass enemy troops and prevent them from massing for a major drive.

Knox Bill To Senate Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — An Assembly-passed bill to keep strong controls on filling San Francisco Bay has been assigned to the Senate Local Government Committee by the new leader of the upper house, Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter.

The committee assignment thus bypassed the governmental efficiency committee, which has bottled up all BCDC bills. But the maneuver still leaves the bill facing the required test before the finance committee after it clears local government, and the finance committee is dominated by the same senior senators who run the governmental efficiency committee.

The bill was authored by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond.

It is expected to collide in finance with a rival measure by the chairman of the governmental efficiency committee, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo.

The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission will expire this year unless the Knox bill, or a similar one, passes and is signed into law.

BUDGET

June 30 with a $145 million surplus.

Reagan wants to give $100 million of that surplus back to the taxpayers during the 1970 election year by allowing them to take a 10 per cent credit on their state income taxes.

Democrats want to see the money returned now. Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, has a bill to do this before the Senate Finance Committee.

For weeks, Democrats have been hinting that they plan to use their leverage on the budget to force tax reform now. The House is split 39-39 although Assemblyman-elect Clare Berryhill, R-Ceres, is expected to take his seat soon.

The budget needs 54 votes, two thirds of the total assembly membership, to clear the lower house. With Berryhill's vote, that still would mean at least 14 Democrats and all 40 Republicans must favor the spending program.

In past sessions, Republicans often used their power to stall the budget and force concessions from Democrats.

mayor said the guard would be withdrawn "as soon as there is any hope of the situation having become what our forefathers called domestic tranquility."

The governor's ban on assemblies had included the 27,000-student U.C. campus, but now, he said, Chancellor Roger Heyns can decide for himself whether to permit mass gatherings there.

About 60 Berkeley public school teachers met last night and said they and parents would go to the Capitol today to ask the governor "to remove the siege."

At U.C. Santa Cruz, the faculty's Academic Senate rejected a student demand that it call for police removal at Berkeley but voted to condemn Reagan for his "permissive attitude with respect to police violence."

At Santa Barbara, a majority of 1,500 UC students attending a rally voted to join Santa Cruz campus students in a strike Monday and Tuesday to protest use of guardsmen at Berkeley.

At the Davis campus, Chancellor-elect James Meyer drew loud cheers when he promised about 3,000 students at a rally that he would send Reagan a telegram asking for the removal of guardsmen.

At San Jose State College, 500 students at a rally heard plans for a silent vigil Monday on the steps of the Capitol if the guard is not removed by then.

Ballot Mixup Forces Delay

Balloting for student offices at San Rafael High School, due to have been completed yesterday, will continue today because of a mixup on ballots on Wednesday.

All ballots cast Wednesday, the first day of voting, were invalidated because sophomore ballots failed to list candidates for yell leaders, school officials reported.

Runotts, previously scheduled today, will be held next week.

APOLLO

come down in the wrong area and you don't have hover time, you're gonna have to shove off."

The LEM can hover like a helicopter for several seconds to select a smooth touchdown area. Stafford reported several boulders and craters on the fringes of the site.

Stafford and Cernan obviously were relieved when they successfully caught and redocked with Young in the command ship after their pathfinder descent, which had a brush with danger.

"Man, we is back home," Stafford exclaimed as the two craft linked up nose to nose.

They had been apart as much as 350 miles as Young kept the command ship circling at a constant altitude of 69 miles.

"Snoopy and Charlie Brown are hugging each other," was the exulted cry of Young. These are the radio code names used by the two vehicles.

A series of engine burns started the LEM on its solo yesterday, dipping toward the Sea of Tranquility. At it approached the Apollo 11 site at 3,700 miles per hour, Stafford excitedly described one area: "There's enough boulders here to fill Galveston Bay."

Over the site, Cernan called out: "We're right there. We're right over it! I'm telling you, we are low, we're close, babe! This is it!"

"There's plenty of holes there," Stafford said, "but the surface is actually very smooth, like very wet clay ... with the exception of the bigger craters."

Two hours later, on a second approach to the site, Stafford and Cernan jettisoned the lower half of their craft, the descent stage. The purpose was to practice for a moon-landing mission when the astronauts will shed the stage on blastoff from the lunar surface.

At the moment of separation, the cabin section began to vibrate wildly. The first word of trouble was Cernan's excited cussing.

"Hit the AGS, hit the AGS," he called to Stafford, referring to the abort guidance system. Stafford did and was able to control the LEM after several harrowing seconds.

"I don't know what the hell that was, baby," Cernan said later, "but that was something. I thought we were wobbling all over the sky."

Mission control said the vibrations occurred because a guidance system switch was out of place. Controllers took the blame for failing to call up a repositioning of the switch to the astronauts.

If the astronauts had not solved the problem, the shaking could have damaged vital components and perhaps prevented a successful rendezvous.

After transferring back to the command ship early today and kicking the LEM free in space, Stafford and Cernan reported they were tired and asked permission to cancel an early morning telecast.

The TV program was to have shown the LEM engine being fired by remote control from mission control.

Agents Uproot Pot Gardens

The agents were unable to find out the owners of a plot on a hillside above Sleepy Hollow, where about 250 plants were confiscated.

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of cultivating and possessing marijuana was Michael Garrett Gray, 20, of 816 Hacienda Drive, Santa Venetia.

Lt. James C. Schwedhelm of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau said that Gray had about 15 plants in his backyard and that three marijuana cigarettes were found in his home. He posted $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Woman Arrested In Forgery Case

A 32-year-old woman was arrested yesterday by San Rfael police on suspicion of trying to obtain amphetamine at Thrifty Drugs at 471 Third Street with a forged prescription.

Inspector Gilbert Freitas said the woman, Julia Mae McCue, of no fixed address, had forged the prescription after a man phoned the pharmacy and identified himself as Dr. William L. Clark of 712 D Street, San Rafael.

Telephoned, Dr. Clark said he had written no such prescription, allegedly for a "Joan Sanders."

The woman was booked into Marin County Jail under bail of $1,250 to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Shoreline Board Impressed By Modesto System

The Shoreline Unified School District board was very impressed with the instructional program of Hughson High School near Modesto as explained to them yesterday by Robert Reeder, superintendent of the Hughson district.

Supt. Charles E. McCully said the Shoreline board will probably visit Hughson High School to observe what portions of the program could be adopted for Tomales High School. No date set for the visit.

Superintendent Reeder said Hughson High School offers individualized instruction through the use of learning packages. Under the system, the student progresses at his own level and speed.

The program offers students courses outside the regular curriculum, McCully said.

MARIN CITY

been the object of the assaults because she refused to attend Chaka's class after three days and has not returned.

The black students, she said, told Diana, they were hitting her because she had spoken out against Chaka at the May 12 Sausalito School District board meeting which more than 100 persons attended, most to protest the rumored firing of the controversial teacher. But neither Diana nor her mother were at the meeting.

Chaka, who does not have a teaching credential, took over the class about a month ago under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Moore. He is classified as a consultant to the district. The eighth grade class's regular teacher resigned earlier in the year.

The class which had eight white students when Chaka arrived, now has only one, Mrs. Fudge said. The others, like Diana, were driven away by "anti-honkey racism" she claims.

Mrs. Fudge also believes that her daughter was chosen as the object of the black students' hatred because Mrs. Fudge has been working in Marin City for the past year two or three times a week advising a Marin City business.

"The feeling I and my daughter get is sort of an anti-white capitalism, too," she said.

She said her home has been burglarized by Marin City youths recently and friends in Marin City told her she had been selected because of her frequent appearances in Marin City.

Mrs. Fudge said she has asked for police protection for herself, her daughter, her home and place of business in Sausalito. In addition, Diana will not return to Martin Luther King School and will leave soon to attend school in Europe, she said.

"I feel I can speak out because Diana will be leaving," Mrs. Fudge said. "These are things which should be aired for the benefit of everyone."

Mrs. Fudge has one other child, a 12-year-old son, who attends private school outside of Marin County.

Sausalito police said the incident, which was reported to them by Mrs. Fudge, is still under investigation.

Kidnap Suspect Expects To Die

DECATUR, Ga. (UPI)—Gary Steven Krist said today he expects to die for the kidnaping of Miami heiress Barbara Jane Mackle.

The black-bearded defendant, who earlier said he expected to be convicted, was asked by newsmen during a recess in his trial whether he thought he would get Georgia's electric chair.

Krist arched his eyebrows and replied: "That or whatever means these barbarous humans use these days. Yes, I suppose so."

SIRHAN

policy is not to discuss individual condemned men, said Park, adding "our job is to be neutral."

But Park noted that Capt. Donald Weber of the prison guards reported Sirhan was "quite alert, interested in his surroundings, and asked a great number of questions."

The 25-year-old assasin was locked into Cell 33 on Death Row. As a special security measure, on each side of his cell there are locked, empty cells. An exercise area directly outside measures 10 by 15 feet.

Thus, no other prisoner can get closer than to Sarhan than 15 feet.

His cell is two floors above the green gas chamber where 194 persons have been executed since 1938, when hanging was halted.

But in the past six years, 93 death sentences have come up for review in California courts, and only two have been carried out. The last was in April 1967.

Since Sirhan gunned down Senator Kennedy in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles last June 5, he has been one of the most heavily guarded prisoners in California history. The cost of his trial and confinement so far has been estimated at up to $1 million.

Sirhan's execution, if ever carried out, is at least 14 to 15 months away because of the automatic appeal process that will carry his case to the California Supreme Court. From there, of course, Sirhan's attorneys could appeal up to the U.S. Supreme Court.

More than half of the men on Death Row have been there for more than two years, Park noted.

was inside the aircraft taxiing down the field."

Another spokesman said: "It would be practically impossible for him to land on the ground.

"We think it is likely he is probably over water or down in water. If he crashed in the sea he would have a few minutes to get out of the plane. There is normal rescue gear aboard."

U.S. and British jets, scrambled when the plane was reported "missing" searched the skies without luck.

Granted he could manage the huge plane alone with the multiple jobs — usually needing a five-man crew—that crop up in the cockpit, Meyer's eventual problem would be to land — a good deal more difficult than takeoff.

Meyer had a record of being a "sound" crew chief.

The six-year-old C130 he stole was his own pet territory for which he was mechanically responsible. When he taxied it around, revved up the engines and made a general clatter this morning, none of the personnel on the field thought it unusual — untill he took off.

policies keyed to the ethnic makeup of the city's high schools. City College had 20,000 students, 4,500 of them black and Puerto Rican.

Chicago — A sit-in at the University of Illinois' Chicago campus ended when Chancellor Norman Parker warned protesters to leave or face possible penalties for criminal trespass.

The 40-minute sit-in by 200 persons was to protest a scheduled conference of police officials from 31 cities on the campus.

Seattle — Three youths were arrested in a three-hour demonstration at Seattle Community College that was broken up by riot-equipped police.

The demonstration, led by the school's Black Student Union, was to protest rejection of the group's demand that a black person be named to the board of trustees.

OBITUARIES

Thomas R. Bishop Dies At 60

Maj. (Ret.) Thomas Robert Bishop, 60, of 215 Bay View Street, Apt. 16, San Rafael, a letter carrier at the Civic Center branch of the U.S. Post Office, collapsed, and died yesterday at a service station in San Rafael.

Death appeared due to natural causes, according to the Marin County coroner.

Prior to moving to San Rafael a year and a half ago he had lived at 31 Sunnyhill Road, Novato, for six years. He had been a real estate salesman before going to work for the post office more than a year ago.

A native of Elkhart, Ind., he entered the service in 1940. He retired from Hamilton Air Force Base in 1961.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn, from whom he was separated.

He was a member of the National Association of Letter Carriers; Hamilton Lodge 751 Free and Accepted Masons, of which he was the treasurer, and Toparch of Marin Pyramid 31 Sciots.

Masonic service will be held at 2 p.m., Monday at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Interment is pending.

Melting Snow Filling River

FRESNO (UPI)—The vast Sierra Nevada snowpack appears to be melting slightly faster than expected and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is watching the ever-swelling Kings River with growing concern.

The river is pouring into the San Joaquin Valley at a rate of nearly 20,000 cubic feet per second. If that rate continues, the river's controlling reservoir, Pine Flat Dam, could be full within two weeks.

Fines, Probation For Three Men

Three men have been placed on one year probation and fined $200 each by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Garnet Ivan Featherstone, 53, of 2082 Huckleberry Drive, San Rafael, was stopped April 4 on Highway 101.

Row Prisoner Petitions Court

A Black Muslim prisoner on San Quentin's Death Row has asked Marin Superior Court to overturn the state's denial of his request for copies of the militant sect's periodical, "Muhammed Speaks."

Johnnie X. Milton, 23, argued yesterday in his petition that the paper was necessary for his worship, just as a bible is for Christians.

Milton, who was convicted in Los Angeles for the murder of a Los Angeles bus driver, said the denial violated his constitutional right of worship.

HELEN DANIEL

Helen A. Daniel, 68, a retired deputy county clerk of Placer County who lived at 1104 Elm Street, Apt. 17, Novato, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Michigan, she moved to California 47 years ago. She taught at Pasadena City College for two years after moving to California. Later she worked as a bookkeeper in Fresno. She also worked in the Municipal Court at Santa Cruz and then moved to Auburn where she was deputy county clerk until a year and a half ago when she moved to Novato.

She is survivied by a son, Lloyd K. Daniel of Novato and four grandchildren, all of Novato.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Chapel of Marin in Novato. Interment will be in Marin Memorial Gardens in Novato.

RACHEL DAVIS

Funeral for Rachel Johnson Davis, 66, a former Marin resident, will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Good Samartian Church of God in Christ, Eighth and Grove streets, Oakland.

Mrs. Davis, who lived in Marin for 15 years until moving to the East Bay in 1958, died Sunday in an Oakland hospital after a short illness.

She was the wife of Somner Davis, a retired railroad worker. She was a native of Texas.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Frank Phillips Sr. of Marin City; Ruby Howard of San Francisco; four sons, Dovie and Ralph Johnson of Oakland and Ulysses and Don Johnson of San Francisco; three sisters and two brothers, all in Texas; 31 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Bayview Mortuary, San Francisco, until 9 p.m. today and at Baker's Funeral Home, Eighth and Filbert streets, Oakland, Saturday and Sunday.

MARGARET FARNUM

Margaret E. Farnun of Tamalpais Valley, co-owner of the Shoreline Nursery, died yesterday at a local hospital following a short illness. She was 57.

Reared in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Farnun had lived at 338 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley, for the past 19 years.

She was a member of Peace Lutheran Church.

She is survived by her husband; and a sister, Mrs. Mae Sorrels of San Francisco.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapels, Mill Valley. Burial will be private.

Contributions to the Marin County Heart Association are preferred.

MARJORIE SHAW

Funeral services for Marjorie Ann Shaw, 45, a Rohnert Park resident for the last two years, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Eggen and Lance mortuary in Santa Rosa. Burial will be in Valentine, Neb.

Mrs. Shaw, who was a telephone operator, died in a Santa Rosa hospital yesterday after a long illness. She lived with her husband, Ralph L. Shaw, and family at 344 Burton Avenue.

A native of Nebraska, Mrs. Shaw had lived in California for three years. She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Bete Lippincott of Lyman, Neb., and Kathryn Shaw of Rohnert Park; three sons, Gary, serving in the Navy at Memphis, Tenn., and Larry and Richard of Rohnert Park; two brothers, Russell Graeff of Oroville and Thomas Graeff of Valentine, Neb., and two sisters, Luella Palmer of Oroville and LaVonne of Washington.

Relationship Of Brother Corrected

Pietro Perrari of Kentfield is a brother — not a sister, as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal — of Rose Salmoria of San Rafael, who died yesterday.

Requiem Mass will be offered for Mrs. Salmoria, who was 81, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church.

JIMMY McHUGH

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jimmy McHugh, composer of "The Sunny Side of the Street" and scores of other popular songs, died today in his Beverly Hills home. He was 74.

McHugh first made his mark as song writer in the heyday of Tin Pan Alley.

In all, he published 500 songs, most of them romantic ballads.

McHugh made the bigtime in 1928 with Lew Leslie's "Blackbirds" show on Broadway. Shortly thereafter he broke in Duke Ellington at the famed Cotton Club.

He moved to Hollywood in 1930 to begin writing songs for films, many in partnership with lyricist Dorothy Fiends.

Budget Drop Forecast At College

Marin Junior College District trustees got an estimate last night that income will dip to $4,156,737 for the 1969-70 college year.

Business Mgr. Norman Bird estimated that next year's budget would be $108,658 lower than last year's estimated expenditures of $4,265,395.

Trustees were faced with the expected drop in income and a faculty demand for a 10 per cent salary schedule increase at a workshop session.

Another workshop on capital outlay projects was scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Personnel Center.

PAY HIKES

Bird presented a budget estimate based on $4,156,737 in income, which included $284,192 representing pay hikes requested by faculty, administrators and non-teaching employees.

He emphasized that it wasn't a tentative or preliminary budget, but an estimate based on plans to limit enrollment, hire no new faculty and set student priorities.

Expenditures in the budget estimate totaled $9,384 more than expected income, and would deplete the reserve.

Bird noted that federal funds for the work-study program at the college will be reduced to $63,621, representing 49 per cent of this year's allocation.

The faculty has requested a 10 per cent hike in the salary schedule, less stringent requirements for moving up in the salary categories, and granting part-time and evening instructors 65 per cent of full-time pay instead of 60 per cent.

Instructor James Raynes, representing the faculty salary committee, said the intent is to bring salaries in line with comparable community colleges.

He said the district's teaching costs per average daily attendance were below state average, "and we're getting less pay than other schools in the area."

Faculty members don't want to continue "to subsidize education," and low pay isn't any inducement to bring competent instructors to the college, he said. "The solution is to raise more funds to run the college."

SALARIES

Bird estimated teacher salary costs next year, not including the requests but including the annual step increases, would be $2,115,901, up $162,582 from this year.

If the requests were granted, there would be an additional $222,336, he estimated.

Nonteaching employees requested a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay hike, and longevity increases, which Bird estimated would cost $42,664.

Administrators requested to have their salaries related to the faculty salary schedule on a ratio basis, and this would cost $19,192, Bird estimated.

Trustees Donald K. Felt and Charles W. Gray were absent.

San Francisco Youth Enters Guilty Plea

Thomas Duane Smith, 20, of San Francisco yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a felony charge of possessing marijuana in a car on Shoreline Highway Feb. 27.

He was ordered to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date.

Trustees Hear Pleas On College Priorities

There has been some controversy over placing foreign students second on the list and part-time students fifth.

Valmar A. Schaaf of 32 Crest Road, San Anselmo, argued for the part-time students who have to work.

"This is the only place the poor have an opportunity to go," Schaaf said. "Priorities should be placed on where the need is the greatest."

Student Michael McGinn said if a part-time student can demonstrate financial need, he should be given a higher priority.

Administrators have felt that those in the first four priorities can be accommodated this fall, but there is doubt that all part-time students will be admitted.

McGinn observed if the "people who need it the most, get it in the neck," there could be disorder on campuses.

Acting President Louis H. Herkenhoff noted that by not increasing the faculty for the coming year, the district was in effect limiting the number of students it could accommodate.

Martin said the proposed priorities didn't "make sense educationally," but since the district is short of money the list was set with the idea that some students bring in more state money than others.

Herkenhoff said that needy part-time students could be granted higher priority by applying to the scholastic standards committee.

"I think we can take care of needy students by application," reported Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested that administrators study the possibility of having an expanded summer session, "perhaps a quarter session."

On the proposal to have foreign students enrolled up to 2 per cent of the full-time enrollment, Oliver suggested this might be reduced to 1 per cent.

Herkenhoff recommended that starting next spring foreign students be required to pay tuition.

Instructor George B. Duncan, foreign student adviser, said the $390 tuition would be a barrier. "The student who comes here isn't the rich boy or the government scholar. I think it would break him."

Duncan estimated that 70 foreign students are expected to attend this fall, 10 of them new students who applied months ago, and the remainder continuing students.

Duncan said 53 per cent of the foreign students made the dean's honor list during the past year, that having foreign students here is ultimately in the self-interest of the U.S.

U.S. students are studying "all over the world and in many cases paying no tuition," he commented.

Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wasn't against foreign students, but he opposed having "a foreign student come before a boy who lives three or four blocks from this college."

Herkenhoff asked for an information response from the board on the proposed priorities, but trustee Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy suggested they be refined before they were presented to the board for action.

The proposed priorities are: first, continuing students; second, current Marin high school students; new foreign students up to 2 per cent and high school students enrolled in selected college classes; third, Marin students returning to college full-time after an absence; fourth, other new Marin full-time students; fifth, part-time students; sixth, students from areas in the state without a community college; seventh, students from other community college districts, and eighth, out-of-state students.

Youths' Cases To Probation Office

The cases of Philip David Harrison, 18, of Sleepy Hollow and Duncan Peter Dunn, 18, of Santa Venetia have been referred by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court.

The youths are charged with possessing marijuana for sale and encouraging a 14-year-old girl runaway to lead a dissolute and immoral life as well as encouraging her to violate curfew regulations.

They were arrested in a panel truck near the Civic Center early Wednesday morning.

Judge Smith continued their cases until June 6.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Demos Voice Doubts On Special Valley Election

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Democratic party leader has charged there were irregularities in the counting of ballots in the slim 47-vote victory by Republican Clare L. Berryhill in Tuesday's special Assembly election.

Leon Cooper, Democratic state central committee southern chairman, said yesterday a "very serious investigation" will be conducted into alleged "misconduct" in tallying the votes.

Berryhill defeated Democrat Ernest Lacoste in one of the closest elections in California history to break a 39-39 party deadlock in the Assembly. Official returns issued yesterday showed Berryhill with 30,062 votes to 30,015 for Lacoste.

Cooper told newsmen an "abnormally high" number of absentee ballots had been cast in Stanislaus Cunty but the percentage was normal in the portion of San Joaquin County included in the Assembly district.

He said 1,100 absentee ballots had been cast in the 50,000 votes in Stanislaus County. He said the 10,000 votes in San Joaquin County only included 87 absentee ballots.

In some cases, Cooper said, the envelope for the absentee ballots was addressed to Republican headquarters and some Democrats who applied for the absentee ballots did not receive them.

Lacoste has said he would request a recount but held out little hope that it would change the election's outcome.

DRUG CLINIC PLEA

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "A drug abuser," says Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, particularly the novice and experimenter, needs medical and psychiatric attention at the moment of his crisis, not days later at the conclusion of hearings and petitions."

That, Lynch says, is why he strongly supports the bill by Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, which could pave the way toward creating walk-in community "crisis centers" for drug users.

The measure would provide legal procedures for the custody, evaluation and treatment of narcotic and restricted dangerous drug users.

But the Health and Welfare Subcommittee on Drugs and Alcoholism, which received Lynch's testimony yesterday from Deputy Atty. Gen. Lawrence Mansir, didn't share Lynch's fervor. It took the measure under submission.

ROAD REPAIRS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The California Highway Commission yesterday allocated $30.6 million to finance repair of state highways damaged by last winter's floods.

Vernon J. Cristina, commission chairman, estimated $25.4 million of the total would be federal funds and the remaining $5.2 million would come from the state's highway disaster fund.

He said state revenues would be provided by the temporary 1-cent-a-gallon fuel tax increase recently enacted by the Legislature.

The commission also approved $350,000 in general highway funds to pay for construction of the six-lane detour around the Interstate 80 cave-in near Pinole.

BRIDGEWAY WIDENING TAKING FINAL SHAPE

Sausalito's emergency vehicle lane on Bridgeway begins to take shape as workmen for contractors Maggiora and Ghilotti pour cement for the raised lane. When the lane, which reached this stage yesterday, is done, there will remain more than 2,000 feet of sidewalk to pour, to complete the $144,804 street widening project. The contractors said they expect to finish the project in a week's working time. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

BART Approves Approach Funds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District have approved paying an extra $528,500 for the San Francisco approach to the transbay tube and a change in a highway underpass in Richmond.

But the extra costs, BART's engineers said yesterday, would not exhaust the district's funds before the 75-mile system is finished. They said there was still $37 million in the contingency fund.

The directors approved paying an extra $220,500 for the San Francisco approach to Perini Corp. and Brown & Root, Inc., in addition to the $14.6 million contract awarded for the approach.

The students ranked at the top of their graduating classes scholastically.

From St. Vincent de Paul High School, the winners were Kathryn Sack, Lucy Dechene and Duane Sartori.

The awards program, supported by Petaluma businessmen and others interested in the quality of the city's educational program, has awarded $10,000 to 100 students over the last 10 years, said Herold Mahoney, program chairman.

One Brother Pleads Innocent

One of two Novato brothers charged with selling drugs at their father's service station yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to the sale of marijuana to a narcotics agent. The case of George T. Bonomolo was continued until next Thursday for setting of a preliminary hearing.

His brother Frank Joseph Bonomolo, 22, is charged with selling LSD, but has not been brought from Sonoma County Jail for arraignment. He also faces charges there of possessing LSD and marijuana for sale.

The brothers were arrested Tuesday.

Innocent Plea In Oakland Murder

OAKLAND (UPI) An ex-convict from Michigan has pleaded innocent to kidnap and murder charges in the death of a dentist whose body was found in the Oakland hills riddled with bullets.

Chester A. Johnson, 22, Jackson, Mich., entered the plea yesterday before Superior Court Judge Leonard Dieden who said he would set a trial date on June 5.

The body of the dentist, Dr. Glenn I. Olsen of Oakland, was found in the Oakland hills Feb. 19. He had been shot three times.

Burger Undecided On Cutting Mayo Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Warren E. Burger, chosen to become chief justice, says he is undecided whether to continue as a trustee of a foundation which pays him $2,000 annually for attending four days of meetings.

Burger confirmed today he had received payments from the foundation which owns the famed Mayo Clinic in Minnesota.

Justice Abe Fortas resigned from the Supreme Court a week ago in the controversy over a $20,000 check from the family foundation of a jailed financier. Justice William O. Douglas is under fire for payments from a foundation which has had ownership links with Las Vegas casinos.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said there did not appear to be any impropriety in Burger's role in the Mayo Foundation. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he saw no conflict with his court duties. But both said they would not make any final judgment until they had more facts.

The two are senior members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will hold hearings on Burger's nomination by President Richard M. Nixon to become the nation's highest-ranking jurist.

Mark G. Brataas, a clinic administrator, said Burger received a $2,000 honorarium in 1966, 1967 and 1968. In addition to this $6,000, Burger received $1,500 in 1963 for his work on a long range planning group before the regular annual payments began.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson is also a member of the foundation board at the same $2,000 annual salary, Brataas said.

Mobile Home Permits Win Board Nod

The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday unanimously approved use permits for two mobile homes just outside Petaluma on which the Petaluma Planning Commission had split earlier this week.

The board approved the applications of Willi Kamm for a mobile home at 91 Aloha Court and Vincent R. Marsicano for a mobile home at 893 Fair Avenue.

Tuesday, the Petaluma Planning Commission divided 2-2 on the two applications, while the city's planning department recommended they be rejected.

The county zoning board yesterday also approved use permits for James W. Sutherland for a second hand furniture store at 2013 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, and for Mrs. Joe Pine for a commercial dog kennel for breeding and training only at 204 Denman Road, Penngrove.

Mrs. Pine cannot board dogs and will be limited to 10 animals, the board ruled.

The Petaluma planners had recommended approval of Sutherland's application

Warren Calls Gathering On Judiciary Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren, moving in the still heavy wake of the Abe Fortas affair, has called a special meeting of federal judges to consider proposed rules to govern the financial dealings of the U.S. judiciary.

Warren has summoned the 11-member Court Administration Committee for a meeting tomorrow, three months before its next scheduled session.

It was obvious that Warren, who steps down as chief justice next month, proposed the early meeting to overcome any public doubt about the nation's court system following the resignation under fire of Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas.

No agenda is set for the meeting, but the judges from U.S. circuit and district courts are expected to discuss bills pending in Congress that would require judges to disclose their income and investments.

Warren heads the conference, a network of leading federal judges, which over the past 27 years has laid down a series of rules for judges—but no total code as such. Currently there is nothing requiring a judge to reveal his income sources or investments.

Presiding at this Saturday's committee meeting at the Supreme Court will be Judge Robert Ainsworth of the U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans. Ainsworth, an appeals court judge since 1966, was chosen last January by Warren as chairman of the administration committee which has one representative from each of the 11 federal circuits.

The meeting is expected to last only one day.

DeMartini Elected To ITU Position

We don't have to start from scratch each year.

We've been making the same basic VW for so long now, you'd think we'd be bored with the whole thing.

But the fact is, we're still learning.

You see, at the VW factory we spend 100% of our time making our car work better and 0% making it look better.

Any change is an improvement.

And when we do make new parts we try to make them fit older models. So there's nothing to stop a Volkswagen from running forever.

(Which may explain why Volkswagens are worth so much at trade-in time.)

Starting from scratch each year can get in the way of all that.

Just when they've ironed out the kinks in the current model, they have to face the kinks in the next.

We'll never understand all the hoopla over the "big changes" for next year's models.

Weren't they proud of this year's?

CAPTAIN TO SPEAK — Army Capt. Richard C. Attanasio will tell the Sausalito Lions Club his experiences and observations in Vietnam at the club's meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Ata Mira Hotel. Attanasio was a brigade chemical officer in Vietnam and is now assigned to the Presidio of San Francisco.

San Quentin Inmates Testify For Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three San Quentin inmates were the first defense witnesses in the murder trial of two other convicts charged with killing a deputy sheriff in the Lake County courthouse in 1967.

The trio took the stand yesterday after Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh turned down defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal of John Lynn, 24, Ventura, and Larry Taylor, 23, Santa Rosa in the Oct. 11, 1967 shooting of Deputy Dave Hoyt, 52.

The trial was in weekend recess today.

The testimony yesterday concerned Raymond Pettis, who was involved in the officer's death and hanged himself with an electric cord in his San Quentin cell 10 days later.

Daniel Smith, serving time for robbery and assault, testified that Pettis contacted him through the prisoners' code system using the plumbing system and told him he was going to try to escape the next time he, Lynn and Taylor were taken to Lakeport for arraignment on charges of escaping from a prison camp.

After the abortive escape attempt in which Hoyt was killed, Smith said Pettis again talked with him.

Pettis was quoted as saying he had been acting strictly on his own when he tried to seize a gun from Deputy Sheriff Glen Isham. Pettis said that Hoyt was killed accidentally by a shot from Isham's gun as Lynn and Pettis struggled for it.

Smith testified Pettis told him Taylor had nothing to do with the struggle for the gun or the shooting.

Wayne Rowden, serving time for armed robbery, and Ronald Kane, imprisoned for auto theft, escape and possession of a weapon, both said they were in the same cell block and corroborated Smith's testimony.

Mother Says Army Out To Get Her Son

FORT ORD (UPI) — The mother of one of 14 soldiers on trial for mutiny has charged that the Army is being "vindicated" in charging her son with two counts of desertion as well as mutiny.

"It looks like the Army wants to get Lee one way or another," Mrs. Natalie Gentile of Hampton, Va., said yesterday. "Why do they want to do that?"

Her son, Pvt. Richard Lee Gentile, 22, was placed in the San Francisco Presidio stockade "for punishment" after he was AWOL for 13 hours to take part in a peace march.

The desertion charges stem from Gentile's alleged escape from the stockade from Nov. 2 to Nov. 5 and again from Dec. 10 to Dec. 30 last year.

The mutiny charges arise from a sitdown demonstration by 27 inmates of the stockade Oct. 14 to protest what they said were unsanitary and inhumane conditions and the fatal shooting of a prisoner by a guard.

A San Francisco psychiatrist, Dr. Earl Cohen, testified yesterday that one of the defendants, Pvt. Danny Seals, 22, Orangevale, Calif., was unable to tell right from wrong.

The psychiatrist said Seals was mentally retarded, had an IQ of about 80 and probably suffered from organic brain damage.

Burglars took a handmade necklace from the home of Virginia Armstrong, 93 Woodbine Avenue, Mill Valley, between 10 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Tuesday, police have reported.

Two Accused In Major Burglaries

The arrest of two San Francisco men yesterday has cleared up several recent burglaries including one in which $15,000 worth of silver was taken, according to Inspector Bowen Bridges Jr. of the Marin Sheriff's Department.

John Peter Kearney, 23, who is on probation in San Francisco for burglary, has been linked to the May 2 burglary of the residence of Dr. Robert Todd Cary in Greenbare, Bridges said.

Among the articles taken from the home was an antique silver coffee and tea set valued at $15,000, which has not been recovered. Bridges said that Kearney attempted to pawn the set, and a San Francisco merchant became suspicious and called police.

Kearney was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of stolen property found at his home as well as burglary. Bail was set at $12,500. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Also arrested yesterday was John Andrew Collins, 18, who is accused by sheriff's officers of committing two burglaries in China Camp, one near Fairfax and another in Sausalito.

Collins was arrested May 13 in Sausalito in connection with a Sausalito burglary but was out on bail awaiting a prelimianry hearing in municipal court. He was re-booked with bail set at $12,500 and was to appear in court today on the new charge.

Cotati Budget May Increase $53,316

Cotati City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe last night presented the city council a preliminary budget for fiscal 1969-70 totaling $282,075, up $53,316 from the current budget of $228,759.

Howe said the increase would not require any hike in the city's tax rate, currently $1 per $100 assessed valuation for property owners within the city limits but outside the old utility district and $1.25 for those within the old utility district boundaries.

The bulk of the increase, he said, is in capital outlays for a new booster pump and for hooking Cotati's disposal plant into the Rohnert Park sewage disposal system.

Other increases, Howe said today, were routine, one-step salary increases for city employees.

The council last night authorized Mayor Frank P. Dolinsek to sign a contract with the state employees' retirement system to make a study on how much it would cost Cotati city employees to participate in the program.

In other action, Deputy City Clerk Eloise Smiley reported, the council unanimously passed a resolution ordering the city manager to abate weeds within the city limits.

Doctors Advise On Heart Care

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The best way to avoid heart attacks is to keep thin, says the cardiology chief at the University of Southern California.

Dr. David Blankenhorn told a seminar yesterday there are two major causes of premature coronaries: diabetes and an excess of fats and proteins in the blood.

There's no single diet that can free young males of large heart attacks, he said.

Vandals Strike At Construction Site

Vandals did $340 in damage at the construction site at the end of Marin Valley Road south of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101, Larry W. Oskland, general contractor, reported yesterday to Novato police.

The vandals, thought to be teen-agers, dumped 150 gallons of oil, valued at $150, on the ground; broke a truck windshield valued at $125; broke a tachometer valued at $50 and a tractor headlight valued at $15. The vandalism happened sometime Wednesday night or yesterday morning, police said.

Stanford Faculty Sets Review On Secrecy

STANFORD (UPI) — The full Stanford faculty plan to review new guidelines on secret campus research adopted by the Academic Senate during anti-war demonstrations last month.

The 1,000 member Academic Council will review the decision at its next regular meeting in September. A petition signed by 50 faculty members requested the discussion and a secret ballot on the change.

The council's 53-member Senate adopted the new guidelines April 24.

"The principle of openness in research—the principle of freedom of access by all interested persons to the underlying data, to the processes, and to the final results of research—is of overriding importance," the new rules said. However, one or more researchers could have access to classified information when it would "significantly advance" their work.

Judge Drops Contempt Counts

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The judge who will hear James Earl Ray's bid for a new trial in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., dismissed contempt of court charges against seven persons today in connection with the Ray case.

Ray entered a guilty plea March 10 in the murder of King and was sentenced to 99 years in prison by Judge W. Preston Battle, who died later that month.

Judge Arthur Faquin, who took over after Battle's death, acted at the recommendation of a special bar association committee on publicity.

Vietnamese Need Care, Soldier Says

A Novato soldier, in a letter describing agony in a Montagnard village in Vietnam, says the Vietnamese need the Americans to care for them.

In a letter home, Sp/5 David E. Holmes of 1107 East Court Road told of the death of a Montagnard man and his 6-year-old son of disease and starvation after prolonged suffering.

"What really gripes me the most is people back home there who think they know everything and want us to pull out," Holmes said in a letter to his mother, Evelyn. "They say these people don't need us.

"Ma, if you could only see. If everybody could only see. These people are dying of diseases like smallpox plague, malaria and other disease we cured long ago.

"Then to top it off, the VC and NVA come in and terrorize these people at night . . . steal all the rice and pigs and everything else they can get their hands on — until the Americans can get there to stop them."

Lecture, Slides On English Life

Joseph Ryan, a resident of England for eight years, will lecture and show slides of English homes and gardens at 7:30 p.m. today at the barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Proceeds of the show will go to the fire protection fund at the center.

The program by Ryan, now with the Defense Language Institute at the Presido of Monterey, will include humorous anecdotes, deal with the life of 18th century British aristocracy and feature the birthplace cf Winston Churchill.

Boy, 8, Hurt In Bike-Auto Collision

Mark Frederick Ashdown, 8, of 200 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a broken leg he received when he rode his bicycle in front of a car on Ricardo Road at Timoteo Way in Strawberry.

California Highway Patrol officers said the boy at 9 a.m. rode his bicycle directly in front of a car driven by Robert R. Judson of 228 East Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley.

Larkspur Trustees Delay Salary Action

Larkspur School District trustees last night postponed action on a proposed teacher's salary schedule for 1969-70, trustee Curtis P. Kamai saying he is concerned about the money being demanded by the teachers.

Sizes of classes would have to be increased and personnel cut back if the teachers' demands are to be met, Kamai told the board.

The board set a meet-and-confer session with the teachers' negotiating committee at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the district office to be followed at 8 p.m. by a special board meeting at which action is expected to be taken on all district salaries, Supt. Milton S. Cohen said.

The teachers have proposed salary increases of 18.6 and 15 per cent both of which the board has rejected. The board countered with a proposed 7.6 per cent salary increase but the teachers have turned this down, Cohen said.

The Larkspur School District board also:

PAINT BIDS — Called for bids to paint the exterior of San Clemente School.

SUMMER SCHEDULE — Adopted a one-meeting-a-month summer board schedule, setting meetings for June 19 and July 3 with the August meeting date to be set.

MUSEUM CONTRACT — Approved a $174 contract with Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum to use the museum for field trips and other types of studies.

LIBRARY PROGRAM — Received a letter from the state Department of Education commending the district for its expanded media centers and "most exemplary library program."

Sonoma College Boosters Elect New Officer Slate

Other officers elected to head the citizens group were Dr. Richard McKenna of Cotati, first vice president; Ted Grossman of Santa Rosa, second vice president; and John Henman of Rohnert Park, treasurer. New directors named were Robert Kerr and Charles Carter of Santa Rosa.

During the meeting, Sonoma State College President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. told members that the college will have an enrollment of 3,400 students this fall and eventually will reach a student population of 12,000.

Applications for admission to the college next year were cut off in February.

Nichols said the college now has almost 2,500 full-time students although the budget and staff are currently tailored for only 1,950 students. The school's budget for the coming academic year, he said, is based on 2,900 students instead of the expected starting enrollment of 3,400.

Looking at future enrollment, Nichols said the college will be able to accommodate 500 more students in 1970 when a present library is converted to classrooms. Another 750 enrollment will be possible upon completion of another new classroom building in 1971, he said.

He said the college should increase by 1,200 students a year after that until an enrollment of 12,000 is reached.

Hospital Board Hears Report On Equipment Needs

Dr. Fred Draper, pathologist at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma, told the hospital board last night the hospital's clinical laboratory needs $6,900 in new equipment to bring it up to modern standards, administrator Loreee Smith reported today

The board postponed consideration of Draper's requests until its budget session, to be held sometime next month, Mrs. Smith said.

Mrs. Smith said the hospital's intensive care unit is almost completed and possibly will open in mid-June. The hospital board last night accepted a donation of two-thirds of the estimated $600 cost of landscaping outside the new unit from the Hillcrest Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Club of Petaluma.

In other action, the board put over consideration of bids on a new steel storage building for the hospital until its next meeting.

Burlingame Man Hurt On Freeway

Roland G. Almalel, 28, of Burlingame, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a scraped nose and scrapes on both knees received when he drove his car into the center divider strip on Highway 101 south of Madera Boulevard in Corte Madera to avoid another car.

California Highway Patrol officers said Wenche Crawford of 203 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, at 5:45 p.m. pulled his car into the lane in which Almalel was driving and Almalel swerved into the divider strip.

Press Barred From Medal Ceremonies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen and photographers were barred today from a White House ceremony at which President Nixon presented two posthumous Medals of Honor awarded to Army heroes of the Vietnam war.

Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary, said Nixon regarded it as "a private ceremony" and thus did not summon representatives of news media to his oval office for it. Warren said he was not certain this would be Nixon's continuing policy at such events.

The President was disturbed several weeks ago by publication of a news picture in which he appeared to be smiling at a weeping mother who had just received a posthumous Medal of Honor on her son's behalf.

One of the medals presented today was accepted by eight-year-old Wesley C. Hosking of Allendale, N.J., whose father, M. Sgt. Charles E. Hosking Jr., lost his life when he wrestled a grenade-brandishing prisoner to the ground and covered the enemy's body with his own until the grenade exploded.

The second medal was awarded to Spec. 4 Don L. Michael for destroying an enemy bunker under heavy fire that cost his life in 1967. The medal was received by his father, Roy O. Michael of Lexington, Ala.

Seaman Wins Assault Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Superior Court jury awarded $24,000 yesterday to a merchant seaman who charged police with assault, battery and false arrest.

The award was made to Richard Trepanier, 29, of San Francisco, who said that on Jan. 21, 1966, he was stopped and beaten by two plainclothesmen as he left a Market Street theather.

He was treated at Park Emergency Hospital for a broken jaw and later underwent surgery at St. Luke's Hospital.

The decision was against the City and County of San Francisco and the plainclothesmen.

Daniel Gallagher resigned from the department after the incident and Stanley Odmann was suspended for 90 days.

Douglas Quits Casino-Linked Foundation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has resigned as president of the Albert Parvin Foundation, which recently sold its $2 million stock holdings in a firm which owns three Las Vegas, Nev., gambling casinos, the foundation said today.

The resignation as president and a member of the board was accepted "with deep regret" at a meeting of the board Wednesday in Santa Barbara, the foundation said.

"Justice Douglas indicated to the board in early April that he had been anxious for some time to be relieved of his post as the foundation's sole officer since its expanded activities now involved too heavy a work load," the foundation said in a release.

The foundation named Fred Warner Neal, a professor of international relations and goverment at Claremont Graduate School near here, as Douglas' successor to head the organization, which it said "operates principally in the area of education and international affairs."

Douglas, as the only paid official of the Albert Parvin Foundation, had come under fire in Congress for his outside salary and stock ties with the casino ownership.

The latest available tax returns covering 1967 show Douglas' salary equaled one-fourth of the grants for university's fellowships made by the foundation that year.

The records show Douglas was paid $12,000 a year as president and director from 1962 through 1966.

The payment was boosted to $12,765 for 1967. Harvey Silbert, secretary-treasurer of the foundation, said he thought Douglas received the same amount last year.

Reclining Nude Adorns Yearbook

The auburned haired girl is wearing a white nurses cap and a small pearl pendant, but nothing else. She's lying on a blue rug, reading a medical text.

Jan T. Raynak of Greensburg, Pa., the yearbook manager, said the picture was included in only about 300 of the yearbook's 1,200 copies, but it is available for insertion in all of them.

He declined to identify the young woman, in her 20s. He said she is not a nurse and has no connection with Jefferson.

Flat License Fees Sought By Corte Madera Chamber

The Courte Madera Chamber of Commerce board favors a flat rate for business license fees, rather than paying according to gross sales, chamber manager Barbara Packard reported yesterday.

The board on Wednesday recommended to the Corte Madera Town Council that a businessman who has less than $10.000 gross sales a year pay a flat $30 fee.

Businessmen now paying $30 fees plus $4 for each employee over five would pay $45 plus $6 for each employee over five. The board recommends an escalator clause in the ordinance to state that when the cost of living increases 5 per cent that the business license fee be increased accordingly.

The board's objection to a proposal by Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher that the fees be based on gross receipts, led to a study by the board's subcommittee and town staff.

The subcommittee first suggested supporting a 30 per cent across-the-board increase in existing rates. The town staff counter-proposed the flat $30 fee and this was accepted by the subcommittee.

Usher said today that he will outline the two proposals — the flat fee and the one based on gross receipts—to the council in the near future.

The chamber board also formed a committee, headed by Joe Stewart Jr., to investigate the proposed solicitor's ordinance now under consideration by the Council.

It recommended to the town council that the board's March suggestions for an upgraded fire protection service be considered by the council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

For Women Only

FATHER'S DAY isn't far away, we realized when folks started making reservations for his day. Since Cafe Bon Vin is becoming known as the place to celebrate an occasion (or even just to celebrate a celebration!) we expect a full house on Father's Day. To make sure your man is part of the reason the place is full, make your reservation now. Another reason for haste: our new menu, and new wines, will be available — and each new Gala brings out a host of "regulars."

For Men Only

MEALS at Cafe Bon Vin ($4 to $10) are acknowledged bargains, judged by content, variety, quality, atmosphere, flavor — and all the things by which great cuisine is measured. But even bargains cost money — and leave less for grass seed and pasteurized milk and baby blankets. So, with your plight in mind, Fred Cherry offers the men of Marin a rare opportunity to save enough to pay for a memorable meal at Cafe Bon Vin each month. The method: Join our Jug-of-the-Month Club. The current selection is Petit Sirah, which ordinarily costs $2.50 a fifth when it's as good as ours. Our fine Petit Sirah sells for $3.50 a gallon. While you savor the flavor of this excellent wine (six long years of wood age) you save $9 — enough to dine grandly at Cafe Bon Vin.

For Parents Only

GRADUATION PARTIES deserve youth-oriented food (and proper wines, when of permissible age). A chef who prepares great French food can prepare remarkable hamburgers, too; and our chef has developed several sensible menus for graduation parties and receptions which he will discuss with you most gladly.

WEDDING PARTIES are another thing we do very specially at Cafe Bon Vin. We can also prepare and deliver our sumptuous fare to church or home — which saves you money. A good many Bay Area weddings have already called upon us and we are prepared to serve many more. One delightful wedding custom we've introduced to Marin brides and grooms: a wine selection able and worthy of lasting 25 years — to be drunk on the happy occasion of the Silver Anniversary.

For Wine Lovers Only

BUENA VISTA is to be commemorated, tasted, discussed, and enjoyed at the California Night next Thursday (May 29) and it looks like another sellout. The price of $8.50 includes a sit-down wine tasting and discussion, followed by a Vintner's Banquet featuring recipes suggested by the winemaker. A great evening, and almost sold out. Phone 456-6660 while you're thinking about it.

State Takes Over Novato Companies

The Key Insurance Exchange and Key Insurance Underwriters Inc., both of 1510 Grant Avenue, Novato, have been taken over by the state Department of Insurance because their liabilities exceed their assets, according to Barry Bertram, assistant insurance commissioner.

James Weirich has been named conservator to handle settling the Novato firm's affairs, Bertram said. The state took over the firm on May 1, Bertram said from his Los Angeles office.

"There are approximately 400 claims and lawsuits against the company which amount to somewhere around $1.2 to $1.4 million," Bertram said.

"Against this, the company has assets of somewhere between $300,000 and $500,000," he said.

The compnay's main asset is its building at 1510 Grant Avenue, formerly the Talbot Building. It purchased this building and moved into it in August 1969, Bertram said. Earlier the company had operated five years in San Francisco, he said.

"It may take a year or more to sell the building, and probably about two years to settle the claims, so it will be at least that time before the full extent of the loss of the company is known," Bertram said.

Burglars Litter Seadrift House

Burglars who smashed a window to break into the summer home of James M. Stubbleshine at 3 Seadrift Road, Stinson Beach, Tuesday, took a pair of binoculars and canned goods which they apparently carried away in a pillow case.

The intruders also drank part of a bottle of wine and scattered matches in the house, sheriff's deputies said today.

Sausalito Poised For Holy Ghost Festival

The Portuguese Holy Ghost Festival in Sausalito, now in its ninth decade, will be held Sunday with traditional feasting, dances, parades, religious observances and participation by other Portuguese communities in the Bay Area.

The festival originated in Portugal in the 13th Century when the nation was threatened with famine. Queen Isabel ordered national prayers, and food-laden ships appeared on Pentecost Sunday. The queen offered a High Mass and festival and ordered the people to celebrate their relief with a day of thanksgiving to the Holy Ghost every year.

In Sausalito, the Portuguese community has observed the festival since 1888.

A parade will start at 9:30 a.m. at the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, and proceed to Star of the Sea Catholic Church at 180 Harrison Street, where a High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. After mass, the parade will return to IDESST Hall, marching through downtown Sausalito and the Vina del Mar Plaza, for the Chamarita feast and dancing, with traditional food of "sopa y carne."

The queen this year will be Yvonne Silveira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Silveira of Santa Venetia. The 'Little queen" will be Deborah Carlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Carlton of Mill Valley.

Antoinette Brazil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brazil of Petaluma, will portray the historic queen, St. Isabel.

Miss Silveira's attendants will be her sister, Maria Louisa, and Joyce Nunes of Lucas Valley. Cape holders will be Maria Mattos of San Rafael and Elceida Cabral of Novato.

The little queen's attendants will be her sister, Donna, and Judy Machado of San Anselmo. Cape holders will be Kenneth and Karen Kirkland of Mill Valley.

Marching units in the parade will include Santa Rosa's Campion drill team, state and national champions for many years, and the Mandarin drum and bugle corps of Sacramento, St. Mary's drum and bell corps of San Francisco, and the Victorine drill team of San Francisco.

The Portuguese communities of Petaluma, Sebastopol, Benicia and Novato will also be represented in the parade.

Kiwanis Clubs Plan Gnoss Field Air Show

An air show will be held Aug. 16 and 17 at Gnoss Field near Novato, sponsored by the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club of Mill Valley and the Novato Kiwanis Club.

The show will include air races, sky diving and radio operated model airplane displays.

Goldenaires Set Sierra Outing

The San Rafael Goldenaires will make a three-day trip to Sequoia and Kings Canyon national parks next month.

Chartered buses will leave from the city recreation center at 8 a.m. June 10 and return at 8 p.m. June 1.

The tour is open to all Marin adults over 50. It is sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department which also sponsors the Goldenaires. Additional information is available from the center.

Fairfax Lions Raise $1,200 For Project

The Fairfax Lions Club grossed $1,200 from its rummage sale last weekend, chairman Charles J. Vergara has reported. Proceeds of the sale will go toward Lions' eye care program for the indigent.

The club wil meet next at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Meadowland Club House.

ON VIOLENCE: Fashions Reflect Violent Trend

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Violence and ruffles make strange bedfellows. Yet chains and boots and industrial zippers have shot their bolts. And, in the revolt, violence has bred ruffles.

If it is true that fashion reflects the tempo of the era, we're in for an ultrafeminine, conservative backlash. Most of the clothes on the racks are coming up pretty and girlish.

WHETHER the current breakdown in morality brought about the see-throughs, pantsuits and boys-and-girls-together unisex look is a moot question. It worked the other way around as well, according to New York designer Jo Copeland of Pattullo-Jo Copeland.

"Designers have to come up with something new," she said. "In these days when even the small standards we've had for generations have been discarded, the only way to make news is to shock." Miss Copeland doesn't shock. Her clothes remain beautiful season after season.

"People behave the way they dress — they way they think they look," she said. "If a woman wears a dress that barely veils her body she'll behave like a slut. Put the same woman into a pastel wool suit and she'll act like a lady."

ON UNISEX, a look which indicates how far to the left the pendulum of behavior has swung, Jo Copeland again says there are two sides to the coin of whether fashions breed violence or violence breeds the fashion.

'It often is a matter of a designer taking advantage of the current breakdown in morality and not necessarily the other way around.

"Unisex," she said, "is a diabolical idea generated by the homosexuals in the fashion business. They are using their art to destroy their enemy — femininity. And in these permissive days when anything goes, they're making hay out of their own aberrations."

THIS MAYBE true. But it does remain that the unisex look started in the Army-Navy stores. Its beginning, at least, can't be blamed on any designer. It started with the young people who chose this mode of dress for reasons that ranged from the permissiveness of the times to budgetary convenience. The designers hitched a ride on the gravy train and made the look more effete for the buys and more boyish for the dolls and are selling it at a healthy price. You won't find gussied-up unisex rigs in an Army-Navy store.

EVER SINCE Courreges introduced boots and tough chic a few years ago women have popped out of topless swimsuits and dresses, worn pants to chic parties, emulated the young thugs, Bonnie and Clyde, and clanked around town in enough chains and hardware to put Marley's ghost to shame. And it would be foolhardy to say that the unrest and rebellion against convention that have become a way of life haven't affected the clothes we wear. The activities peculiar to any era always do.

According to costume historian James Laver, the most striking change in men's appearance in the early 15th Century was due to the development of defensive armor. A chin piece instead of the formely worn chain-mail cowl was attached to the helmet. And without the 19th Century women's passion for bicycling, Amelia's bloomers might never have become the forerunner of today's lady's pantsuits.

IF WE WERENT already "thinking violent" where would Paco Rabanne be? Imagine anyone in Louisa May Alcott's day saying, "I have to have my seam welded. It just split. "Rabanne uses a hammer and soldering iron to make his dresses, not needle and thread.

The miniskirt, like the short dress and flattened bosom of the '20s, is a reaction to restraint and convention. But now we have a reaction to the reaction. The death knell is sounding for violence in design.

Fashionable savagery did some good in menswear. it broke down the gray flannel barrier and made it possible for men to look different without having inhibitions.

For women it was simply a cycle. Now they're tired of the act—and it was an act. The song of the new revolution is "I Enjoy Being A Girl."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Salary Reward Merited, But Amount Excessive

We think Douglas J. Maloney is a first class county counsel. He may even be one of the eight best in California.

But we don't think he should be the eighth highest paid county counsel in the state, as he will be as result of the board of supervisors' action Tuesday which raised his salary from $24,000 to $28,000 per year.

THE SEVEN county counsels higher paid than Maloney, with the new salary he will receive starting July 1, are those of Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Santa Clara, San Francisco, Riverside, and Kern counties.

All of these counties are considerably larger than Marin. Los Angeles County, which pays its county counsel $36,500 per year, has a population of 7,101,400, and its expenditure for the county counsel's office in fiscal 1968 (the latest available) was $2,033,403.

Nearest to Marin in size among the seven is Kern County, with population of 340,700, paying its county counsel $29,400. The Kern County expenditure for the county counsel's office in fiscal 1968 was $236,599. Marin's was $117,719.

Marin's current population estimate is 207,400.

IN SUCH A HUGE county as Los Angeles, there is of course a great deal more work for the county counsel's office. There must be a large staff for the counsel to direct. The counsel must be prepared for legal contests much more numerous and of much wider variety than those encountered by the legal adviser of Marin County.

It is worth noting, also, that Alameda, San Bernardino, Sacramento, Fresno, Ventura, San Joaquin, Santa Barbara and Monterey counties, all of which are larger than Marin and all of which have larger budgets for county counsel offices, do not pay their county counsels salaries as high as that given Maloney.

A salary increase of $4,000 a year is not merely a reward for good service and recognition of inflated cost of living. It is considerably more than that.

EVERY MEMBER of the board of supervisors has publicly declared himself in favor of holding down the tax rate and trimming county expenses.

However, based on the raise given the county counsel and the $2,157 per year raise (as of July 1) — with more promised — given earlier to court reporters, it begins to appear that only one of the five supervisors has meant what he said. That one is Louis H. Baar, who voted against both these raises.

By their votes ye shall know them.

'One Man, One Vote' For Bonds

Back in December, 1967, attorney John Sobieksi of Belvedere and Pasadena proposed to the Pasadena Board of Education that it challenge the constitutionality of California's two-thirds requirement for passage of local bond issues on the basis that it is contrary to the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" interpretation.

Nothing has yet come of such a challenge in California, but one has been brought successfully — at least through its first test — in Poctaello, Ida.

Idaho also requires two-thirds vote to pass bond issues. In a challenge resulting from defeat of a million-dollar Pocatello bond issue, Judge Gus Carr Anderson of the state's district court (equivalent to superior court in California) ruled the requirement unconstitutional.

Those who are downcast over recent school bond defeats may take some heart from this — although we wouldn't try to hold our breath while the Idaho case is fought up through the courts and then applied in California.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Space Probe Could Help Save Earth

I would like to suggest that after the Apollo series, the space program be continued at least until manned or unmanned probes determine for sure what seems to be likely true, that all the "nearby" planets (say from Mercury to Jupiter) are uninhabitable by humans.

If it should be determined beyond doubt that any other planet within reach of our present technology (that is, that can be reached by vehicles observing the Einsteinian speed limit of the speed of light) are unfit for our race, then people would probably begin treating Earth with a bit more care and respect and would slow down the rate of pollution of the air, water, and environment in general.

Song Of Bulldozer Now In Bear Valley

Drive out to the headquarters of Point Reyes National Seashore some sunny day soon and hike through Bear Valley.

The quiet peace of the forest is gone. Instead of bird and brook, you hear the song of the bulldozer carving subdivisions out of land authorized for the park seven years ago.

Please listen closely when you hear the song of the bulldozer in the wrong place. The words that go with the tune are: profit today for a few, destruction forever of a great and good dream.

Population Real Cause Of Pollution

Our hearts bleed for the conservationists as we watch their frantic efforts to save the redwoods, the Bay, the Grand Canyon, the whooping cranes. Surely the conservationists know deep inside that their cause is lost, that the splendid wonders of nature they are working so hard to preserve are doomed to the fate of the buffalo, Hetch Hetchy, and the passenger pigeon. The hordes of human beings about to swarm over the earth will not, can not, be denied. They must have space for their homes, stores, factories, beauty parlors, highways, parking lots.

It is not clear that the basic problem is overpopulation? Are not the conservationists misapplying their zeal, attacking the symptoms instead of the disease?

Possibly if they and all the rest of us hurry we can stop the flood of humanity before it overwhelms us. This does not mean abandoning the campaign for clean air and water and a spot here and there for recreation; nor does it mean only passive acceptance of the Pill. It means also a multimillion-dollar crash program for the perfecting of contraceptives, for general education in the imperative need for family limitation, and, if these ends are not immediately realized, the coercive control of reproduction.

The alternative is nuclear war or the smothering of life in pollution, while we struggle for food under the already all but tolerable restrictions on personal behavior that are inevitable on an overcrowded planet. . . .

Real Reason Asked For Tax Increase

The Mill Valley School District puts forth two basic reasons for requesting a tax rate increase in an election June 3.

First, an increase slightly over 15 per cent in enrollment from 1962 to 1969 and second, the fact that inflation has increased the cost of books, equipment, salaries, maintenance, etc.

To the first, I am certain that new housing placed on the tax rolls during the period as well as new business properties has kept pace with the number of new students.

Second, Marin properties are reassessed each four years and taxes (including the school district's portion) raised each year. Since 1962 my taxes have been raised almost 250 per cent. Why not give us the real reason for the requested tax increase?

TRY AND STOP ME

Seized with thirst at Rio de Janeiro's famed Copacabana Beach, a tourist ducked through traffic to a hotel bar where, everyone, naturally, was gabbing away in Portuguese. "Of course, I will," said the obliging Londoner. He then turned to the bartender, and in impeccable English, requested, 'Would you mind fetching this poor fellow a Scotch on the rocks?"

Humphrey, Nixon Now Agree On Stand To Take In Vietnam

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

MINNEAPOLIS — Hubert Humphrey, the man who almost won it himself, is acting to strengthen the hand of President Nixon in the Vietnam peace negotiations.

Humphrey is serving notice on Hanoi that there is no use waiting for a better settlement than Mr. Nixon is offering.

He is assuring the president that he is prepared to do anything in his power as leader of the Democratic party to help build a common front at home which will enable the United States to negotiate more effectively in Paris.

WHILE HUMPHREY has major disagreements with Mr. Nixon on domestic issues, he has no major disagreements with the president on Vietnam today.

This is one of the most significant political developments since Mr. Nixon took office. It means that the president and Humphrey are firm allies in working out the most crucial problem the nation faces —getting peace in Vietnam.

This Humphrey - Nixon alliance on Vietnam emerged clearly in conversations we had with the former vice president at his office at Macalester College and at the University of Minnesota where he is lecturing.

FEW THINGS could do more to promote productive peace talks than a Humphrey-Nixon common front. It will make it far less likely that Hanoi can exploit disunity within the United States as a means of extracting one-sided concessions at the conference table.

Unquestionably there will continue to be peace - at - nearly - any - price forces in the United States, but they will be less potent with Mr. Nixon and Humphrey standing together.

There were no reservations in Humphrey's willingness to help on Vietnam within the terms for negotiation which Mr. Nixon is now setting out.

He is convinced that the president is dedicated to ending the war as soon as possible.

He believes the country has reason to trust Mr. Nixon to do so.

He feels that President Nixon did right in going before the American people and asking them to give him the time and support needed to move the talks ahead.

Humphrey is giving him that support.

WHAT IMPRESSES us, even beyond the foregoing, is the extent to which Mr. Nixon and Humphrey have come to similar conclusions on the whole range of Vietnam questions which are at the core of getting an agreement. It may be that, as president, Mr. Nixon has become somewhat more flexible and that Humphrey, now that the campaign is over, is freer from the pressures to accommodate himself to the conflicting views within his own party.

Whatever the reason, today they are agreed on the essentials of a settlement which the president said we "could live with and be proud of."

This means that they are united against two things which they both believe imprudent: (1) hasty, substantial unilateral withdrawal, and (2) imposing an unelected coalition government on the elected government of South Vietnam.

They're also agreed on the essential ingredients of a workable settlement: (1) staged reciprocal withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese forces by formal or informal arrangement and (2) free elections which guarantee that the people of South Vietnam will have a government of their own choosing.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Academic Underworld Exists Within Faculties

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Does an academic underworld run our public colleges and universities? Even the most stable members among our citizenry, those who are not easily shocked, would be appalled if they knew of the influence hoodlums have in controlling higher education across the country.

Black goons and white hoods often form coalitions on campuses. And their activities frequently result in destruction of the academic climate necessary for meaningful study by serious students.

Some of the most insidious acts of subversion and violence have been hushed by some college administrators, not necessarily because they are spineless, but because their sympathies often lie with the student and faculty radicals. Consequently, such information seldom makes the news media.

THE TENTACLES of radical ideologies which emanate from one campus may, and often do, stretch out in all directions to encroach on other campuses across the country. And revolutionist and subversive faculty members, after organizing movements on one campus, often move on to ignite the fires of student and faculty unrest at other educational institutions.

A study of the backgrounds of some members of college and university academic councils and senates would reveal information which, if it became public, would rock the foundations of these institutions.

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, th backgrounds of two colleg students added as voting members to a senate which has long history of inept activity One, a student radical re cently convicted on two count of grand theft, has been activ as a student leader in opposition to the college's ROT program. As a condition probation after his convictio for grand theft, he was sentenced to serve weekends jail for six months.

This weekend jailbird, ar week-long campus radical r cently ran for the office student body president. A he polled a substantial numb of votes. But more significa is that from his vantage poi on the college's academ council, he reportedly was strumental in landing thr seats for students on a new formed committee charg with the responsibility screening candidates for c lege president. One of three students appointed the presidential selection co mittee by the academic co cil's executive committee i black militant who, last vember, allegedly attac the sports editor of the lege's student newspaper, he reportedly has been vanguard of campus disrupt tactics by black militants will be a voting member the college's academic co cil during the coming year.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Is It The Moon Or The Ions That's Bewitching City Fathers?

Some scientists tell us that the number of positive or negative ions in the air can affect your mood for the day, and a man last week claimed that the moon's gravity can warp the brain enough to produce a change in mood, thus justifying the term "lunacy."

I don't know whether it's moon gravity or ions or just plain lack of good sense that has been affecting the Mill Valley City Council these past few weeks. Not only has the council's collective mood been off, it has refused to make any decisions on its proposed $2 million budget and it has handled the selection of a new city manager in such amateur manner as to provoke harsh criticism from some of its strongest supporters.

Complaints have been loud and long around Lytton Square lately.

THE NEW city manager has been selected and will be joining the staff June 15. He is William H. Cunningham from Yuba City. None of the sidewalk critics claims to be able to evaluate Cunningham or his possible performance as city manager, although many had other preferences in the field of candidates — mainly Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

What the criticism is about is the bush league way in which the whole thing was handled. The council declined to name a professional panel to screen the 103 applicants for the council's own interviews. Then, in setting itself up as the screening panel, the council invited a representative of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce to sit in as a non-voting participant.

This one move alienated other factions in town who wished to know by the Mill Valley City Employees Association, the conservation groups, etc., weren't also asked to participate. It was illogical at best to include only the chamber of commerce, many members of which aren't even Mill Valley residents.

Finally, retiring City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer was thoroughly excluded from the proceedings, thereby depriving the council of Balmer's professional opinions. He didn't even know the name of the new man until Tuesday noon, only a few hours before the public announcement was made.

AS TO THE BUDGET debacle, the council so far has managed to delay, postpone and procrastinate on making any decision through six budget hearings, two more than it usually takes to settle the whole matter.

At one meeting things got so bad the council indulged itself in audience participation by asking the 20 or so persons in the chamber to indicate by raising their hands which items they would be willing to finance through a tax increase.

Fortunately the council stopped short of deciding the budget by such thoughtful means.

The capper of that particular evening came when, in answer to a question from the audience on how the city's many tennis players could indicate their desire for more tennis courts in Boyle Park, the mayor suggested the best way would be for the players to kick in some money to entice the city to install the courts. A little seed money never hurt anyone, or anything, the mayor indicated.

The tennis players were somewhat indignant to think the council would ask them personally to pay for an improvement which they felt should be financed out of city tax funds.

Institute Sets Volunteer Forum

A meeting for volunteers of the Behavior Therapy Institute, 300 Valley Street, Sausalito, will be held at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the institute.

A movie on a training program for behavior modification for children will be shown and Dr. Stuart Nixon of Stanford University will speak. Other speakers will be Dr. David Fisher, director of the institute, Christopher Schuepbach, school director, and Nancy Helem, secretary and temporary chairman of the volunteers.

Discussion will be on special techniques for volunteers who assist the staff in elimination of behavior disorders among children.

Fusselman

What a renewed feeling of awe to sit in front of our television sets and hear the clear distinct voices of Apollo 10's crew and to see them on their way to the moon and their emergence from the other side after circling it. And as we gaze with almost unbelief at the color shots they are sending, one cannot miss being impressed with the manner in which the use of wave lengths has become such an important part of our daily lives.

Through the magic of these invisible electronic channels, we are daily informed, many times instantly, of events from every corner of the world — alerted to all air-borne activities by radar and under-sea by sonar. Billions are being spent, when in the infancy of all this we, in San Anselmo, spent slightly more than $900 for the installation of the police radio I told you of last week.

PERHAPS YOU WILL be interested in what our plans were then. The control center, located in the city hall office, and the sets in the cars were built by two men in the Berkeley Police Department. When we started to test them, we found that the central set would have to be rebuilt. So, it was during this period that I drove time after time all through the night checking for clarity and charting the locations of good reception.

As an example, we lost contact when we started down the other side of White Hill and then were almost knocked off our seats with the strength of the signal as we passed the entrance to Woodacre. Then again on Lincoln Avenue we would lose it about halfway to Puerto Suello Hill, but could pick it up again over by the Dominican Convent area.

Berkeley had a strong station that was heard up and down the Sacramento Valley and some of the San Joaquin. We put a duplicate set, of one in the city hall, at the fire lookout station atop Tamalpais and worked with the cars' way out on the Black Point road, on the Richmond-San Rafael ferries, and over on the East Bay. The intent was to build up a chain of communication to include San Quentin, the cities of the county, and Berkeley.

THIS WAS LATER found unnecessary. Mansfield Lewis, who had maintained and built up the San Anselmo service, came over to the county as director of communications, and has developed the fine operation we now have. I worked closely with him and helped with getting the money to finance things during the time I was on the board.

My car was equipped with a set in the latter years and I have worked (talked) with com-center from places such as in the midst of a large orchard north of Sebastopol and down in the canyons of the financial district of San Francisco. I did a lot of driving on the job and kept my set tuned in constantly — monitoring and reporting in.

LAST WEEK I told you that a matter was to come before the board of supervisors which is vital to the safety of everyone in the county. It has not been reported in the press nor on the air to my knowledge.

Next week I will relate in detail what is being attempted. This must be remembered at all times: The taxpayers within the cities pay two-thirds of the taxes that are spent by the board of supervisors. Any attempt to unload the county budget at the expense of the city governments doesn't relieve the folks in the cities, but just fouls things up.

U.S. Court Drops Boat Owner Suit

A federal judge yesterday dismissed charges by a Waldo Point houseboat owner that Marin County officials are violating his civil rights by ordering his boat off underwater public streets in Richardson Bay.

Judge George B. Harris of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco dismissed a suit filed May 1 by Piro Caro, 67-year-old landscape architect who lives on the old ferryboat San Rafael.

Through his attorney Carl B. Shapiro, Caro accused county officials of conspiracy and harrassment and denying houseboat owners their constitutional rights. He asked the court to stop the county from ousting his and other houseboats from the Donlan J. Arques property.

Shapiro said yesterday he had not heard of the decision and had not yet contacted Caro to see what the next move will be. "There's a very good chance we'll appeal to the state Supreme Court," sais Shapiro.

The Marin Blood Center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. next Thursday instead of Friday, Memorial Day. Regular hours will be observed Monday and Wednesday.

Suit To Seek U.S. Test Data

NEW YORK (AP) — The Consumers Union goes into U.S. District Court Monday for a suit that might gain consumers access to federal test data on everything from floor wax to frozen foods.

The union, nonprofit publisher of "Consumer Reports," wants secret National Bureau of Standards test data on hearing aids made available to its clients. It says the data on brands and models would mean "vast potential savings to the consumer."

If the suit is successful, it could mean public availability of all federal testing results. The government contends it could wreck the Bureau of Standards testing program, by discouraging cooperation from private manufacturers.

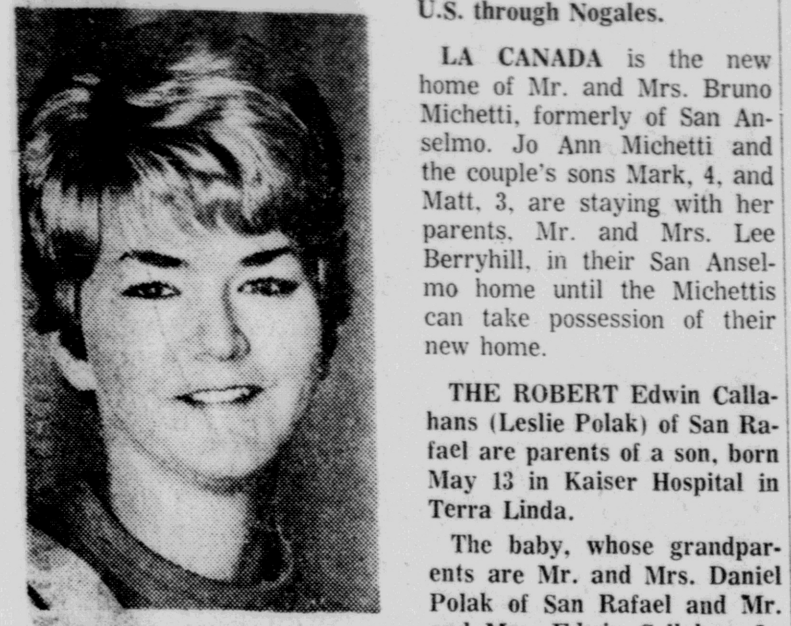
Marinite Chosen 'Miss Maritime'

By MOLLY MARIN

Kathy Heilbron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Heilbron of Mill Valley, has been chosen Honolulu's "Miss Maritime of 1969" and will reign over the city's Maritime Week celebration that began yesterday.

She was chosen over other city-wide finalists in the annual meeting of the Honolulu Propeller Club, and she will represent the club and the industry at maritime functions through the year.



KATHY HEILBRON

A 1967 graduate of the University of California, Kathy went to work for Matson Lines last September after working for a bank in San Francisco.

THE WAY to really see the scenery of a country close up is a bus trip, report Capt. and Mrs. Raymond J. Zanzot of Greenbrae, who have recently returned from a three-week-tour of Mexico.

"Mexico is a country of great contrasts," says Mrs. Zanzot. Moving leisurely day-by-day through the country, we also were able to get close to the people."

They traveled first to Juarez, then via Chihuahua, Saltillo and Guanajuato to Mexico City, where they spent a week. Other places they visited include Acapulco, Cuernavaca, Taxco, Hacienda Cocoyoc, Toluca and Guadalajara. Next they went along the tropical Pacific coast from Mazatlan to Los Mochis, Guaymas and Hermosillo and entered the U.S. through Nogales.

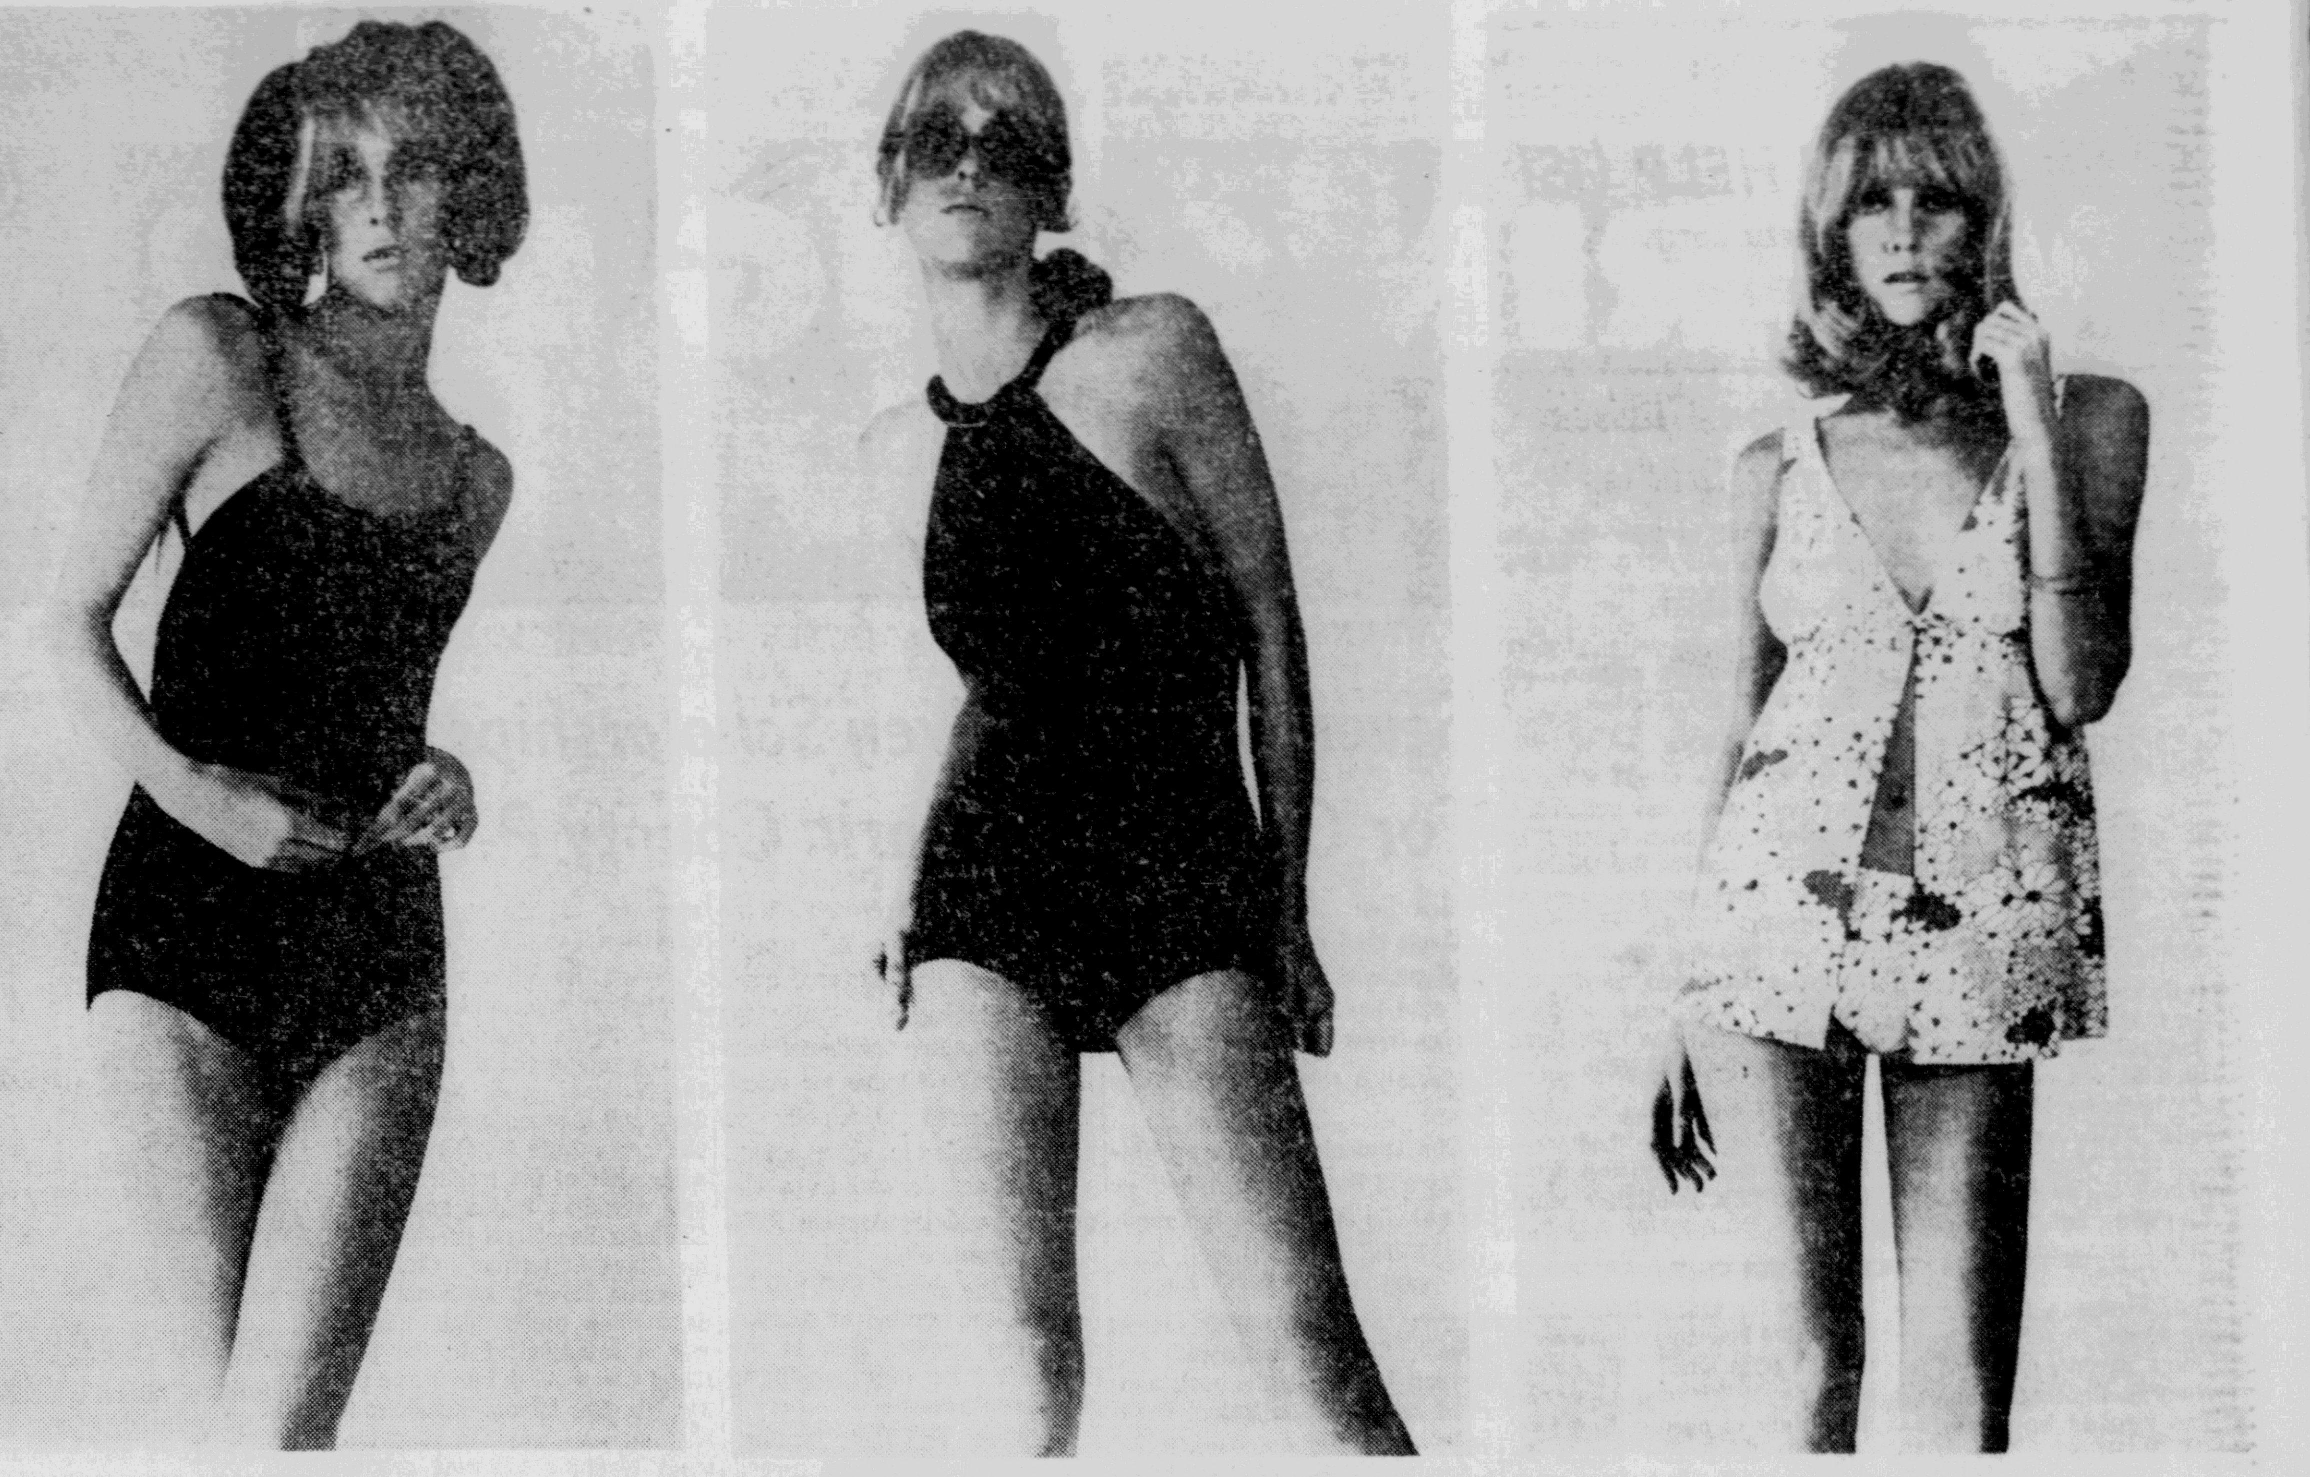
LA CANADA is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Michetti, formerly of San Anselmo. Jo Ann Michetti and the couple's sons Mark, 4, and Matt, 3, are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Berryhill, in their San Anselmo home until the Michettis can take possession of their new home.

THE ROBERT Edwin Callahans (Leslie Polak) of San Rafael are parents of a son, born May 13 in Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda.

The baby, whose grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Polak of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Callahan Jr. of Lafayette, is a sixth generation California. His great grandmother is Mrs. Edwin Callahan of Lafayette.

A SURPRISE farewell party was given Saturday evening for Sylvia and Olivia Squeri of San Anselmo by Lynnette Pareglio and Pat McNaboa at Lynnette's home in Woodacre. Sylvia and Olivia will leave on a six months driving tour of Europe, including Holland, Germany, France, Scandinavia, Yukoslavia, Italy, Spain, Greece and the British Isles.

AFTER 83 years of arranging special events for Men Only at Corintrian Yacht Club, the club's Cooks and Waiters society gave its first Ladies' Night on Saturday. Wives and dates had a chance to sample the special hospitality at a successful dinner party which chairman Hal Monozon now calls the "first annual." Is the stag at bay?



FOR TODAY'S TIDE

Catalina presents swim suits to suit three different moods. If you are in a classic mood the gossamer weight nappy velour knit, left, will make you feel and look like a Grecian goddess. When a sophisticated mood hits, on the jersey draped maillot, center. It is long, lean and close to the body for elegant motion in the water or out. The floral print jersey swim cage, right, is designed for the delicately faminine mood. The cage, which skims the body, has matching brief trunks. The look is new in both fabric and design.

Marin Women

Knit Suit Is Adapted For Men

NEW YORK (UPI)—Men's tailored knit suits, sportsjackets and slacks are already being worn by various style leaders but Robert J. Kirkpatrick, who knows about such things, says it will be several more years before they are ready for the masses.

Kirkpatrick is marketing representative and coordinator for men's tailored clothing-knits for Du Pont and even has picked up a few patents himself in 10 years or so of research in fibers suitable for men's tailored knit wear.

Kirkpatrick was reasonably dapper himself in a brown, double-breasted Edwardian-type suit which on close inspection turned out to be of knitted fabric. It had been whipped up by some Du Pont tailors out of an experimental knit and was not really on the market.

HIS SUIT, and most of those on the market now, he said, are de-feminized adaptations of knits aimed primarily at the women's field where one-third of all garments sold now are knitted. By 1975 Du Pont expects one-half of all apparel worn in the United States to be knitted.

"I think we're in a strange situation where the cart is leading the horse," he said of men's tailored knits.

The advantages of knits are evident—more give and more comfort, less wrinkling when packed.

"But for broad consumer acceptance the fabrics must be right," Kirkpatrick said. "Now they are for the fashion look but not for the John Doe in Upper Middletown."

"No technical breakthrough is necessary—we know how. But we must put all the bits and pieces together and put it on the proper equipment which is just now reaching the mills. There is no problem of style for women's wear since they can style it up with decorations. But men's wear must have style built in in a number of ways."

ONE OF THESE ways is color since men's solid color clothes are really many different colors woven to look like one, and there must be such patterns as plaids, herringbones and the like because men expect it, he said.

Another is that the clothing must have a different feel—men are accustomed to the touch of wool or worsted with its warmth and softness and expect this in tailored knits. Above all they do not want a fabric that is slippery smooth.

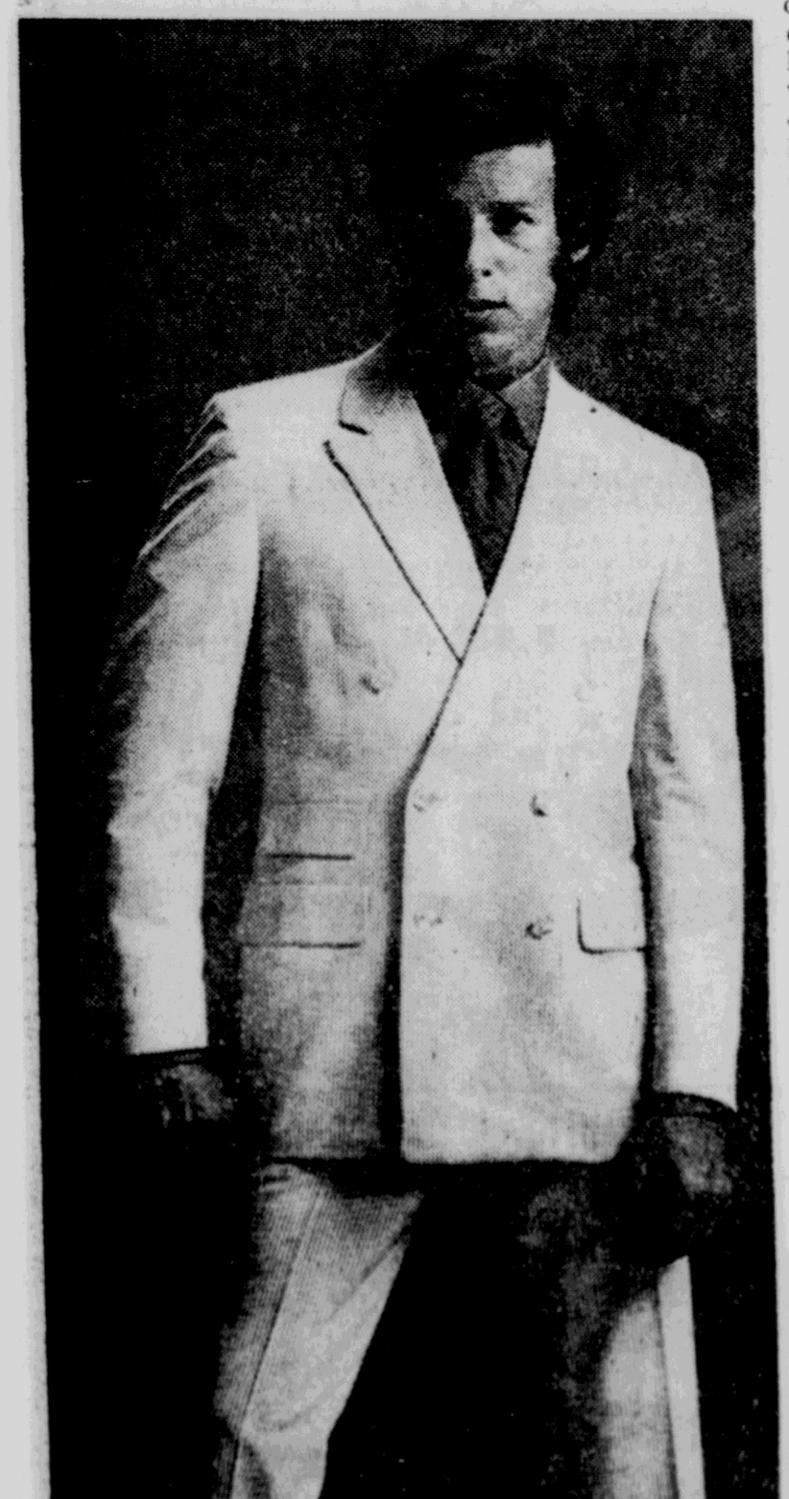
A third is that the men's knits must be sturdy. A woman, for example, might wear a dress 20 times and then discard it while a man might wear a pair of slacks 60 or 70 times and expect it to remain reasonably new looking for the life of the garment. The surface must not snag, scuff, distort or pull.

Another major difference is that men's clothing traditionally comes in different weights—7½ to 8½ ounces for summer, 10½ to 11½ ounces for fall and winter. Women wear any weight at any time, depending on how they want to look.

THE NEW KNITWEAR coming onto the market in a year or two represents eight to nine years of research and a search for fibers developed specifically for men's clothing. One is a mixture of an ordinary spun yarn and a filament textured yarn. A filament textured yarn is a silk-like fiber that has been deformed so it will give a bulky effect.

The outer surface of the cloth would be a spun yarn, giving a soft wool feel and looking like a typical men's wear fabric. The back of the fabric would be a textured Dacron filament for both comfort to the skin and its stretch-and-return characteristics.

By 1972-73, Kirkpatrick said, these knit fabrics are expected to make up as much as 10 per cent of the market. They could be a higher percentage later if the current revolution continues in men's clothing since from idea to finished garment takes 60 days or less in knitwear and the same process takes at least six months in weaving.



THE COMING THING for men may be the tailored knit suit. This blue and white striped version is 85 percent Dacron polyester and 15 percent rayon, designed with body-shaping, wide semi-peaked lapels and deep side vents. Men's tailored knit suits, jackets and slacks are already being worn by style leaders, but manufacturers expect that it will be several more years before the masses take to them. (UPI Telephoto)

Pet Peeves About Products Aired By U.S. Housewives

Every once in a while someone thinks to ask the housewife consumer what her pet peeves are concerning the products she is asked to buy.

The latest survey by a New York advertising agency has unearthed a list of most mentioned gripes about products, with the intent to let manufacturers know how their products might be improved.

The agency sampled by written questionnaire the views of some 5,000 housewives selected at random from the telephone books in 50 cities. They were asked to mark from a pilot list of common peeves what bothered them most, annoyed them slightly or not at all. Then they were invited to add their own pet gripe to the list. The results were presented at the annual meeting of Sales and Marketing Executives International in Cleveland.

The peeves most often mentioned are:

1. Weekend supermarket specials that are always gone by the weekend.

2. Inability to tell freshness of products, such as bread, cakes and dairy products, because of lack of coding.

3. Bread, rolls and buns that are crushed in non-crushproof packaging.

4. "Cents-off" labeling on packages where it is impossible to know the reguar price or the real saving.

5. Bags of sugar that leak, spill and tear.

6. Drippy meat packages.

7. Cartons that leak.

8. Milk Cartons that leak.

8. Milk cartons that are difficult to open and don't pour properly.

9. Prewrapped meat, vegetables and fruit that hide the bad side or soft spots.

10. Sliced cheese pack wrappers that tear and will not rewrap tightly.

12. Packages that say "push here" and which won't push and often break fingernails.

13. Packages that say "Tear here" and they don't tear.

14. Easy twist-off tops that don't twist off.

15. Boxes, such as cold cereal that say "insert finger, lift up tab, and then reclose," but they tear or rip off and don't reclose.

16. Cans with dents.

17. Cans with keys attached that are difficult to work and which often come with keys missing.

18. Rimless cans that won't open with an electric can opener.

19. Cans that rust counter tops and shelves.

20. Spray cans that don't spray.

21. Plastic wrap that sticks so closely you lose the end.

22. Bread wrapper end stickers that are supposed to reseal for freshness, but don't reseal.

23. Paper towels that don't tear off where they are supposed to.

24. Bacon packages that are hard to open and that hide fatty bits and pieces.

25. Honey and syrup bottles that drip and congeal.

26. Egg cartons that don't protect eggs.

27. Refrozen fruits and vegetables that are apparent because one side has a cake of ice.

28. Improper instruction as to whether frozen foods can or cannot be refrozen.

29. Canned or jarred fruit with too much syrup and not enough fruit.

30. Spice jars and cans that measuring spoons never fit.

31. Black pepper and spice cans with a center top opening which won't pour without spilling.

32. Low calorie foods without calorie content on package.

33. Pasta and noodles in cellophane or plastic bags that won't reseal.

34. Canned spaghetti and pasta that is too soft and mushy.

35. Tiny candy bars in big wrappers.

36. Potato chip and snack bags that won't open easily so that the contents get crushed.

HELEN HELP US!

Today's Sex Education Classes Compared To Former Studies

DEAR HELEN:

What's all the big flap about so-called sex-education in our schools? Even back 30 years ago we took biology and health classes in which we learned about reproduction, marriage and the family and even the hazards of unwed love, including VD.

Our children tell me about their present day family life courses and what they discuss in them. They're very frank. We approve.

But this is in the same school where massive open meetings are being held to discuss the inclusion of sex education. It's already here, for heaven's sake. I wonder if the avid haters — those people who travel from school meeting to school meeting to shout that "sex education is a Communist plot, etc." — ever communicate with their children? Evidently the kids are keeping the facts of life away from these parents or they'd realize they're fighting a battle that has already been won. — AWARE PARENT

DEAR HELEN:

I think one of your young correspondent's words regarding sex education is the best argument yet: "Anything you learn in school couldn't be any fun." —DORRANCE

DEAR DORRANCE:

— For or against?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

When you study sex in school, you'll want to take the after-hours lab course! — AGAINST

DEAR AGAINST:

See the above quotation. Family life education informs more than it entices.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

What's in a word? Somehow our fine family life preparation program has been labeled sex education, and the fight boils up. We have excellent guidelines and qualified teachers, and things were going along smoothly until someone screamed "sex!" Will the world ever outgrow being scared to death of a little three-letter word?—TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER:

Not so long as the shouters — the professional pure-in-hearts— consider it a four-letter word. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

You're for wise sex education, Helen, but how do we know we'll get the wise kind? This means teaching love, responsibility and the pitfalls of misuse. How long would it be before they'd be teaching the fun and games stuff that was Sweden's downfall? — MRS. D.M.

DEAR MRS. M:

If I read in-depth studies correctly, the fun and games stuff has never been stressed in Swedish schools' family life program, and Sweden is far from down.

I'll count on our school system to keep sex education wise. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is to the mother whose daughter says she is working at a planned parenthood clinic. I too am a volunteer and we do have several college girls who give their time to this worthwhile cause.

These girls know that over-population will be our greatest problem of the future unless we educate now. (It's been said that when we get to standing room only the reproduction problem will take care of itself, but there has to be a better way.)

The majority of people who come to us are married. They can't afford any more children, but we help single girls too, after counseling has failed. If they are determined, then at least we can save them the heartbreak of an unwanted child. — SOCIAL WORKER

Seven Seniors Given Scholarships For College By Marin County P-TA

Selection of seven Marin County high school seniors who will receive scholarship awards of $250 has been made by the Marin County Parent-Teacher Association scholarship committee.

The students are Wayne Satmary and Barbara Ford, both of Tamalpais High School; Joseph Rowell and Regina Rowell, both of Terra Linda High School; Sharon Stout, Tomales High School; John Giammona, Sir Francis Drake High School; and Fred Adam of San Rafael High School.

Sandra Michel of Tamalpais High School and Deborah Tieman of Novato High School are alternate choices for the scholarships, which have been given annually since the Marin County P-TA scholarship fund was founded in 1928.

Applicants are chosen on the basis of seriousness of purpose, chances of success and need, thus providing opportunity for highly qualified students who might not be eligible for scholarships based principally on highest academic achievement.

Funds are derived from elementary and high school P-TA units, parents clubs and individuals. As the annual fund has increased, the number of scholarships has grown. This is the first year it has been possible to give seven awards.

Recipients and their families will be honored at an award presentation reception Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the E Street Administration Building of the San Rafael Schools.

Joseph Rowell excelled academically and athletically at Terra Linda High School. He was a commended student in the National Merit Scholarship Test and a semi-finalist for the California State Scholarship and a member of the track, football and wrestling teams and is an Explorer Scout and president of the Black Letterman's Club.

Regina Rowell, an honor student since junior high school, was a semi-finalist in the National Merit Achievement Awards. Her talents include music and art, and she plans to study teaching following graduation from Terra Linda High School.

Sharon Stout is a member of the California Scholarship Federation and a recepient of the Bank of America Home Economics Award. She is secretary-treasurer of the senior class at Tomales High School and plans to become a dental hygienist.

Barbara Ford is a member of the CSF and plans to study sociology with the goal of becoming a social worker.

SHARON STOUT

John Giammona ranks close to the top of his class academically. His interests are math, science and art, and he plans to study engineering at the University of California at Davis.

Fred Adam is president of the Future Teachers of America at San Rafael High School and is master councilor of the Marin Chapter DeMolay and has earned the representative DeMolay award and 25 merit bars.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Mrs. Harry Moore To Head Novato University Women

MRS. HARRY MOORE

The Novato Branch, American Association of University Women, have elected Mrs. Harry Moore president of the organization.

Callita Moore is the wife of Harry Moore, assistant principal at San Marin High School. They have three children, Jeffrey, 12; Kathryn 10; and Charles, 5 years old.

The Moores lived in San Rafael two years before moving to Novato seven years ago.

Mrs. Moore was graduated from San Jose State College with a degree in art. She is also active in the Girl Scouts and San Marin Faculty Wives.

The new president says her interests are painting, especially water color, piano, sewing and cooking. She most enjoys reading, picnics and the beach.

Mrs. Moore has served as vice president and program chairman, and co-chairman of the world interests section and the arts section of the association of which she has been a member for five years. The organization's ultimate purpose is a continuing intellectual growth for women and responsibility to society.

The Novato branch will be studying new topics in the fall including "New Look on Campus," "This Beleaguered Earth, Can Man Survive," "The Human Use of Urban Space and American Foreign Policy." A symposium on the Middle East conducted by the Institute of Nations is planned for fall and they hope to form a group to help expedite the building of a Novato campus of College of Marin.

Members currently have a communications section studying television programs and sections on books, creative writing, current events, drama, values, choral, gourmet and art workshop.

Officers elected to serve for two years terms are Mrs. Marvin Lemons, recording secretary and Mrs. David Hudson, corresponding secretary. Continuing for one more year are Mmes. Stewart Dickson, first vice president and program chairman; N. D. Kaufman, second vice president and membership chairman; and David Le Fevre, treasurer.

TREES TO GROW WITH BOYS

Sleepy Hollow Cub Scouts carefully ease a tree into the grounds at Sleepy Hollow School where all are fifth graders. The boys, Phillip Shumate (back to camera), Joseph Frey (left), Steven Popesta (center) and John D'Arcy and other members of Den 9, Pack 50, planted several trees at the school Wednesday, to culminate their three years as cubs, Principal Walter C. Dolan announced picnic tables and benches would be placed under the trees. The youngsters, who will care for the trees during the summer, will become Boy Scouts next fall. Pact Readied For Novato Housing

An amendment in a contract with the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development was approved last night by the Marin County Housing Authority, clearing the way for the authority to sign a contract with Smith and Haley Construction, Inc., for 40 senior citizens apartments in Novato.

Federal approval of the project means a $672,395 loan will be available for the project, Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman said.

Lacking a report by Marin Development Co. on the feasibility of leasing any of a proposed 17-unit development in Marin City, the authority postponed discussion of leasing the units for its leased housing program.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

WAGES — Increased maintenance wages by an average of 6.5 per cent. New wages are $4.80 an hour for foremen, $4.50 for subforemen, $4.24 for maintenance mechanics, and $3.23 for maintenance men.

MAINTENANCE — Hired a maintenance man at $3.64 an hour to work in the Homestead Terrace and Venetia Oaks senior housing projects.

SUBSIDY — Was told a new federal policy provides a $10 a month subsidy to the authority for tenants earning two-thirds or less of maximum incomes for admission to low-income housing. The subsidy will produce $8,000 a year for the authority.

ROOMING HOUSE — Told Stutsman to ask the housing department in Washington if a program might be approved for units sharing cooking facilities. The San Francisco office has rejected the idea, Stutsman said.

Open Space Sought In Apartment Plans

Matthew Farr, owner of two acres between Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, presented plans last night to the Fairfax Planning Commission for a 48-unit apartment development.

Chairman Albert R. Gately said the commission asked Farr to provide more open space in the development and return at the next commission meeting, June 26.

The commission also asked that confusion surrounding the zoning of the property be resolved. Gately said the property had been zoned planned unit development, but the city council changed this district in 1967 to planned district development, which tightened procedural requirements.

The commission was uncertain whether Farr had to apply for rezoning before proceeding with development plans.

In other business last night, the commission denied a request by Phillip B. Lygren for a lot split at 64 Monte Vista Road, granted an application for a variance by James O'Leary for placement of a six-foot fence at 162 Meernaa Avenue and approved the variance application of Frank Healion for off-street parking at 8 Bolinas Road, but said he should seek a special use permit the city council for certain structural changes.

Heart Transplant At Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University Hospital has its 14th heart transplant patient today, Ralph Trout III, 33, who had suffered repeated attacks during the past four years.

A team of surgeons headed by Dr. Norman E. Shumway performed the transplant yesterday. The donor was not named.

Wolden's Son Sought By Police

HILLSBOROUGH (AP) — Police hunted today for Russell Wolden III, 25, son of San Francisco's onetime assessor, in connection with a $180,000 jewel theft.

The jewelry was stolen April 3 from dress manufacturer Adolph Schuman and police have arrested Jack F. Hansen, 31, and Raymond L. Cirelli, 24, on charges of receiving stolen property. Both live in Redwood City.

Wolden's father was convicted of bribery and sentenced to prison in 1966. Since then he has been freed on probation because of poor health.

The city of Cullman, Ala., had no traffic fatalities in 1968.

FTC Accuses Tobacco Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Tobacco Co. has been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of misrepresenting the amount of harmful tar in three of its leading brands of cigarettes.

The brands named are Pall Mall Gold 100s, Pall Mall Menthol 100s and Lucky Filters.

The FTC action—with one member abstaining—is aimed at forcing American to halt the advertising campaign which the majority contends fails to disclose material facts and "created the impression that its cigarettes are low in tar."

Newspaperability

Did you know that women shop twice for every article of clothing they buy? First in the paper...and then in the stores. In fact, 8 out of 10 women look to newspaper ads for "fashion and style" information before they go shopping.

If you sell clothes, you need to run ads in the paper. Your competitors are doing it. In fact, retailers all over America will spend nearly 4 billion dollars this year on newspaper advertising. The average department store puts 88 percent of its advertising budget into newspaper ads; women's specialty shops, 86 percent. They wouldn't be doing it if it weren't working.

In an average week, about 30 women in 1,000 buy a new dress. So to sell 100 dresses, you must reach 3,300 women? How? In the newspaper...the only medium that reaches almost all women.

Like to see more empty hangers at the end of a day's selling? Reach your customers on their first shopping expedition each day—in the paper. That's what we mean by Newspaperability.

Mantovani Gives Beatles Credit

The 64-year-old musician, speaking yesterday at an awards luncheon for Britain's pop music industry, declared:

"I owe my continued success to the Beatles and the other groups. They are all alike and sound more or less the same. They are so loud that anything I play is like a breath of fresh air."

Marin Soloists Due In Youth Orchestra

Three Marin teen-agers will appear as soloists for the San Francisco Symphony's Youth Concert at 10:30 a.m. June 5 at College of Marin.

Flutist John Tomlinson and hs sister, Carol, a violonist, and pianist Joan Franzini will perform the first movement of Bach's Brandenburg Concerto 5.

Tomlinson, a junior at Terra Linda High School, has been a member of the Marin Youth Orchestra for four years and has been studying flute for five years with Merrill Jordan of Kentfield.

His sister, an eighth grader at Miller Creek Junior High School, has been a member of the youth orchestra for three years and has studied under William Pynchon of San Francisco for four years. In 1968 she was a finalist in the Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians' Contest and is a 1969 winner of a Pacific Musical Scholarship.

Miss Franzini is a junior at San Domenico School for Girls San Anselmo and studies under Faith France at the school. She is also a member of youth orchestra and has won a Marin Music Chest Scholarship.

Music Courses Set At College

Two new courses will be offered by the College of Marin music department this summer.

A string instrument workshop will be taught by Charles Meacham from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. The class will deal with solutions to playing problems in the performance of orchestral and chamber music literature.

Elementary musicianship, the other new course, will meet from 8 to 9:30 a.m. daily. The class is a pre-theory course for music majors and minors.

Social Security Pay Record In December

A record $1,525,000 in monthly Social Security benefits was being paid to Marin residents at the end of December 1968, an increase of 4.4 per cent above the amount payable at the end of February, 1968, according to Ed Leuin, district manager.

In Marin, 3,361 persons under 60 are receiving benefits, including 1,872 under 18; 503 between 18 and 21, and 986 between 22 and 59, he said.

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of five years in central and East Africa, capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. The photographer records some awesome scenes. Incredible —a must see.

"Gone With the Wind" — Famous film classic now transposed to super screen with sterophonic sound remains one of the landmarks in American film making.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each one has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Changes" — A film about a youth searching for answers. He is a taker and never a giver; his immaturity prevents him from assuming respnsibility.

"Charge of the Light Brigade" — Realistic expose of the stupidity of war. An historical spectacle; cast is excellent, photography is exceptional.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Raucous replay of the low comic world of burlesque of the 1920's.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Sam Whiskey" — A western comedy suspense thriller about returning stolen gold to the mint undetected.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say aduls only)

"Coogan's Bluff" — Lawman from Arizona goes to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. There is much violence and explicit sex.

ADULTS ONLY

"Barbarella" — Sex-oriented science fiction tale portrays a bizarre world of erotic situations, sadism and nudity. Film well furnished with grotesque characters and gimmicry.

"Fanny Hill" — Tells of life within brothel.

"Marat Sade" — Play within a play by a superlative case. Engrossing drama of startling originality. Inmates in an asylum perform in a play as therapy but it has a reverse effect on them. A chilling, disturbing viewing experience.

"Night of the Following Day" — Taut thriller melodrama about internal pressures among four criminals during a kidnapping. Morbid violence, sadistic brutality with an illogical ending.

"Stolen Kisses" — Sophisticated French drama about young man who is a misfit gaining his maturity.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Where It's At" — Owner of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas trains his son too well in the shady business practices used to build his fabulous wealth and gets double-crossed by him.

Toll Plaza Session On Legislation

Legislation affecting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will be reviewed by the district's legislation-public relations committee at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday in district offices at the toll plaza.

Following this meeting, the rules and policy committee will consider a policy barring all public demonstrations on or near the bridge. Several recent demonstrations, including welcoming ceremonies for returning warships, have slowed traffic on the bridge.

Salary and wage increases for employees will be considered by the finance-auditing committee at 9 a.m. Thursday, and the full board will meet at 10 a.m. Its agenda includes action on an $11,500 bicycle from the Marin anchorage to Fort Baker, recognition of labor unions as bargaining agents for employees, a $75,000 engineering study for a new roadway west of the toll plaza and a proposal that the district seek federal funds for a master plan of its future.

The display will continue until the end of this month.

Flood Board Set To Resign For New Supervisor

Southern Sonoma's new county supervisor — when he is appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan — will have the opportunity to appoint a whole new set of flood control advisers from his district.

Members of the Petaluma Basin Zone 2A Flood Control Advisory Committee have agreed to offer their resignations to the new supervisor to give him a chance to pick his own advisers.

Southern Sonoma's seat on the county board of supervisors will become vacant June 30 when the resignation of Leigh Shoemaker takes effect. Shoemaker has resigned because of ill health.

The decision to offer the new supervisor the committee's resignation was made at the suggestion of chairman Herb Bundesen at a recent meeting of the flood control advisers.

Joerger, who is the city council's liaison with the flood control panel, would not be affected by the resignations because he is appointed by the council.

Congressional Report At County Library

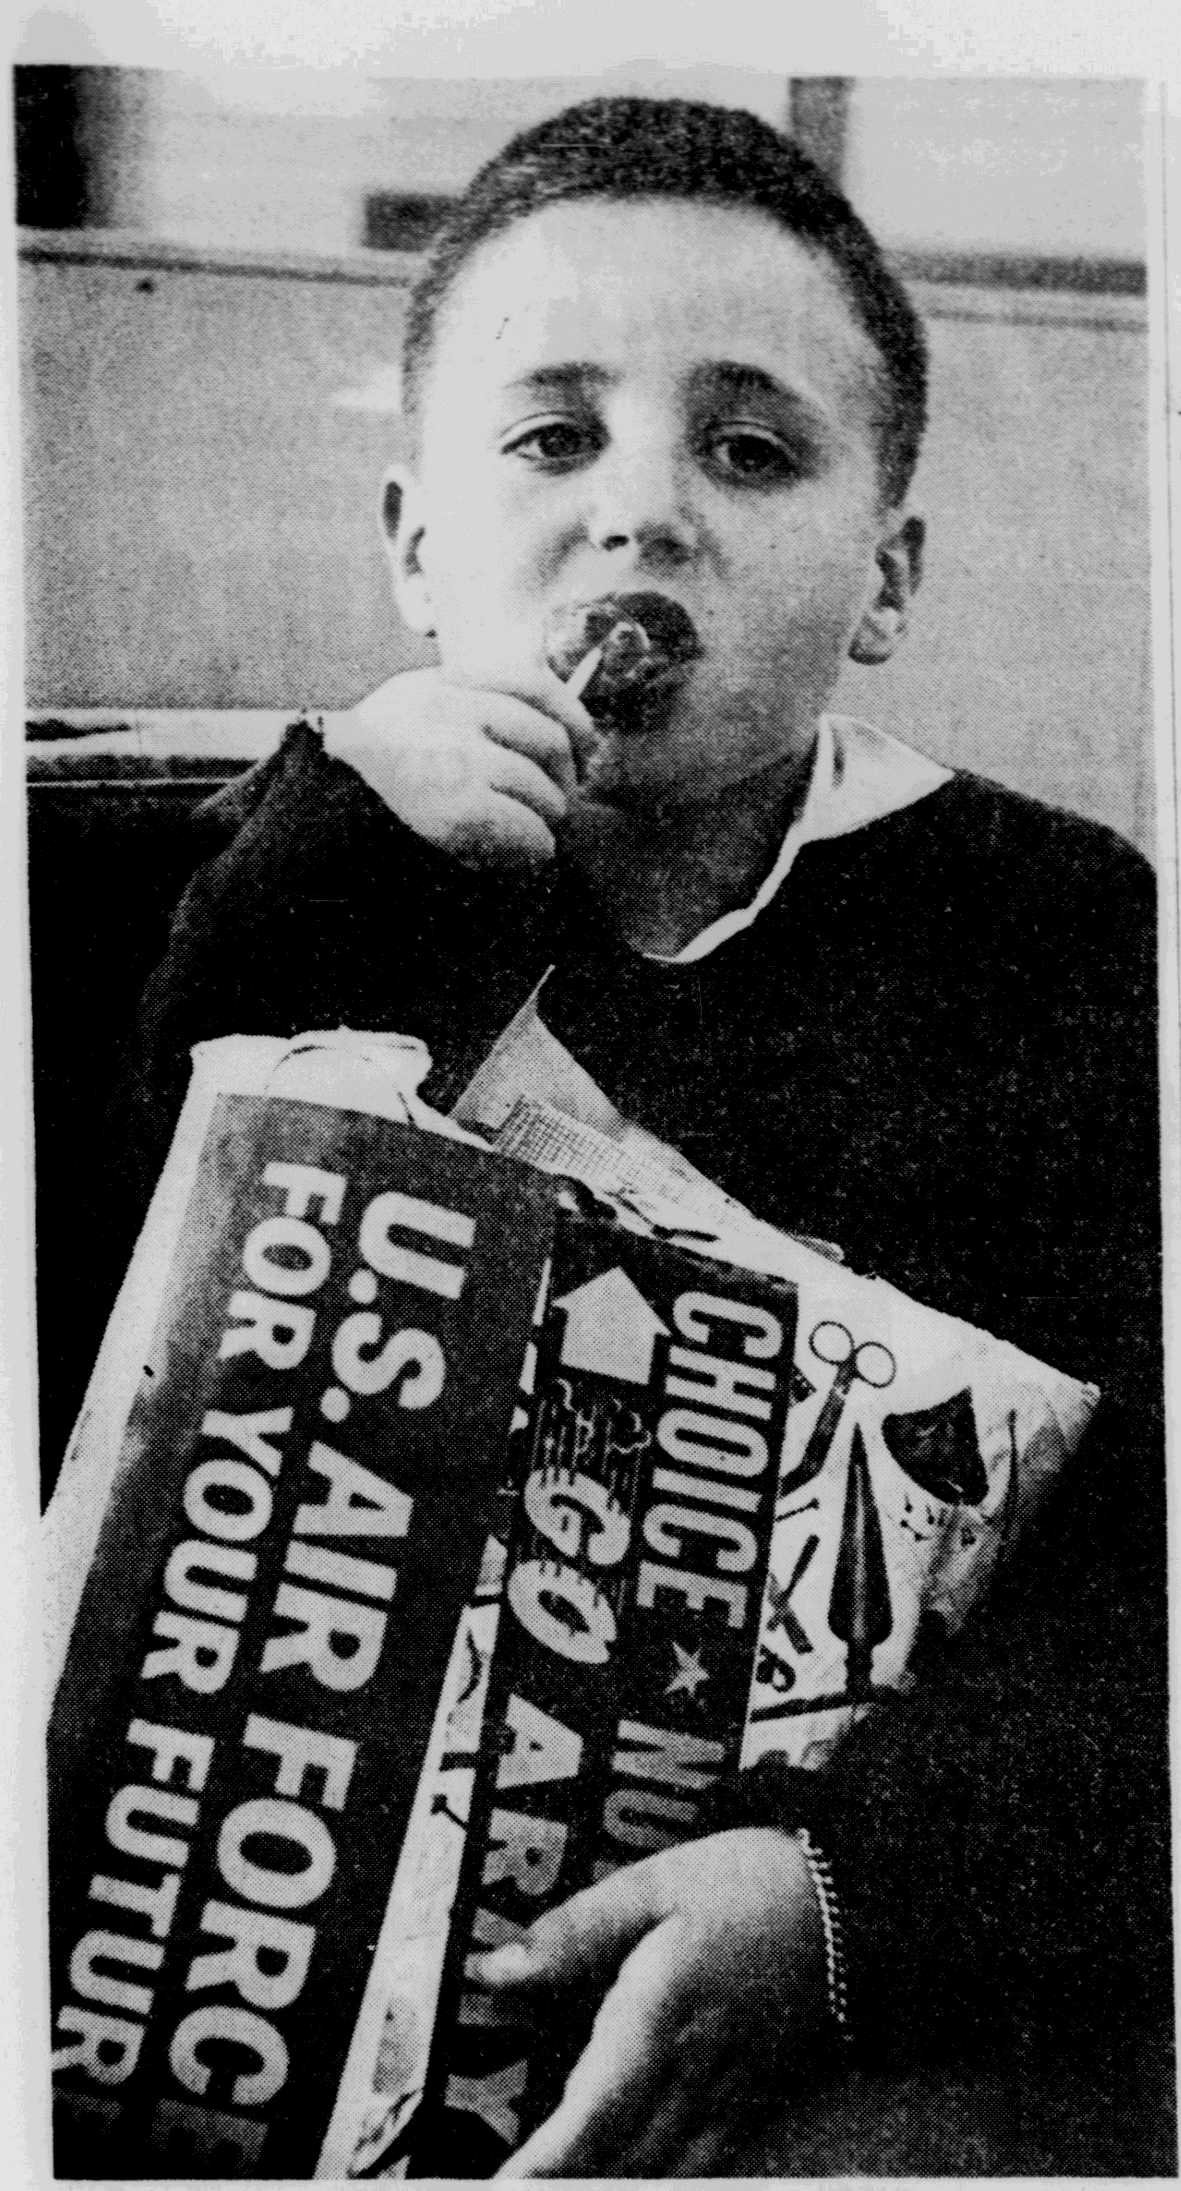
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY



HE COUNTED THE LICKS

One of the vexing questions of our age has been, how many licks in one of those round candy pops? Well, Paul Panichelli, 8, stopped by the Independent-Journal news room the other day to report it had taken him "a little over 4,000" licks to eat one of the pops. Four thousand licks seem like a lot, but Paul, only 8, says he has a small tongue. "It took me an hour and a half," said Paul, who lives at 7 F Street, San Rafael, and attends St. Raphael's School. The stickers on Paul's books were gifts from the armed services recruiters at the Mission Post Office. "One of the sergeants gave me a badge, too," Paul said. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Two Juvenile Hall Escapers Arrested

Two escapees from Marin Juvenile Hall were arrested early today on a woody hillside in San Rafael after stealing a car and committing three burglaries, police said.

Police said the youths, James Joseph Ghilotti, 15, of 32 Ridgewood Drive and James Charles Kisling, 16, of 325 Ironstone Court, both San Rafael, have escaped from juvenile hall numerous times and boasted upon their arrest today could leave the facility at will.

The pair was caught a short distance from Ghilotti's home, hiding behind an embankment. A neighbor had telephoned police after hearing a loud noise shortly after 1 a.m. and seeing the youths running with sleeping bags under their arms.

Police said the sleeping bags came from the home of William A. Muzinich at 106 Reservoir Road, which was allegedly entered by the youths shortly after they escaped from the hall Wednesday night and stole a car in Marinwood.

The stolen car was recovered shortly after 9:30 a.m. yesterday in front of 162 Maywood Way. A witness said she had seen the pair crawling along the porch of the home at 162 Maywood and police, checking the home, were told by Caroline A. Arnett, 14, who lives there, that she was in the home when the youths broke in, but hid from them.

Nothing was apparently taken from the Arnett home, but police said the youths also broke into the home of attorney Frank B. Peebles at 31 Maywood Way yesterday, ransacked the residence and walked off with $11 in nickels.

When caught, police said, Kisling was carrying $6.10 in nickels, a glass cutter and a screwdriver.

Returned to Juvenile Hall, the youths were booked on suspicion of burglary, escape and auto theft.

Ministers Urge Reagan Peace Move

Ministers and priests at three southern Marin churches have written Gov. Ronald Reagan, urging him as "the stronger party" to make the first move toward peace in Berkeley by withdrawing the National Guard.

They wrote: "The presence of National Guardsmen in Berkeley at this time heightens the tension and should be removed . . .

"We are also convinced that the University of California is capable of dealing with the present crises, and that the authority of the state is better expressed through the university than through the outside police power."

MASS ARRESTS NAB MARINITES

College Of Marin Student Candidate, Campus Editor In People's Park Roundup

Richard William Beban, 21, Times editor, and James Kimo Campbell, 22, running for president, were in the group of 461 adults and 43 juveniles who were ringed by National Guard troops in the mass arrest, said officers.

Berkeley Police Lt. Darrell Hickman reported that Campbell and Beban were booked into Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center at Pleasanton between 1 and 7 p.m. on suspicion of obstructing traffic and unlawful assembly.

Bail on each was set at $800.

Beban lives with his mother, Mrs. Robert Beban of 10 Tarrant Court, San Rafael. Campbell, who is from Hawaii, lives at 1 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito.

Yesterday was the first mass arrest since demonstrations broke out on May 15.

Police herded the demonstrators, who were marching at noon from Sproul Plaza on downtown Berkeley, into a parking lot on Center Street half a block from the campus.

The marchers' purpose was reportedly to start a new people's park at Shattuck Avenue and Cedar Street.

Those arrested were placed in vans and taken to the Alameda County sheriff's facility at Pleasanton.

Both Beban and Campbell have been active in demonstrations against Army Corps of Engineers work on Tamalpais Creek in Kent Woodlands—part of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

They were pulled out of Tamalpais Creek by sheriff's deputies April 28 and booked into Marin County Jail with 36 others on suspicion of failure to disperse and trespassing.

Beban was also charged with resisting arrest, reportedly going limp when arrested.

The 38 defendants pleaded innocent May 7, a trial for 22 defendants being set for June 5 and one for the other 16 being set for June 19.

Both Campbell and Beban are on a slate in today's election; Campbell for president, Beban for treasurer, Bonnie Aby for secretary and George J. Shea for vice president.

Marin Boy Gets Achiever Award

Tony Symmes of 309 Tamalpais Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was the big winner last night as the 1969 Bay Area Junior Achievement Awards were presented at a banquet in the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Symmes, a student at Lick-Wilmerding High School in San Francisco, was chosen president of the year. He was president of a compmay called Plastiques. Counsellors of the company were Arthur Andersen and Co., accounting.

Tiburon City Manager Fair-Marin Finalist

Rose said yesterday only that he had been asked if he were interested in the job and had replied," "I might consider it."

He refused to comment whether he had actively sought the post. Saying he was busy and couldn't talk, he hung up the telephone.

Earlier, Rose said "that's not true" when asked if the fact he had been in the running for the Fair-Marin job meant he had begun to look around for another job.

However, Rose had also competed for the city manager job in Novato which was filled by Charles A. Brown, according to informed Novato sources.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning said Rose had not given any indication to him or other members of the city council that he was looking for another job. "He gives every evidence of being very happy," Fanning said.

Fanning said the council had not suggested that Rose seek employment elsewhere, but noted, "It is not unusual for a bright, dynamic person such as Larry to seek a better paying job in a larger city. After all Tiburon has a fence around it professionally."

Leon Kalimos, former executive director of the San Francisco Ballet, was named Fair-Marin manager on May 5 out of a field of 57 applicants and eight finalists. He will earn $16,000 a year.

Rose, who presently is paid $17,100 a year in Tiburon, has been city manager since Tiburon was incorporated in 1964.

Sewers Approved For Subdivision

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night approved an agreement to provide sewer service to Lucas Valley unit 7, a 47-lot subdivision on Lucas Valley Road at Mount Shasta Drive.

Accident Victim Dies Of Injuries

A retired San Quentin Prison correctional officer died early today of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car yesterday while crossing Third Street, west of Irwin Street, in San Rafael.

The victim, William F. Herrick, 66, of 199 Main Street, San Quentin, died at 1:20 a.m. in Marin General Hospital of multiple fracures and a head injury.

Police quoted the driver of the car, Donald C. Olsen Jr., 16, of 323 San Anselmo Boulevard, San Anselmo, as saying Herrick suddenly walked in the path of his westbound auto shortly after 7 p.m. Herrick was thrown by the impact.

Olsen, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School, said he was on his way home from his part-time job at G and R Motors in San Rafael when the accident occurred.

Police issued a call today for witnesses to the accident, including the driver of a blue or green late model van or bus that was alongside Olsen's car. Police said the driver of the vehicle left the scene without stopping.

Herrick's death was the 13th attributed to traffic accidents in Marin this year, compared to 11 at this time last year.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Herrick today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Student Musicians Set Sunday Festival

The San Rafael schools' 22nd annual Instrumental Musical Festival will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

About 900 youngsters from grades four through 12 will perform. Recipients of private study and group music awards will be announced at the program.

BEFORE PLANNERS

Children Oppose Change Of Market

A move to replace a neighborhood grocery store with a franchise-store operation in San Rafael's Sun Valley today brought a protest from the jawbreaker and bubble gum set.

Before the San Rafael Planning Commission for public hearing next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in city hall will be applications by Joseph L. Giomi of 15 Eye Street to rezone two areas adjoining the Sun Valley Market at 2202 Fifth Avenue from residential to commercial, and for architectural approval and use permit for a Speedie 7-11 Store and adjoining shops to replace the existing market.

Seven youngsters of the Sun Valley area today addressed a letter to the Independent-Journal, asking that it be printed. The letter said:

"We have head that the landlord of Sun Valley Market on Fifth and California wishes to tear down the present store building and put in a Speedie 7-11.

"As children of the neighborhood, we would like to say that we do not like the idea of Sun Valley store being changed. Our reasons for this are as follows: It is a very friendly store. We know the men that work there. It has been the same store for so many years that we wouldn't feel at home if they changed it. If it were a 7-11 store, there would be so many more people there that it wouldn't be as safe for little children. Also the children know they won't be cheated out of money, and the men that work there now treat us like people. They help us read our grocery lists from home when we get mixed up, and help us find things that we can't find."

The letter bore the names of Carol and Maggie Osborn, Sheri Nave, Pam Berner, Cathy O'Hern, Lisa and Jody Brunner.

The Sun Valley Market was built just after World War II. Walter Hammerman, who operates the meat department, has been there since the store was built. James C. Cook, the lessee, has been operating the market since 1949.

Mill Valley Police Nab Holdup Man

The first man to attempt to rob a Mill Valley bank or loan company since the early 1930s was captured yesterday by Mill Valley Police five minutes after he fled the Fidelity Savings and Loan Co. at 130 Throckmorton Avenue with $180.

Robert Walker, 48, of Menlo Park was booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of robbery, and turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation today for prosecution.

Police said Walker entered the bank at 3:17 p.m. and, simulating a gun in his pocket, ordered the three tellers, Eleanor Tiner, Teresa Horton, and Sheryl Higgins, into the safe.

After locking the women in the safe, Waller took $180 from one of the tellers' drawers and left the bank, police said.

However, during the initial confusion one of the women had managed to trigger the bank's silent burglar alarm and police arrived on the scene as Waller sped away.

Sgt. Douglas Stone chased Waller and stopped him on lower Miller Avenue near Almonte Boulevard.

Police department records indicate yesterday's robbery was the first financial institution robbery in the history of the city, but oldtimers around town recall one in the 1930's when two men were captured by police after robbing a bank.

Finance Deadline At Sonoma State

Students planning to attend Sonoma State College and to apply for financial aid should have all papers completed and in the college's office of financial aids by June 6, Dr. Marvin Dillon, dean of counseling, said yesterday.

Dillon said the college scholarship service will process applications for financial aid as long as funds are available, but stressed that it is likely all funds for the next academic year would be committed on the first round of awards.

He said a complete application must include the analysis of the parents' confidential statement of the college scholarship service as well as the college's application for financial assistance.

Achievement his year.

CREATIVE?
Then maybe you'll be the one to latch onto this great bargain we're offering for the first time this weekend. The present owners have started to remodel, but halfway thru the job, their plans have changed and this delightful, spacious, private, and very interesting home can be bought for a mere $17,500. Much of the heavy work is out of the way, and just a little effort would make this into a home worth much more than its modest price. Be the first to see it.

LOTUS LAND FAIRHILLS

Ever want to feel like an argonaut and sail through the straits of Scylla and Charybdis, be lured by the sirens, eat the fruit of the lotus, forget all your cares and live in happy indolence? This home, high atop Fairhills, brings to mind the old Greek myth.

We believe that not even the music of Orpheus could lure you away. Nor could Odysseus himself have escaped from this land of the Lotus. Your wife, too, will be captivated and enchanted. When she's not sharing the serene BBQ area with you, she'll be occupied in the kitchen "control center". You will not be disturbed when you retreat to your own wood paneled study. The children have not been overlooked. Separate bedrooms, of course, and even their own family room. And it is safe for them to play on over an acre of land, mostly level.

Many happy surprises await you — to name just one — built-ins galore. Now you've been warned. Set sail for this home and you'll never want to leave. So, bring your checkbook. Price $69,950.

BOATERS PARADISE MARINA VISTA

Here is the perfect family home that boasts 100-ft. frontage on a deep-water canal. Tie up to your own spacious dock—relax on your covered patio with the Bar-B-Q ready. You'll never tire of the view from all of the large rooms to your own back-yard Venice! The three bedrooms, two baths and big family kitchen lend comfort to this boat fancier's dream, close to the Marin Yacht Club. Most cooperative owner. $59,950.

LARGE FAMILY? LOS RANCHITOS

We have a large home for you. Complete privacy within and without for a very large family or for two families living together. This modern two-story home was designed for the owner with just that in mind. It is tremendous in every respect! The family room takes over the entire first floor — then up the stairs to a most unusual atrium suitable for dining the year around. The rest of the home includes five bedrooms and four and one-half baths, fashioned around the atrium center (which, incidentally, can be covered or open). Each room is accessible to an outdoor balcony encircling the house. The view is truly indescribable! $69,500.

DECORATOR'S DELIGHT SAN RAFAEL HTS.

Imagine a beautiful, custom-built home situated on a rustic and tranquil half acre. The four bedrooms and three baths include a deluxe master bedroom and Roman bath. Gold leaf tiling in the sunken living room is just one outstanding feature of this elegant home. You will spend many relaxing hours in the pool area, which is complete with cabana, BBQ pit, and a deck which completely surrounds the house. Owner will consider an all-inclusive deed of trust. HOW TO KEEP WELL

Retirement Communities Get High Marks From Residents

VAN DELLEN

It has been said that most older people prefer not to move in with their children. Studies have shown that they stay healthier and live longer if they remain in their own homes. Our modern retirement hotels and special apartments for the elderly are geared to their special needs.

WHAT ABOUT the retirement communities that are cropping up in Florida and the Southwest? Reports indicate that these complexes meet the needs of senior citizens, in that 90 per cent of the residents are reasonably satisfied. Seventy per cent are happier or as happy as they were before reaching old age or retirement. Only 2 per cent turned thumbs down on the entire idea.

RETIREMENT VILLAGES were selected for discussion because it means that the senior citizen must make a complete break with family, friends, and familiar surroundings.

These communities offer the advantage of moving to something, rather than from something. The majority do not regard themselves as decrepit and do not fear growing old. They have the personality, health, and finances to enjoy the facilities offered by a well planned retirement community. There is a place for persons from all walks of life and each seems to attract men and women of similar schooling and income.

THE WOMAN keeps house and the man putters about the garden. Reading is a popular diversion and so are radio and television. The men like to fish or play shuffleboard; the women love to gab, as always. These oldsters do not go for planned or rigid educational programs; they like their independence and do not want to be organized into Boy or Girl Scout troops.

Forty per cent attend church services regularly. Another 20 per cent attend at least once a month; women are more dutiful along this line. Ten per cent have part time jobs. Although many retired because of illness, 75 per cent say their health is so good, they need little medical care.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INFECTIVE AGENTS

A reader writes: What is the difference between viruses and bacteria?

REPLY

Both produce disease but bacteria usually are large enough to be seen under the ordinary microscope, and most viruses are not, unless an electron microscope is used. Viruses can live only within a cell whereas bacteria are found in secretions such as pus or in water or milk. There are other variants such as in the way they attack, multiply, and produce immunity.

Plea Entered In Battery Case

Douglas Stubbs, of 86 Benson Lane, is to appear in court at 9:15 a.m. June 5 for trial setting.

CHP Institutes New Tire Rules

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Highway Patrol put into effect today on an emergency basis new restrictions on the depth of tread on tires on public carrier buses and trucks.

Two legislators asked for the emergency action after a bus skidded out of control May 10 near Castaic on Interstate 5, killing three Girl Scouts.

The new regulations require at least one-sixteenth of an inch of tread on all tires of a bus. Formerly the tread depth restructions applied only to front tires of buses.

Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan said the new rules were put into effect now at the request of Sen. Walter W. Stiern and Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, both of Bakersfield. The rules will formally go into effect later this year after public hearings.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
The aid-to-families-with-dependent-children program is a welfare concept that is sometimes critized from two sides. Taxpayers may attack it as too expensive. Recipients may regard it as inadequate. And both sides may contend that it is improperly conceived or ineffectively executed. Marin County has been the scene of an unusual study of this welfare program by a task force consisting of both recipients and taxpayers, and Marin Magazine editor Don Keown reports on their findings tomorrow.
Movies made by 13-year-olds? Yes, and by Marin 13-year-olds at that. Furthermore, these young filmmakers get school credit for their creative endeavors. They are enrolled in the cinematography course at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael. And it is probably the only class of its kind on that level in Northern California and one of but a handful in the entire country. Tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports with story and pictures on this unusual entry in the San Rafael curriculum.

Drivers To Battle For Spots In Indianapolis Lineup

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — One of the biggest crowds in sports history, swollen by an estimated 250,000 holders of rain checks from last weekend, probably will see a historic battle tomorrow for the pole position in the 53rd 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The scheduled opening sessions last Saturday and Sunday, which might have filled the 33-car starting field, were a watery blank.

The No. 1 or pole position goes to the fastest driver on the opening day of the trials, now Saturday.

Best prospects for pole position winner and about $20,000 in special prizes that go with it, are three-time winner A. J. Foyt Jr., former national champion Mario Andretti or veteran Roger McCluskey.

That trio and Al Unser, who was sidelined by a motorcycle accident last weekend, have dominated three weeks of practice for the time trials Saturday and Sunday.

Andretti lost his original 500 car, a new Lotus-Ford, in a fiery wreck Wednesday but he came back yesterday in a Hawk-Ford and soon was running only a couple miles an hour slower than the 171.789 miles an hour he had done with the Lotus.

He was thoroughly familiar with the Hawk, his winning car in a USAC championship race at Hanford, Calif., April 13.

"It's hard to tell whether the Hawk has the potential of the Lotus," the Italian-born driver said. "The Hawk is lighter and has two-wheel drive to the Lotus's four-wheel drive.

"We'll just have to keep trying. We (the STP racing team) have a spare new Lotus but it's four days away from being ready to run.

"I just hope I can give A. J. a run for his money," Andretti said.

The 33 fastest cars of 76 at the track will be picked in 10-mile time trials this weekend and later if necessary.

Foyt has been fastest in practice at 172.315 in his Coyote-Ford.

McCluskey has done 170.283 in a Coyote-Ford. Before his accident, Al Unser had hit 169.141 in a Lola-Ford which Bud Tingelstad could get to only 164.144 Thursday.

Joe Leonard set the Speedway one-lap record of 171.953 in a turbine, oversized under this year's rules, while winning the 500 pole position last year. The San Jose driver turned in his best piston engine speed yesterday, 168.729 in an Eagle-Ford.

49ers Score Early Win Over Raiders

Well, here it is, only the 23rd of May, but already the San Francisco 49ers have scored a victory over the hated East Bay rival Oakland Raiders.

No, I don't mean a triumph in the sense of touchdowns on the professional football field. I mean the 49ers have whipped the Raiders in the publicity department. They've scooped the Oaklanders.

Late in April the long-established San Francisco club had its 1969 pre-season prospectus off the presses and into the hands of the news media, two full weeks before the Raiders had their pre-season outlook in print and distributed.

Since the 49ers are looking for speed in the backfield, I suggest they look no farther than their publicity department. If publicist George McFadden can carry the ball as fast as he types, the Niners may be the surprise of the NFL this season.

Busy Winning Championships

Of course, in fairness to Oakland, the Raiders' publicist has had a late start in recent seasons. His team has won league and division championships lately and have been busy during the post-season while McFadden, stuck with a perennial loser, has had plenty of spare time to prepare the team's prospectuses.

While the 49er outlook through McFadden's rose-colored specs is unrestrained optimism, the Raiders are a bit more subdued in spite of their recent success.

New head coach John Madden, at 32 the youngest head coach in pro football, looks to 1969 "with cautious optimism," according to the preliminary outlook. Much depends on the return of a large number of veterans who were injured in 1968, the story continues, "particularly all-league defensive stars Tom Keating and Kent McCloughan. Though not publicized nationally as much as other clubs, the Raider injury problem in 1968 was probably more severe than any team in pro football."

Raiders A Bit Modest

After going through a position-by-position analysis, too lengthy to detail here, the report concludes by saying the 1969 Western Division race will see "ever stronger competition from Kansas City and San Diego along with a young and improving Denver club and expansionist Cincinnati. In the east the world champion New York Jets will be challenged by the talented personnel of Buffalo and the tough defense of Houston. Boston is on its way back and Miami had a dangerous and explosive young club."

After rating Kansas City "the perennial western division favorite," the Raiders conclude: "Oakland's young football team must be more dynamic than ever in 1969 to maintain their present standard of excellence."

That's the Raiders — cautiously optimistic and a bit modest.

MENTION OF Kansas City Chiefs brings to mind that their reserve end, Reg Carolan, will be busy Sunday at the annual Drake High Scholarship Foundation benefit car show at Northgate Fashion Mall in Terra Linda. Carolan, a Drake High grad, is a new director of the Drake Scholarship Foundation Board.

A's, Orioles To Collide

BALTIMORE AP) — John "Blue Moon" Odom goes after his eighth victory of the season tonight when the Oakland Athletics open a three-game series with the Balitmore Orioles.

Jim Palmer, 5-2, will be on the mound for the Orioles, who lead the American League's Eastern Division. The A's enter the game one game ahead of the Minnesota Twins in leading the West.

So far, the current A's road trip hasn't been exactly triumphant. After winning one game from the Cleveland Indians, Oakland lost three straight, one to Cleveland and two to the New York Yankees.

Tonight's game will be the first meeting of the season between the Orioles and the A's.

Ex-49er Donnelly Signs With Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Safety George Donnelly, former University of Illinois player, signed with the Chicago Bears yesterday.

Donnelly was a first-round National Football League draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1965. He suffered a broken arm in 1966, played 12 games in 1967 and was inactive last season.

49ers Deal Miller To Giants

KNEE INJURY

Miller missed the last five games last season after he sustained a knee injury against the Chicago Bears. Bill Belk took over and was outstanding.

Tommy Hart, a rookie last year, is considered a future star by the Prospectors and has picked up 25 pounds since last season without losing any speed.

Toss in veteran Stan Hindman and Kevin Hardy, the 290-pound strong boy who can go at tackle or end, and it was clear the 49ers were trading from strength in swapping Miller.

Miller's knee is okay now and Coach Dick Nolan said it was in no way a factor in the trade. The 246-pound Miller was a star at Utah State and was a former defensive captain of the 49ers.

AW, SHUCKS—As you can tell, Jack Nicklaus missed this 40-foot birdie putt in first round of the Atlanta Classic golf tournament yesterday and finished with a score of 70.
(AP Wirephoto)

Fast Start For Arnie; Knudson, Cupit Lead

ATLANTA (UPI)—Wouldn't you know it. Arnold Palmer just gets through complaining about losing confidence in his golf game and the he goes out and shoots his best opening round in three months.

Palmer, using an old putter he had all but forgotten, shot a 4-under-par 68 in the opening round of the Atlanta golf classic and went into today's second round only one stroke behind co-leaders George Knudson and Jacky Cupit.

HOT STREAK

Knudson, a fun-loving Canadian who hasn't won since capturing the Phoenix and Tucson opens back to back last year, started out just as inconspicuously as Palmer yesterday. But then his putter also heated up and he picked up five birdies in an eight-hole span.

Cupit, youngest of the five Cupit brothers who are pro golfers, was less spectacular but just as effective with 34-33—67 to tie Knudson for the lead.

Bob Johnson, a young ex-stevadore from Tacoma, Wash., who is scheduled to lose his playing card June 1 for failing to make a respectable showing of late, and veteran Mason Rudolph, who started with three straight birdies, shared the 68 spot with Palmer.

Bob Lunn, the defending Classic champion, was in the 70 group along with Jack Nicklaus, young South African Bobby Cole, Miller Barber, Charles Coody, Hugh Royer, Fred Marti and Bob Shaw.

BETTER

At that, Nicklaus did better than a lot of the other "name" players in the $115,000 tournament. South Africa's Gary Player had a 72, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and Gardner Dickinson, winner of last week's Colonial Invitational, had 75s—and Doral champ Tommy Shaw, the man from Golf, Ill., had a 12-over-par 84.

Fifty players shot par or better yesterday over the hilly, 7,053-yard Atlanta County Club despire muggy heat that left them all wringing wet at the end of 18 holes.

Giants In Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Giants' pitching problems multiplied yesterday when Juan Marichal pulled a muscle on the right side of his groin, putting him on the sidelines for at least 10 days.

With the ace righthander out, three of the four San Francisco regular starting pitchers are now out with injuries.

HOSPITAL LIST

Ray Sadecki , who manager Clyde King hopes will be able to return to action over the weekend, is also out with a groin injury and Bob Bolin is sidelined with back trouble. Righty Rich Robertson will go for the Giants tonight against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Candlestick Park facing Dock Ellis, who has a 2-4 season record.

Marichal left yesterday's game in the sixth inning with the Giants leading the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1. St. Louis tied the game with an unearned run in the ninth and went on to win 8-3 after exploding for six runs off reliefer Joe Gibbon in the 11th inning.

Marichal said the muscle started to bother him in the sixth inning. "I thought I'd better get out of the game before it hurt worse," he said afterward.

The Giants also announced yesterday they have recalled infielder Tito Fuentes from their Phoenix club in the Pacific Coast League. To make room for him, Cesar Gutierrez was dropped.

Fuentes, who will report in time for tonight's game, leads the PCL in runs scored with 27 and hits with 52. His batting average is a neat .359 in 38 games and he has 24 runs batted in.

Tamalpais Golf Team 2 Under Par

Tamalpais High School's golf team shot a record-breaking 163 team score yesterday while defeating San Marin High of Novato, on the Mill Valley Municipal course.

The Tam five-man team, led by junior Jeff Devoto's three-under-par 30, finished the round two under par. It was Tam's 19th straight victory of the year, the Indians winding up the Marin County Athletic League with a winning 14-0 record.

The sub-par golf yesterday was a fine tune-up for next Thursday's 26-team Bay Area Tournament of Champions at Lake Chabot Golf Course in Oakland.

Sox Owner Predicts Merger For Baseball

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Arthur Allyn, owner of the Chicago White Sox, said yesterday the American and National baseball leagues will merge in the near future.

"The merging would result in three eight-team divisions," Allyn said. "The new setup would be called just 'baseball.' "

"There would be West, Central and Eastern divisions, and would be created on a geographical basis. A look at the map would provide the key as to the location of the respective teams," he told newsmen.

The White Sox owner said the thinking of "independent people" as well as those in baseball is along the lines of a merger.

He explained that the new structure would be headed by a president of baseball in the form of today's commissioner, and "with the same powers." The present commissioner is Bowie Kuhn.

"Under the restructuring, baseball would operate like a business, with a president and officers carrying on just as in a corporation," Allyn said.

"It would have a board of directors, composed of owners of the 24 teams."

There would be three regional playoffs leading to the title game. "It would be a round-robin affair," he said.

Softball Victory

Hamilton Air Force Base downed Salt's Fish and Chips 9-5 last night in the San Rafael Softball League's B Division at Albert Field. Bob Turley pitched a five-hitter and Bill Kirauc collected three hits to pace the winners.

Oakland Road Runner Has Two Flat Tires

OAKLAND — The A's delight in calling Bert Campaneris "one of the most exciting players in the game of baseball." Or at least they used to.

The 1969 season has thus far been hellish for the little Cuban shortstop. After only two dozen games, Campy was a tired 27-year-old. His weariness has the club worried, for Campy has — or at least had — latent Most Valuable Player potential. He was unquestionably the club's MVP a year ago. And he said then he was still learning the game's finer points.

BUT NOW, after the first swing around the Western Division, Campy was batting under .160 and, more startling, was the team leader in strikeouts. Yes, he'd whiffed even more than Reggie Jackson.

Against an assortment of Western hurlers (if you wish to call most of the Seattle staff hurlers), Bert was averaging nearly a strikeout a game. In the previous season he fanned only 68 times in 159 games.

THEN THERE'S the matter of base hits I or lack of them. Campy led not only the A's but the entire American League in base hits last year with 177. But now five other A's regulars have more safeties.

The slump symptoms are simple: He's not getting around on the ptich. Amazingly, the speedy fellow is not even bunting with competence. And, of course, he's not reaching base with sufficient frequency to win his fifth consecutive stolen base title in the American League.

CAMPY, AND the club, are paying for Winter baseball.

For several years he's sought permission to earn a few bucks on Latin diamonds in the winter. Management, fearful of an injured shortstop, always said not. Until last winter.

Bert had an opportunity to play with a club in Venezuela. It would be on a three-day-a-week basis only, and he was most eager to accept. Begrudgingly, permission was given.

THE SETUP seemed to be working out fine. Campy was playing his three days a week — ad hitting about .370. During spring training, Campy was an alert .350 hitter. But when the regular season opened, his steam expired.

Campy didn't get a hit until his 19th trip and had already struck out nearly 50 per cent of the time. Since that initial hit, things have gotten a little better. But not much.

HAD DANNY CATER, Dick Green and Sal Bando not been hitting in the early weeks, Oakland would have been in deep trouble minus the Campy oomph.

IF AND when his normal zest returns, and if this fascinating spurt of A's power continues, Oakland will then become a consistent winner. A couple here and a couple there aren't sufficient to take a division title — particularly when your Roadrunner has two flat tires.

No Favorite In Petaluma Auto Races

Lon Williams of Fremont has scored the lone double win of the season. Other veteran drivers such as Gary Pacheco, Union City; Tom Abreu, Castro Valley, and John Soares Jr., Oakland, have all demonstrated streaks of skill, but no one has been able to dominate . . . or even stay close to the leaders each race.

The competition from local drivers has also led to speculation. Art Mossi, Petaluma, won the first main event of the year, but hasn't done much since.

WORRIES LEADERS

Another Petaluman, Bob Potts, Potts, has given the point leaders plenty to worry about, and Robert Roy, Santa Rosa, placed escond last week.

The drivers will tune up for the big Memorial Day 100-lap main event this week.

Sportsmen drivers will run the usual 20-lap main.

The specialty of the night will be the mechanics' race for stocker drivers.

Stockers will also run a full schedule of races.

Qualifying is set for 7 o'clock and the first race gets underway at 8:15.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Astros Continue Winning Ways

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Apollo 10 Astronauts are flying around the moon and their National League counterparts, the Houston Astros, have finally gotten off the launching pad.

The Astros spent the first three weeks of the season in their final countdown while the rest of baseball was blasting off.

They played 23 games, managed exactly four victories and seemed to be permanently grounded.

Then along came May and the Astros started their engines. It all began when Don Wilson pitched his no-hitter against Cincinnati on May 1 and, happily for Manager Harry Walker, it shows no signs of stopping.

FOURTH WIN

Wilson won his fourth game last night, beating Montreal 7-4 for Houston's fifth straight victory and 14th in 18 games this month.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta bombed New York 15-3, St. Louis whipped San Francisco 8-3 in 11 innings, Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and blanked Los Angeles 3-0, and Pittsburgh whipped San Diego 7-1.

Jimmy Wynn's ninth home run of the season gave Wilson a quick two-run lead against the Expos and then the Astros added three more in the second.

Joe Morgan, who singled home one of the second inning runs, doubled for two more in the seventh.

Wilson coasted with a 7-3 lead into the ninth but three Montreal hits including a homer by John Bateman knocked him out. Fred Gladding nailed down the victory.

It was the seventh straight loss for the Expos, who got three runs in the fourth on a pair of errors by Wilson and Doug Radar and a two-run single by Bob Bailey.

18 HITS

Atlanta collected 18 hits including homers by Hank Aaron, Felix Millan and Clete Boyer to wallop New York. Five Met pitchers absorbed the battering.

Aaron's two-run shot in the first inning was the 519th of his career.

MARIN, SONOMA GOLF

Rare Double Eagle By Former Tam Ace

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Rick Patterson, former golfing whiz at Tamalpais High School, just has to like that 510-yard second hole at San Geronimo National course.

Patterson, who is working for pro Bob Ellsworth at the San Geronimo links, only took two swings the other day on the par five hole. After getting off a drive of more than 300 yards, dead-eye Rick took out his trusty five-iron and banged in the ball from about 185 yards out for a very rare double eagle.

Patterson, who is planning to attend College of Marin in the fall, was playing an evening round of nine with assistant pro Bill Henderson and club member Stu Simmons of Sleepy Hollow. Rick ended up with a three-under-par 33.

THEN THERE'S Dean Hamilton who only took three clubs with him — 3-wood, 7-iron and putter — and shot a 39 over nine holes at San Geronimo.

PETRINI MARKETS of Greenbrae, San Francisco and Hillsdale will be holding its first Petrini Invitational tournament on Memorial Day on the San Geronimo National course.

Ten foursomes will be competing in the blind bogey event. Following the morning play, golfers will have an awards luncheon at 1 p.m.

THE 40 GOLFERS in the Director's Cup tournament at Rohnert Park Municipal will be playing the final 18 holes of the 36-hole tourney Sunday beginning at 8:30 a.m. It's a low net tourney, with full handicaps being used.

SEMIFINALS of the Peacock Gap Spring Handicap Tournament are scheduled tomorrow at the San Rafael course. Finals will be held the following Saturday, May 31.

INDIAN VALLEY'S Men's Golf Club at Novato is holding its big invitational tourney this weekend, 80 players (40 teams) in the best-ball twosome event.

A shotgun start today (players starting on all of the 18 holes) forced the course to be closed to open play this afternoon. Tomorrow's play will start at 8 a.m.

WALLY SCHMOKER is the latest member of the Indian Valley Men's Golf Club to join the exclusive "Ace" club. Wally, a 10-handicapper, scored his hole-in-one on the 135-yard fourth hole, and he was using his trusty eight-iron.

GOLF CLASSES for youngsters and another set for women only are coming up at San Geronimo National. The junior classes, for boys and girls aged 8 to 16, will be limited to the first 100 to sign-up and is FREE. The classes will be held June 16, 23 and 30, but youngsters will need to furnish clubs because there are not enough spares to go around.

The classes for women will start June 18, and will be held on Wednesdays and Thursdays, for both beginners and advanced golfers. Charge is $2 per classes, and it's a six-class series. Sign-ups for all classes will be taken in the San Geronimo pro shop.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Comer Stars For Seattle

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wayne Comer's claim to fame as the indispensible warm-up man for Mickey Lolich during last year's World Series appears over. Instead of warming up pitchers, he is making himself known by wearing them out.

After 6½ years in the minor leagues and portions of two seasons in the majors, Comer is making some noise as a hitter with the Seattle Pilots.

Washington heard from him last night when he rapped a three-run homer and a two-run double that boosted the Pilots to a 7-6 victory over the Senators. The five runs batted in gave him two more than he had last year with the Tigers.

IMPROVEMENT

In fact, the night gave him 23 RBI and six homers, along with a .253 batting average, far better than his .125 with Detroit.

Comer's outburst highlighted a night for hitters as not one American League pitcher managed to go the distance. In the other games, the Chicago White Sox jumped on Denny McLain for a 7-3 victory over Detroit, Baltimore trimmed Minnesota 6-2, Cleveland stopped Kansas City 4-1 and, in the afternoon, Boston added to California's woes with a 4-3 victory. The New York Yankees and Oakland were idle.

Comer, a 25-year-old right-hander who batted only three times for the Tigers in 1967 and 48 times last season, did get a hit in his only at bat during the series, but it was his success as a warm-up catcher for which he received special notice.

SUPERSTITIOUS

Lolich won his first two games in the series with Comer catching him between innings, and when Comer didn't show before one inning of the final game, the superstitious Lolich refused to throw. He wanted only Comer.

Comer finally arrived and Lolich went on to win the deciding game.

But Comer never stood a chance of breaking into the power-packed Tigers' outfield, and off he went in the expansion draft to Seattle, where he has found a home.

His double in the third inning gave the Pilots a 4-2 lead. When the Senators pulled ahead 5-4 on Mike Epstein's 11th homer and sixth in five games with a man on and Ed Stroud's run-scoring hit, Comer came back with his three-run blast in the seventh.

The White Sox wasted little time handing McLain his fourth setback against six victories as they scored four times in the first inning, two on Bill Melton's homer.

COMBINE

Frank Robinson hit his 12th homer in the sixth inning and then singled in the tie-breaking run in a five-run seventh in Baltimore's seventh victory in eight games. Reliever Dick Hall, 3-1 got the victory after starter Jim Hardin failed to retire a batter as the Twins took a 2-0 lead.

Starter Horacio Pina's, first major league hit drove in the first run of a three-run second inning—Jose Cardenal's hit and a bases loaded walk drove in the others—and Ray Fosse added his first major league homer in the eighth for Cleveland.

A SAVE

Reggie Smith's two out single, only the third hit for Boston, drove in the winning run for the Red Sox in the ninth inning against Hoyt Wilhelm, 2-4 as California dropped its seventh straight.

Ray Jarvis, 2-1, was the winner in relief.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Let's Review Laws About Falconry

Each year at this time a number of questions are asked of me concerning birds. One question asked by kids generally is, "What birds are legal to shoot?".

Section 3800 of the California Fish and Game Code names the nonprotected birds as English sparrows, crows, California jays, Stellar's jays and starlings. All the other birds are protected. Certain game birds have open and closed seasons.

Non-game birds are protected by other sections of the state Fish and Game Code. Hawks and owls come under the protected non-game bird list, though some listed below may be used in "falconry."

FALCONRY is the use of birds (called raptors) to hunt other birds or game. There are four true falcons in California — Peregrine Falcon, Prairie Falcon, Pigeon Hawk and Sparrow Hawk. Some hawks and some owls also are used in falconry.

The term raptor means birds with talons and hooked beaks suited for seizing prey, and includes the true falcons, hawks and eagles. Condors and the vultures are also raptors, but are generally not used as hunters. The practice of falconry is legal under Section 395 of the Fish and Game Code.

Here are some laws pertaining to falconry:

1. It is unlawful to possess or train a hawk or an owl for falconry, except under a falconry license. (cost $15).

(a) No license shall be issued to any person under age 16.

b) The following species may not be captured, possessed, or used in the practice of falconry: bald eagle, golden eagle, osprey, whitetailed kite, and all owls except the great horned owl.

(c) Raptors of species which are native to North America may be brought into California for the purpose of falconry under the provisions of a written permit from the Department of Fish and Game.

(d) No licensee shall at any time possess more than two raptors, and this shall include those that may be imported.

(e) Raptors which are legally obtained elsewhere may be imported into California only under terms and conditions of a permit which may be issued by the Department of Fish and Game.

(f) Licensees may take immature or fledging raptors from nests, except prairie falcons and peregrine falcons. Not more than one immature or fledging raptor may be taken from one nest by a permittee. Raptors may be taken by traps or nets which are humane in their operation and use. Raptors may be captured by traps or nets only between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, and no adult raptor may be captured by any other means except during such specified period. These regulations do not permit the taking of raptors in any national or state park, or in any area in which local laws prohibit such activity.

(g) Licensees shall have in possession a valid falconer's license when engaging in the practice of falconry. In addition, falconers loosing their falcons at game birds or mammals shall have in possession a valid hunting license. Licensees shall also buy pheasant tags prior to loosing falcons at pheasants.

(h) Each licensee shall abide by the Fish and Game Code and all seasons, bag limits, hunting hours, and other regulations of the Fish and Game Commission when practicing falconry on game speices. Falcons may not be loosed at any protected non-game bird or fully protected bird.

(i) Prairie falcons and peregrine falcons may not be taken in California. These falcons, legally obtained elsewhere, may be imported under the terms and conditions of a permit issued by the Department of Fish and Game. The department must be notified of possession.

(j) No licensee shall transfer ownership or possession of any raptor taken or possessed under the provisions of these regulations without first obtaining written permission from the Department of Fish and Game.

Section 3503 of the Fish and Game Code states: "It is unlawful to take, possess or destroy the nest or eggs of any game bird or nongame bird."

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Stewart To Run Tomorrow; Time Change In Meet

MODESTO (AP) — The time schedule for the California Relays here tomorrow has been moved back one hour to facilitate the televising of the event, meet director Tom Moore announced yesterday.

Moore said field events will begin at 1 p.m. instead of 2 p.m., track events at 4 p.m. instead of 5 p.m. and opening ceremonies would be held at 5 p.m. instead of 6 p.m.

The state junior College championships will be held in conjunction with the meet. College of Marin's George Stewart will be running in the mile and two-mile events.

Moore said the television crew asked for the changes so there would be light available during more of the events.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

One False Move Can Mean End Of Chance For A Grand Slam

One false move cost a great player a grand slam in today's hand, part of a collection of World Championship hands now being assembled by Parker Brothers for use with the Autobridge board. The victim was Massimo D'Alelio during one of the qualifying matches in the 1964 Bridge Olympics.

TAKES QUEEN

D'Alelio took the queen of hearts, discarded a spade on the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of spades and ruffed a spade. He got to dummy with the king of clubs to ruff another spade, led a trump to the ace and ruffed dummy's last spade.

South then cashed his own high trump, hoping that both opponents would follow suit. If so, he could claim the rest of the tricks.

Since East still had a trump, D'Alelio had to get to dummy to draw the last trump. He cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy, but East had discarded a club on the fourth round of spades and was therefore able to overruff dummy. Down one.

SAD HAND

It was a very sad hand, and if you want to reach for the crying towel, go right ahead. But don't cry too hard, because Italy recovered from this blow and won the world championship anyway.

D'Alelio should have made his grand slam by proper play of the hearts and spades. He should have begun by taking all three high hearts, discarding both of the low spades from his hand. He could then ruff dummy's three low spades without having to cash the ace of spades first.

East would follow suit to three rounds of spades without getting a chance to discard a club, and South would evenutally ruff a club safely in dummy in order to draw East's last trump. Only then, at the 13th trick, would it be correct to cash the ace of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♥ 10
♦ K J 5 3 2
♣ A 10 9 6 5.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The hand is not worth an opening bid in standard bidding systems. In the system used by Massimo D'Alelio and Cammillo Pabis-Ticci in the 1964 Bridge Olympics, an opening bid of 2-no-trump promised five clubs and five diamonds with slightly less than the high-card strength normally needed for an opening bid.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 23, the 143rd day of 1969 with 222 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1945, Nazi secret police chief, Heinrich Himmler, committed suicide three days after being captured by British troops.

In 1960, Israeli agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina. Spirited back to Israel, Eichmann was convicted of being a mass killer of Jews in World War II and was hanged.

In 1965, the Organization of American States set up a peace-keeping force in the Dominican Republic to stand between rebel and loyalist factions.

A thought for the day: Henrik Ibsen said, "I hold that man is in the right who is most closely in league with the future."

Memorial Day Trip For Youth

A day at Disneyland has been scheduled for San Rafael High School seniors on Memorial Day. The trip will be sponsored by a group of seniors headed by Marc Litchfield, student body president.

A chartered bus will leave the high school at 10 p.m. Thursday and return about midnight next Friday.

Chaperones are being sought for the trip and persons who can assist may call the high school for additional information.

Market Backs Off Slightly

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks backed off slowly today in moderately active trading.

Normal pre-weekend, evening-up pressures and some bearish economic news items, including a slackening in mid-May car sales, reduced retail sales last week and a seasonal slowdown in industry steel ordering, were depressing factors.

Oils were mixed after several issues rose sharply earlier in the week in response to their oil ventures in Alaska and in the East Indies.

Steels generally backed off. Chemicals also were in slow retreat in the absence of new constructive factors.

Motors were mixed. Rails and airlines also traded on both sides of previous closings, but in relatively narrow ranges.

Lockheed recovered a bit after sliding several points earlier in the week when the Army canceled the firm's contract to build a new helicopter gunship.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Drug Holdings Look Good For Long-Term Increases

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We would like to invest $2,000 and then $75 montiy toward our son's education eight years away. Can you advise what stock and industry to start with? — T. M.

A. The strong growth trend of the health-care industry seems well-suited to your needs. Americans in the last eight years have doubled their spending for medical care. And a strong case can be made for similar expansion in the next eight years. More than 80 per cent of the population has medical insurance; hospital construction has reached a $2.5 billion rate annually, and by 1975 Medicare will cover 20 million people with Medicaid available for an additional 35 million. While major drug company stocks will not emulate the flamboyant performance of nursing home issues, sales of their products should grow at an 8 per cent to 10 per cent annual rte. In spite of political pressure, the drug industry is still one of the more profitable, with margins remaining around 10 per cent.

Because government standards for drug clearance are strict, costs involved in proving a new drug are substantial. Although this has tended to reduce the number of new drugs, those which have been marketed are of greater significance. More recently, combination products have come under fire and certainly some will be banned.

Specifically I like Sterling Drug, an important producer of proprietary as well as ethical drugs. Its nonprescription products — about 35 per cent of sales — include Bayer Aspirin and Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Analgesic drugs are a major product line. Broadening this line of well-known painkillers such as Demerol, Sterling introduced in 1967 a potent nonaddictive injectable drug, Talwin. A tablet form was approved this year by the FDA and should generate a good boost to sales. Another product — Sulfamylon, for treatment of severe burns — was cleared for sale this year. Overseas marketing of a vaccine to relieve the 200 million people afflicted with snail fever should begin this summer.

Earnings, which were $1.23 a share in 1968, are expected to reach $1.40 this year.

World Airways Reports Gain In Earnings

OAKLAND (BW) — World Airways has reported a gain in consolidated earnings for the first quarter of 1969.

Edward J. Daly, president of the company, said net income for the company and its subsidiaries was $3,415,000 for the 1969 first quarter, compared with $3,229,000 for the 1968 period.

On a per share basis, earnings were 34 cents vs. 32 cents for the respective quarters.

Airline revenues for the three months were $20,509,000, compared with $21,524,000 for the 1968 first quarter.

Shareholders' equity in World Airways at the end of the first quarter increased to $54.9 million, against $42.8 million for the same period last year.

SCHOOLYARD RACE STRIFE REPORTED

A 14-year-old white Sausalito girl was assaulted twice yesterday within a half-hour at Martin Luther King School in Sausalito because she had refused to attend a class given by controversial black teacher William Chaka, her mother claimed today.

Mrs. Wanda Fudge told the Independent-Journal that a group of 11 black boys and girls at the school attacked her daughter, Diana, on the school grounds during the lunch hour. She said they knocked her to the ground and, while three girls dragged her across the field by the hair, the other eight kicked and hit her.

Another boy and girl, companions of Diana, were threatened by the group, Mrs. Fudge said, and the boy was knocked to the ground and kicked when he attempted to come to her aid.

The attack ended, according to Mrs. Fudge when one of the school's yard supervisors appeared and sent the black students to the school office and briefly discussed the incident with Diana.

School Principal Robert Thompson said no complaint had been filed with the school office as of this morning and that to his knowledge, neither of the yard supervisors knew of the incident nor had they sent the black students to the office.

He did say, however, that the incident was called to his attention later in the day by a teacher who expressed concern that Diana had been "pushed around in the hall by black students. "The teacher drove Diana home after school to avoid further incidents," Thompson said.

Mrs. Fudge said she planned to discuss the matter with school officials later today.

Approximately 20 minutes after the first incident, Mrs. Fudge said, Diana started to walk to her first afternoon class and "she looked up and saw the hall full of black students," according to Mrs. Fudge, and the same group of students who had assaulted Diana earlier started choking her, hitting her head and kicking her. Another larger group of black students stood by and watched, she said.

After a few minutes the group broke up when a teacher approached and Diana went to her class.

Both incidents were the latest in a series of confrontations between Diana and the black students during the past few weeks, her mother said.

Mrs. Fudge attributes the incidents to "hatred stirred up" by Chaka.

Diana has been attending school in Sausalito for the past four years, is "well liked by both black and white students" and had no particular problems until Chaka 'stirred up this hate in the black students," Mrs. Fudge said, adding that black students leave his class wanting to hurt a white student, "any white student."

She believes that Diana has

PSYCHEDELIC BROOM

Sausalito's Vina Del Mar Plaza rarely has been so clean as since the hippies who cluster there acquired this push broom. Frank Russo, a hippie leader, bought the broom Wednesday with money donated by merchants, and built the stand. During the day, it stands available for any who feel moved to use it, and at night Russo takes it home so it won't be stolen. Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean could not even find any trash to use for a prop.

Tam Creek Floods As Vandals Wreck Pump

Order Prevents Repair

Vandals who wrecked two pumps on the Tamalpais Creek portion of the Corte Madera Creek project last night have already caused $50,000 worth of damage and the walls of the flooded creek were "rapidly deteriorating today."

A spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers said the corps can not try to repair the pumps, shore up the walls or do anything else along the creek because of the stop work order on the project.

COURT ORDER

"We would be in direct violation of the court order if we went anywhere near there," Oved Cramer, project engineer said today.

Kent Woodlands Properties Inc. Monday obtained a Marin Superior Court order stopping work along the creek until a hearing can be held next Monday on whether the project was legally set up.

Attorney Roger Kent maintains that plans for the project did not show the Tamalpais Creek portion.

Today workman for the contractor, Elmer J. Freethy Co., arrived on the site to find pumps at either end of the Tamalpais Creek project under about six feet of muddy water. The upstream pump had been disconnected, they said, and a hose on the downstream pump had been turned back so that debris caused the pump to silt up.

TREES

The banks along the north side of the creek were sliding at noon today, and workmen said that trees along the creek may become weakened and fall on the homes there.

Kent was not available today to comment on whether his group, which has opposed the project, would ask the stop work order be lifted so the damage could be repaired.

In addition to the $50,000 Freethy employees said would be the price for restoring the creek to the condition it was in yesterday, the Army Corps of Engineers said the stop work order has cost taxpayers $50,000 this week.

Air Force Sergeant Steals Giant Airplane In England

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. ground crew chief swiped a four-engine C130 Hercules troop transport after a night of drinking and flew it out of England today, the U.S. 3rd Air Force said.

About 12 hours later, the Air Force announced the turbo-prop craft is presumed down at sea, out of fuel.

The 60-ton aircraft was taken around 5 a.m. — 9 p.m. PDT — from Mildenhall Air Base by Sgt. Paul A. Meyer, 23, of Poquoson, Va.

Meyer flew through the radar tracks over the English Channel just north of the D-Day battlefields of Cherbourg, France.

Then he made radio contact with the Air Force and asked to be connected by radio telephone to his wife in Virginia. This was done about 6:40 a.m., British time.

"He refused to speak to any authorities on the ground," the Air Force said in a statement.

The Americans said further:

"In the conversation with his wife, Sgt. Meyer mentioned having trouble with the automatic pilot in the plane. At about 0700 (7 a.m.) he told his wife, "Leave me alone for about five minutes; I've got trouble.'

"This was the last transmission received from Sgt. Meyer.

"Since then no further radar contact has been made. No further radio transmissions have been heard and no reports of a ground crash have been received.

The Air Force said the plane was six years old and worth $2.3 million. The C130 has a normal crusing speed of about 350 miles an hour, and could have had enough fuel aboard to reach his Virginia home base.

It belongs to the 513th Tactical Airlift Wing, whose 36th Squadron from Langley Air Force Base in Virginia is spending 90 days in Britain.

Meyer had some experience in flying light planes, an Air Force spokesman said.

Meyer had been drinking somewhere off the base last night, hours before he stole the plane, an Air Force spokesman reported.

"He came back to the base escorted by civilian police and was handed over to our police on the base," he said. "He was taken to his first sergeant and put to bed, under the influence of drink.

"The next thing we knew he

Apollo Will Start Home Tomorrow

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Their most dangerous moments behind them, the Apollo 10 astronauts sailed around the moon today, charting the surface for future missions and preparing to start the long journey home tomorrow.

After a hectic day in which they put Americans on the threshold of a lunar landing, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan took it relatively easy today.

They photographed potential landing sites, studied lunar landmarks and perfected techniques for navigating in the moon's environment.

Mission control, noting their busy day yesterday, told the astronauts they could sleep until noon if they desired. But they were up at 6:25 a.m. PDT.

"We all had about five to six hours pretty fair sleep," Cernan reported.

Among the problems was a camera that had jammed yesterday. Cernan said the film refused to advance automatically. He used a pencil to do the job.

Apollo 10 ends it two-and-one-half-day lunar orbit period at 3:20 a.m. tomorrow when the astronauts trigger their engine, while behind the moon to start the 54-hour homeward journey. They are to splash into the Pacific Ocean near Pago Pago at 9:53 a.m. Monday.

They have a lot to report about their remarkable, sometimes hair-raising day in space yesterday.

Stafford, Young and Cernan left little doubt that Apollo 11 will blast off for the moon July 16, carrying astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin A. Aldrin toward a landing on the area called the Sea of Tranquility.

After two looping dives to only 9.4 miles above the primary Apollo 11 landing site near the crater Moltke, Stafford radioed this description:

"It looks a lot smoother than some of the photos show. I estimate a 25 to 30 per cent semi-clear area, so if the LEM has enough hover time, it should not be a problem. However, if you

Demos Take $85 Million Whack At Reagan's Record Budget Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Democrats today demanded a $85.7 million slash in Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget as their price for releasing it from the lower house. The cuts included a $26.8 million reduction in state welfare spending, in anticipation of the end of a federal funds freeze.

Assemblymen George N. Zenovich, Democratic caucus chairman, and Robert W. Crown, ranking Democrat on the budget-writing Ways and Means Committee, said the cuts were "just a beginning."

"Governor Reagan, who feigns to be interested in economy but spends more money than any chief executive in California history, should read some of his old campaign speeches in which he pledged to reduce spending."

They said Reagan's record $6.2 billion budget "testifies to the fiscal falsehood" of the administration's claims of economy.

The Democrats also proposed eliminating outright the state's World Trade Program, the Consumer Counsel, the Program and Policy Unit within Reagan's office, the Office of Planning, the Housing and Community Development Department, the California Cadet Corps and the Colorado River Board.

In all cases, the Democrats found these units of government either ineffective or unneeded.

A new fiscal report is due to be made public next Monday and the state is now expected to end the current fiscal year

Reagan Keeps Guard At U.C.; Mass Arrests Jail 496 More

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan relaxed one emergency measure imposed around the University of California campus but said today the National Guard will remain "as long as may be necessary."

Reagan modified bans on off-campus loitering as officers made 496 new arrests yesterday —the largest for one day since Berkeley's 1964 Free Speech Movement turmoil. (See also story, page 23.)

The new arrests came one week after street people and others battled police in a continuing feud over a university-owned lot which area residents had converted to a "people's park." Police used shotguns and tear gas in that battle and a nonstudent, James Rector, 26, of San Jose, died of gunshot wounds last Monday.

Meanwhile, University of California students have voted 12,719 to 2,175 in favor of the "preservation" of "People's Park."

Michael Lauer, chairman of the Associated Students' election council who announced the results of a poll today, said: "This shows that some 85 per cent of those who voted want People's Park returned to the people."

It was the biggest election in the university history.

Reagan, speaking at a $100-a-plate Republican dinner in Anaheim last night, said Rector carried a rifle and electronic surveillance gear in his car. He did not elaborate.

The governor said Rector, 25, was with a group on Berkeley rooftops who threw sharpened pieces of metal pipe at police.

"The police didn't kill this young man," Reagan said. "He was killed by the first college administrator who said some time ago it was all right to break laws in the name of dissent."

Reagan reduced a citywide ban on daytime loitering to a 10-block area around the campus but kept a 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew in effect for the entire city.

The day's activities produced little violence, and Reagan said the modifications came "because the situation at Berkeley has improved. . ."

The governor was urged by several state legislators, local labor unions and students and faculty members on a dozen campuses to recall the guardsmen but said they would remain.

"This incredible and unprecedented faith in the use of armed force is Ronald Reagan's idea of solving the great social problems of our time," said state Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco. Reagan has created "his own Vietnam" in Berkeley, Burton said.

All but 14 of the 496 arrests yesterday came when demonstrators stood or sat down in an alley off busy Shattuck Avenue.

Meanwhile, today's classes at U.C. Riverside were canceled "to show concern for the disruption and violence" at Berkeley, said Chancellor Ivan Hinderaker.

At UCLA, Chancellor Charles E. Young shortened his own inauguration ceremony today mainly to his own remarks as "an act of solemn dedication to the deep issues that confront us." Students who led a two-day sit-in said they would not disrupt the ceremony.

Troops And Police Capture Bloody Greensboro Campus

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — About 600 National Guardsmen and police swept across the troubled North Carolina A&T University campus today and routed dozens of students from dormitories with gunfire and tear gas.

One Guardsman was shot and wounded as the officers were fired on. In earlier exchanges of gunfire and missile throwing between midnight and dawn, six police officers and several students were injured. Three of the policemen and one of the students suffered bullet wounds.

A little more than an hour after the sweep began, authorities said they had secured all buildings of the predominantly Negro university, except one. That one was on fire and gunshots resounded in the area.

Hundreds of students were taken into police custody, including many who voluntarily left campus buildings when police ordered the campus evacuated before the sweep.

An order had been issued yesterday to close the university this afternoon. Police said they decided to clear the campus earlier because of continued gunfire from university buildings.

Elsewhere there were these developments:

New York — A tentative agreement between black and Puerto Rican students and the City College administration was announced by a student negotiator. Details were withheld pending a meeting of the Faculty Senate today.

The dissidents sought a separate school of black and hispanic studies and enrollment

Sirhan Has Breakfast In Death Row

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was secretly spirited to San Quentin Prison today from Los Angeles, where he was sentenced Wednesday to die in the gas chamber for the assasination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan was taken from the Los Angeles Hall of Justice at 3 a.m. and flown by sheriff's helicopter to Van Nuys Airport in the San Fernando Valley, placed on a seven-passenger, twin-engine state airplane, and flown to Hamilton Air Force Base.

From the base, two carloads of special agents from the state Department of Corrections and four California Highway Patrol cars convoyed Sirhan to the huge prison on San Francisco Bay, arriving there at 5:31 a.m.

Whisked through fingerprinting and processing, he was issued a standard set of prison denims and put in his tiny cell on Death Row by 5:50 a.m. And he got a number: B21014.

About two h9urs later, Sirhan and the 77 other condemned men had breakfast in their cells, including mixed fruit, rolled oats, cheese omelet, bacon, toast, jam, coffee and milk. Death row inmates eat only twice a day.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park, asked how the other condemned men reacted to Sirhan's arrival, said they regard Sirhan "as one of us — with the same fight for his life."

"Nevertheless, we will guard against any stray impulse," Park said. "We don't anticipate any great interest in harming him, but we have to protect him against the stray nut that comes along that may want to 'dust him,' as the boys say."

Park declined to detail Sirhan's reaction to his arrival at what could be his home for the rest of his life. The prison's

Senator Won't Accept Pentagon's Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire has returned unopened the Pentagon's classified reply to his critical questions about a proposed new manned bomber because the secret stamp meant he could not use the information publicly.

Proxmire, D-Wis., a sharp critic of Pentagon spending, posed the question April 7 to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird as part of a campaign to curb military spending.

Among them: "Is this plane really necessary?"

It took nearly five weeks for the reply to arrive, and less than an hour for Proxmire to reject it without opening it.

Howae E. Shulman, administrative assistant to Proxmire, said a military messenger delivered the reply May 12. It was in two envelopes, the inner one stamped "Secret."

When Proxmire saw that, the Pentagon was asked to send a messenger and retrieve the classified material.

Shulman then called Laird's office to say the senator wanted an unclassified version of the response, one that can be used in public.

Proxmire's questions were prompted by a Laird request for $23 million during the next year to "permit the start of a full-scale engineering development" on a new manned bomber.

The Wisconsin senator said the Air Force wants to build 240 of the planes, called the Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft, at a cost of at least $50 million apiece.

Proxmire said he views the initial outlay as a commitment to go ahead with the whole program.

In the questions he put to Laird, Proxmire asked whether that view and those figures are correct.

"If this is so the public should know it and be fully aware of the consequences," Proxmire wrote.

Heart Surgeon Barnard Divorced By His Wife

CAPE TOWN (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the surgeon who made the world's first heart transplant, was sued for divorce in Cape Town Supreme Court today.

Justice M.E. Theron ordered Barnard to restore conjugal rights to his wife, Aletta Gertruida Barnard, by July 20 or to show cause by July 30 why a divorce decree should not be granted.

Barnard was not in court. He left Wednesday for a two-month tour of Europe and North America. In Rome, he refused to comment on his wife's action, saying: "No, no, no comment, no comment," as he boarded a plane for Barcelona, Spain.

Meanwhile, Barnard's and the world's longest surviving transplant patient, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, went home from Groote Schuur Hospital today after surviving another serious setback last Friday.

He will be 60 tomorrow, and his wife said they would have a small family party.

Barnard and his wife have been married for 21 years and have two children, a daughter 19 and a son 18. The daughter, Deirde, is one of the world's top women water skiers.

Mrs. Barnard told the court her husband went abroad last March and told her that when he returned he would not come back to her.

She said they entered into consent agreement giving her support and custody of the children and her husband "reasonable access" to them.

Mrs. Barnard, formerly a nurse, did not share her husband's enthusiasm for the limelight, friends reported. And pictures published widely in South Africa showing her husband with such celebrities as Sophia Loren, Gina Lollabrigida and Princess Grace of Monaco reportedly further strained the relationship.

Foundations To Be IRS Special Targets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax-exempt foundations will be getting special attention from the Internal Revenue Service, according to IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower.

He said in congressional testimony released yesterday a division manned by specially trained agents will attempt to guard against abuses by foundations and other tax-exempt organizations.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Terror Claimed

MOSCOW (AP) — Some 55 Soviet citizens have signed an appeal to the U.N. Commission on Human Rights to investigate "violations of basic civil rights" in the Soviet Union.

The petition says the signers are "deeply indignant over unceasing political persecutions in the Soviet Union, perceiving in them a return to Stalin's time when all our country was in a grip of terror."

The appeal is being circulated in Moscow. Among its signers are historian Pyotr Yakir, 46, who spent years in labor camps and is the son of a famed Red Army commander shot in Stalin's purges.

Malaysia Toll Soars

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — More than 500 persons are believed to have been killed in Malaysia's week-long racial rioting, informed sources said today, and 90 per cent of them are Chinese.

The emergency government says 166 persons have been killed and it doesn't make a racial breakdown. But at a special bureau set up today, some 400 persons were reported missing since the outbreak of violence May 13. The Red Cross listed another 39 persons missing.

Other sources disclosed that property damage was in the millions of U.S. dollars, and most of it was to Chinese houses or businesses.

Professor Sees Overemphasis

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A University of California professor says schools are overemphasizing the intellect at the expense of human feelings and producing a "generation befogged in illusion and fantasy."

The education professor, George I. Brown of UC-Santa Barbara, told the San Francisco Association for Mental Health yesterday it is impossible to separate the substance of what a student learns from his feelings about it. "It is the passion of the scholar that makes for truly great scholarship," he said.

"If the contents (of an education) are not something the learner can feel about, real learning will not be sustained," he declared.

Trustees Session

Dixie School District trustees will meet behind closed doors at 8 p.m. today to discuss the hiring of new teachers.

Athens Hotel Blast

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — An explosion in the Hilton Hotel in downtown Athens early todya sent occupants running from their rooms in alarm.

No injuries were rpeorted in the blast on the eighth floor of the 12-story hotel. Hundreds of persons were on the hotel's open air roof club dancing when the explosion occurred. It burned part of a carpet and blackened a staircase.

It was the latest in a series of blasts in the Greek capital, allegedly set off by opponents of the two-year-old army-backed regime in an effort to draw attention to their cause.

Hippo Crash Kills 2

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — An Amercian accountant, John Lynch, 30, and a Finnish hotel employee, Anne Liukkonen, 26, burned to death after their car collided with a three-ton hippopotamus and exploded, it was learned today.

The beast trotted away, apparently unhurt, as the car burst into flames from the impact, trapping the couple inside. The accident occurred at Livingstone — 300 miles south of here — within sight of Victoria Falls.

The two were returning, after dark, to the Mosi O Tunya Hotel where they both worked, when the hippopotamus lumbered across the unlit road.

Arabs Blocked

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The army has blocked 400 Syrian-backed guerrillas from infiltrating into Lebanon during the past 48 hours, the newspaper Al Jarida said today.

The guerrillas belonged to the Al Saika organization, with whom the army fought a series of bloody clashes early this month, the report said.

De Gaulle Gets Lots Of Mail

His aides say some 26,000 letters have arrived for De Gaulle since he abandoned power.

Some of the correspondents have been children:

"My general, you're good guy," wrote one.

A small African boy began his letter with the greeting, "Oh, my dear majesty."

New Red Envoy

HONG KONG (AP) — Radio Hanoi reported today that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front has appointed Mrs. Nguyen Thi Chan as a delegate to the Paris peace talks.

The broadcast identified Mrs. Chan as a member of the executive committee of the Women's Liberation association and a member of the NLF committee for Saigon-Cholon-Gia Dinh.

A listing in Hong Kong of leaders and others in the Front identifies a Nguyen Thi Chan as editor in chief of the Front's Liberation Women's Journal and deputy secretary-general of the Front's association of journalists.

Canada Alters Rule

OTTOWA (AP) — Desertion from the U.S. armed forces will not be grounds for refusing a person admission to Canada under a policy announced last night.

In the past, immigration officials at the border have had authority to refuse entry to American deserters. Some college students charged that Canadian authorities were turning back deserters and then tipping off U.S. border officials.

Immigration Minister Allan MacEachen, in announcing the new policy in the House of Commons, denied the tipoff charges. But he said the policy had been ambivalent and forced border officials to decide a "Highly controversial issue."

Investigation Set On Sub Sinking

VALLEJO (AP) — A special congressional panel has been organized to investigate the mysterious dockside sinking of the $50 million submarine Guitarro.

The panel was created yesterday by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.D., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Rep. Samuel S. Stratten, D-N.Y., will head the panel, which also includes Rep. John E. Hint, R-N.J., and John T. M. Reddan of the committee staff.

The panel is expected to begin its probe here next week.

The submarine, undergoing conversion to a nuclear-powered attack vessel, sank last week in 34 feet of water and was later refloated off the mucky bottom of the Napa River at the Mare Island Naval Shipyard here.

HAMBURGER HILL CASUALTY— A 101st Airborne paratrooper grimaces in pain as he awaits evacuation after being wounded in the battle to take Hamburger Hill overlooking the A Shau Valley infiltration route near the Laos border. U.S. toll in the fierce battle this week has been placed at 46; allies say the enemy lost 517 soldiers. (AP Wirephoto)

Week's Fights Add 42 U.S. Aircraft To Vietnam Cost

SAIGON (AP) — Forty-two more American planes and helicopters were lost in Vietnam in the past week, raising the total for the war to 5,388, the U.S. Command announced today.

The weekly summary of aircraft losses said the toll for the week included 27 helicopters and 15 fixed-wing aircraft shot down, destroyed on the ground by enemy shelling or lost to other causes. The total was six less than the week before, when 40 helicopters and eight planes were destroyed.

A total of 2,713 fixed-wing planes and 2,675 American helicopters now has been lost since Jan. 1, 1961. Military sources estimate their total value at $5-6 billion.

Among the casualties in the past week were two $2 million F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and a four-engine KC130 tanker lost in a collision during refueling operations off the coast last Sunday. Eight crewmen were killed.

Two of the helicopters were shot down yesterday northeast and northwest of Saigon. Two Americans were killed and one was wounded in the crashes.

Meanwhile, scattered ground fighting was reported in the war and U.S. B52 bombers maintained their pressure on North Vietnamese buildup areas north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands near Dak To.

Seven waves of the giant Stratofortresses dropped more than 1,200 tons of bombs in the continuing campaign to harass enemy troops and prevent them from massing for a major drive.

Knowledge of God

We were always meant to know God . . . to be deeply aware of His infinite nature and power . . . and to follow where this knowledge leads in working out our salvation. The Bible speaks of it often. It's the most fundamental knowledge there is, and it requires prayerful study and consistent practice. Christian Science church services offer assistance to those who seek this knowledge. Knox Bill To Senate Committee

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — An Assembly-passed bill to keep strong controls on filling San Francisco Bay has been assigned to the Senate Local Government Committee by the new leader of the upper house, Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter.

The committee assignment thus bypassed the governmental efficiency committee, which has bottled up all BCDC bills. But the maneuver still leaves the bill facing the required test before the finance committee after it clears local government, and the finance committee is dominated by the same senior senators who run the governmental efficiency committee.

The bill was authored by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond.

It is expected to collide in finance with a rival measure by the chairman of the governmental efficiency committee, Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-San Mateo.

The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission will expire this year unless the Knox bill, or a similar one, passes and is signed into law.

June 30 with a $145 million surplus.

Reagan wants to give $100 million of that surplus back to the taxpayers during the 1970 election year by allowing them to take a 10 per cent credit on their state income taxes.

Democrats want to see the money returned now. Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, has a bill to do this before the Senate Finance Committee.

For weeks, Democrats have been hinting that they plan to use their leverage on the budget to force tax reform now. The House is split 39-39 although Assemblyman-elect Clare Berryhill, R-Ceres, is expected to take his seat soon.

The budget needs 54 votes, two thirds of the total assembly membership, to clear the lower house. With Berryhill's vote, that still would mean at least 14 Democrats and all 40 Republicans must favor the spending program.

In past sessions, Republicans often used their power to stall the budget and force concessions from Democrats.

mayor said the guard would be withdrawn "as soon as there is any hope of the situation having become what our forefathers called domestic tranquility."

The governor's ban on assemblies had included the 27,000-student U.C. campus, but now, he said, Chancellor Roger Heyns can decide for himself whether to permit mass gatherings there.

About 60 Berkeley public school teachers met last night and said they and parents would go to the Capitol today to ask the governor "to remove the siege."

At U.C. Santa Cruz, the faculty's Academic Senate rejected a student demand that it call for police removal at Berkeley but voted to condemn Reagan for his "permissive attitude with respect to police violence."

At the Davis campus, Chancellor-elect James Meyer drew loud cheers when he promised about 3,000 students at a rally that he would send Reagan a telegram asking for the removal of guardsmen.

At San Jose State College, 500 students at a rally heard plans for a silent vigil Monday on the steps of the Capitol if the guard is not removed by then.

Ballot Mixup Forces Delay

Balloting for student offices at San Rafael High School, due to have been completed yesterday, will continue today because of a mixup on ballots on Wednesday.

All ballots cast Wednesday, the first day of voting, were invalidated because sophomore ballots failed to list candidates for yell leaders, school officials reported.

Runoffs, previously scheduled today, will be held next week.

APOLLO

come down in the wrong area and you don't have hover time, you're gonna have to shove off."

The LEM can hover like a helicopter for several seconds to select a smooth touchdown area. Stafford reported several boulders and craters on the fringes of the site.

Stafford and Cernan obviously were relieved when they successfully caught and redocked with Young in the command ship after their pathfinder descent, which had a brush with danger.

"Man, we is back home," Stafford exclaimed as the two craft linked up nose to nose.

They had been apart as much as 350 miles as Young kept the command ship circling at a constant altitude of 69 miles.

"Snoopy and Charlie Brown are hugging each other," was the exulted cry of Young. These are the radio code names used by the two vehicles.

A series of engine burns started the LEM on its solo yesterday, dipping toward the Sea of Tranquility. At it approached the Apollo 11 site at 3,700 miles per hour, Stafford excitedly described one area: "There's enough boulders here to fill Galveston Bay."

Over the site, Cernan called out: "We're right there. We're right over it! I'm telling you, we are low, we're close, babe! This is it!"

"There's plenty of holes there," Stafford said, "but the surface is actually very smooth, like very wet clay . . . with the exception of the bigger craters."

Two hours later, on a second approach to the site, Stafford and Cernan jettisoned the lower half of their craft, the descent stage. The purpose was to practice for a moon-landing mission when the astronauts will shed the stage on blastoff from the lunar surface.

At the moment of separation, the cabin section began to vibrate wildly. The first word of trouble was Cernan's excited cussing.

"Hit the AGS, hit the AGS," he called to Stafford, referring to the abort guidance system. Stafford did and was able to control the LEM after several harrowing seconds.

"I don't know what the hell that was, baby," Cernan said later, "but that was something. I thought we were wobbling all over the sky."

Mission control said the vibrations occurred because a guidance system switch was out of place. Controllers took the blame for failing to call up a repositioning of the switch to the astronauts.

If the astronauts had not solved the problem, the shaking could have damaged vital components and perhaps prevented a successful rendezvous.

After transferring back to the command ship early today and kicking the LEM free in space, Stafford and Cernan reported they were tired and asked permission to cancel an early morning telecast.

The TV program was to have shown the LEM engine being fired by remote control from mission control.

Agents Uproot Pot Gardens

The agents were unable to find out the owners of a plot on a hillside above Sleepy Hollow, where about 250 plants were confiscated.

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of cultivating and possessing marijuana was Michael Garrett Gray, 20, of 816 Hacienda Drive, Santa Venetia.

Lt. James C. Schwedhelm of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau said that Gray had about 15 plants in his backyard and that three marijuana cigarettes were found in his home. He posted $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Woman Arrested In Forgery Case

A 32-year-old woman was arrested yesterday by San Rfael police on suspicion of trying to obtain amphetamine at Thrifty Drugs at 471 Third Street with a forged prescription.

Inspector Gilbert Freitas said the woman, Julia Mae McCue, of no fixed address, had forged the prescription after a man phoned the pharmacy and identified himself as Dr. William L. Clark of 712 D Street, San Rafael.

Telephoned, Dr. Clark said he had written no such prescription, allegedly for a "Joan Sanders."

The woman was booked into Marin County Jail under bail of $1,250 to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Shoreline Board Impressed By Modesto System

The Shoreline Unified School District board was very impressed with the instructional program of Hughson High School near Modesto as explained to them yesterday by Robert Reeder, superintendent of the Hughson district.

Supt. Charles E. McCully said the Shoreline board will probably visit Hughson High School to observe what portions of the program could be adopted for Tomales High School. No date set for the visit.

Superintendent Reeder said Hughson High School offers individualized instruction through the use of learning packages. Under the system, the student progresses at his own level and speed.

The program offers students courses outside the regular curriculum, McCully said.

been the object of the assaults because she refused to attend Chaka's class after three days and has not returned.

The black students, she said, told Diana, they were hitting her because she had spoken out against Chaka at the May 12 Sausalito School District board meeting which more than 100 persons attended, most to protest the rumored firing of the controversial teacher. But neither Diana nor her mother were at the meeting.

Chaka, who does not have a teaching credential, took over the class about a month ago under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Moore. He is classified as a consultant to the district. The eighth grade class's regular teacher resigned earlier in the year.

The class which had eight white students when Chaka arrived, now has only one, Mrs. Fudge said. The others, like Diana, were driven away by "anti-honkey racism" she claims.

Mrs. Fudge also believes that her daughter was chosen as the object of the black students' hatred because Mrs. Fudge has been working in Marin City for the past year two or three times a week advising a Marin City business.

"The feeling I and my daughter get is sort of an anti-white capitalism, too," she said.

She said her home has been burglarized by Marin City youths recently and friends in Marin City told her she had been selected because of her frequent appearances in Marin City.

Mrs. Fudge said she has asked for police protection for herself, her daughter, her home and place of business in Sausalito. In addition, Diana will not return to Martin Luther King School and will leave soon to attend school in Europe, she said.

"I feel I can speak out because Diana will be leaving," Mrs. Fudge said. "These are things which should be aired for the benefit of everyone."

Mrs. Fudge has one other child, a 12-year-old son, who attends private school outside of Marin County.

Sausalito police said the incident, which was reported to them by Mrs. Fudge, is still under investigation.

Kidnap Suspect Expects To Die

DECATUR, Ga. (UPI)—Gary Steven Krist said today he expects to die for the kidnaping of Miami heiress Barbara Jane Mackle.

The black-bearded defendant, who earlier said he expected to be convicted, was asked by newsmen during a recess in his trial whether he thought he would get Georgia's electric chair.

Krist arched his eyebrows and replied: "That or whatever means these barbarous humans use these days. Yes, I suppose so."

SIRHAN

policy is not to discuss individual condemned men, said Park, adding "our job is to be neutral."

But Park noted that Capt. Donald Weber of the prison guards reported Sirhan was "quite alert, interested in his surroundings, and asked a great number of questions."

The 25-year-old assasin was locked into Cell 33 on Death Row. As a special security measure, on each side of his cell there are locked, empty cells. An exercise area directly outside measures 10 by 15 feet.

Thus, no other prisoner can get closer than to Sarhan than 15 feet.

His cell is two floors above the green gas chamber where 194 persons have been executed since 1938, when hanging was halted.

But in the past six years, 93 death sentences have come up for review in California courts, and only two have been carried out. The last was in April 1967.

Since Sirhan gunned down Senator Kennedy in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles last June 5, he has been one of the most heavily guarded prisoners in California history. The cost of his trial and confinement so far has been estimated at up to $1 million.

Sirhan's execution, if ever carried out, is at least 14 to 15 months away because of the automatic appeal process that will carry his case to the California Supreme Court. From there, of course, Sirhan's attorneys could appeal up to the U.S. Supreme Court.

More than half of the men on Death Row have been there for more than two years, Park noted.

was inside the aircraft taxiing down the field."

Another spokesman said: "It would be practically impossible for him to land on the ground.

"We think it is likely he is probably over water or down in water. If he crashed in the sea he would have a few minutes to get out of the plane. There is normal rescue gear aboard."

U.S. and British jets, scrambled when the plane was reported "missing" searched the skies without luck.

Granted he could manage the huge plane alone with the multiple jobs — usually needing a five-man crew—that crop up in the cockpit, Meyer's eventual problem would be to land — a good deal more difficult than takeoff.

Meyer had a record of being a "sound" crew chief.

The six-year-old C130 he stole was his own pet territory for which he was mechanically responsible. When he taxied it around, revved up the engines and made a general clatter this morning, none of the personnel on the field thought it unusual — untill he took off.

Chicago — A sit-in at the University of Illinois' Chicago campus ended when Chancellor Norman Parker warned protesters to leave or face possible penalties for criminal trespass.

The 40-minute sit-in by 200 persons was to protest a scheduled conference of police officials from 31 cities on the campus.

Seattle — Three youths were arrested in a three-hour demonstration at Seattle Community College that was broken up by riot-equipped police.

The demonstration, led by the school's Black Student Union, was to protest rejection of the group's demand that a black person be named to the board of trustees.

Death appeared due to natural causes, according to the Marin County coroner.

Prior to moving to San Rafael a year and a half ago he had lived at 31 Sunnyhill Road, Novato, for six years. He had been a real estate salesman before going to work for the post office more than a year ago.

A native of Elkhart, Ind., he entered the service in 1940. He retired from Hamilton Air Force Base in 1961.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn, from whom he was separated.

He was a member of the National Association of Letter Carriers; Hamilton Lodge 751 Free and Accepted Masons, of which he was the treasurer, and Toparch of Marin Pyramid 31 Sciots.

Masonic service will be held at 2 p.m., Monday at the Redwood Chapel funeral home in Novato. Interment is pending.

Melting Snow Filling River

FRESNO (UPI)—The vast Sierra Nevada snowpack appears to be melting slightly faster than expected and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is watching the ever-swelling Kings River with growing concern.

The river is pouring into the San Joaquin Valley at a rate of nearly 20,000 cubic feet per second. If that rate continues, the river's controlling reservoir, Pine Flat Dam, could be full within two weeks.

Row Prisoner Petitions Court

A Black Muslim prisoner on San Quentin's Death Row has asked Marin Superior Court to overturn the state's denial of his request for copies of the militant sect's periodical, "Muhammed Speaks."

Johnnie X. Milton, 23, argued yesterday in his petition that the paper was necessary for his worship, just as a bible is for Christians.

Budget Drop Forecast At College

Marin Junior College District trustees got an estimate last night that income will dip to $4,156,737 for the 1969-70 college year.

Business Mgr. Norman Bird estimated that next year's budget would be $108,658 lower than last year's estimated expenditures of $4,265,395.

Trustees were faced with the expected drop in income and a faculty demand for a 10 per cent salary schedule increase at a workshop session.

Another workshop on capital outlay projects was scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Student Personnel Center.

PAY HIKES

Bird presented a budget estimate based on $4,156,737 in income, which included $284,192 representing pay hikes requested by faculty, administrators and non-teaching employees.

He emphasized that it wasn't a tentative or preliminary budget, but an estimate based on plans to limit enrollment, hire no new faculty and set student priorities.

Expenditures in the budget estimate totaled $9,384 more than expected income, and would deplete the reserve.

Bird noted that federal funds for the work-study program at the college will be reduced to $63,621, representing 49 per cent of this year's allocation.

The faculty has requested a 10 per cent hike in the salary schedule, less stringent requirements for moving up in the salary categories, and granting part-time and evening instructors 65 per cent of full-time pay instead of 60 per cent.

Instructor James Raynes, representing the faculty salary committee, said the intent is to bring salaries in line with comparable community colleges.

He said the district's teaching costs per average daily attendance were below state average, "and we're getting less pay than other schools in the area."

Faculty members don't want to continue "to subsidize education," and low pay isn't any inducement to bring competent instructors to the college, he said. "The solution is to raise more funds to run the college."

SALARIES

Bird estimated teacher salary costs next year, not including the requests but including the annual step increases, would be $2,115,901, up $162,582 from this year.

If the requests were granted, there would be an additional $222,336, he estimated.

Nonteaching employees requested a 5 per cent cost-of-living pay hike, and longevity increases, which Bird estimated would cost $42,664.

Administrators requested to have their salaries related to the faculty salary schedule on a ratio basis, and this would cost $19,192, Bird estimated.

Trustees Donald K. Felt and Charles W. Gray were absent.

San Francisco Youth Enters Guilty Plea

Thomas Duane Smith, 20, of San Francisco yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a felony charge of possessing marijuana in a car on Shoreline Highway Feb. 27.

He was ordered to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date.

Trustees Hear Pleas On College Priorities

There has been some controversy over placing foreign students second on the list and part-time students fifth.

Valmar A. Schaaf of 32 Crest Road, San Anselmo, argued for the part-time students who have to work.

"This is the only place the poor have an opportunity to go," Schaaf said. "Priorities should be placed on where the need is the greatest."

Student Michael McGinn said if a part-time student can demonstrate financial need, he should be given a higher priority.

Administrators have felt that those in the first four priorities can be accommodated this fall, but there is doubt that all part-time students will be admitted.

McGinn observed if the "people who need it the most, get it in the neck," there could be disorder on campuses.

Acting President Louis H. Herkenhoff noted that by not increasing the faculty for the coming year, the district was in effect limiting the number of students it could accommodate.

Martin said the proposed priorities didn't "make sense educationally," but since the district is short of money the list was set with the idea that some students bring in more state money than others.

Herkenhoff said that needy part-time students could be granted higher priority by applying to the scholastic standards committee.

"I think we can take care of needy students by application," reported Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested that administrators study the possibility of having an expanded summer session, "perhaps a quarter session."

On the proposal to have foreign students enrolled up to 2 per cent of the full-time enrollment, Oliver suggested this might be reduced to 1 per cent.

Herkenhoff recommended that starting next spring foreign students be required to pay tuition.

Instructor George B. Duncan, foreign student adviser, said the $390 tuition would be a barrier. "The student who comes here isn't the rich boy or the government scholar. I think it would break him."

Duncan estimated that 70 foreign students are expected to attend this fall, 10 of them new students who applied months ago, and the remainder continuing students.

Duncan said 53 per cent of the foreign students made the dean's honor list during the past year, that having foreign students here is ultimately in the self-interest of the U.S.

U.S. students are studying "all over the world and in many cases paying no tuition," he commented.

Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wasn't against foreign students, but he opposed having "a foreign student come before a boy who lives three or four blocks from this college."

Herkenhoff asked for an information response from the board on the proposed priorities, but trustee Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy suggested they be refined before they were presented to the board for action.

The proposed priorities are: first, continuing students; second, current Marin high school students; new foreign students up to 2 per cent and high school students enrolled in selected college classes; third, Marin students returning to college full-time after an absence; fourth, other new Marin full-time students; fifth, part-time students; sixth, students from areas in the state without a community college; seventh, students from other community college districts, and eighth, out-of-state students.

Youths' Cases To Probation Office

The cases of Philip David Harrison, 18, of Sleepy Hollow and Duncan Peter Dunn, 18, of Santa Venetia have been referred by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court to the probation department for possible transferral to juvenile court.

The youths are charged with possessing marijuana for sale and encouraging a 14-year-old girl runaway to lead a dissolute and immoral life as well as encouraging her to violate curfew regulations.

They were arrested in a panel truck near the Civic Center early Wednesday morning.

Judge Smith continued their cases until June 6.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Demos Voice Doubts On Special Valley Election

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Democratic party leader has charged there were irregularities in the counting of ballots in the slim 47-vote victory by Republican Clare L. Berryhill in Tuesday's special Assembly election.

Leon Cooper, Democratic state central committee southern chairman, said yesterday a "very serious investigation" will be conducted into alleged "misconduct" in tallying the votes.

Berryhill defeated Democrat Ernest Lacoste in one of the closest elections in California history to break a 39-39 party deadlock in the Assembly. Official returns issued yesterday showed Berryhill with 30,062 votes to 30,015 for Lacoste.

Cooper told newsmen an "abnormally high" number of absentee ballots had been cast in Stanislaus Cunty but the percentage was normal in the portion of San Joaquin County included in the Assembly district.

He said 1,100 absentee ballots had been cast in the 50,000 votes in Stanislaus County. He said the 10,000 votes in San Joaquin County only included 87 absentee ballots.

In some cases, Cooper said, the envelope for the absentee ballots was addressed to Republican headquarters and some Democrats who applied for the absentee ballots did not receive them.

Lacoste has said he would request a recount but held out little hope that it would change the election's outcome.

DRUG CLINIC PLEA

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "A drug abuser," says Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, particularly the novice and experimenter, needs medical and psychiatric attention at the moment of his crisis, not days later at the conclusion of hearings and petitions."

That, Lynch says, is why he strongly supports the bill by Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, which could pave the way toward creating walk-in community "crisis centers" for drug users.

The measure would provide legal procedures for the custody, evaluation and treatment of narcotic and restricted dangerous drug users.

But the Health and Welfare Subcommittee on Drugs and Alcoholism, which received Lynch's testimony yesterday from Deputy Atty. Gen. Lawrence Mansir, didn't share Lynch's fervor. It took the measure under submission.

ROAD REPAIRS

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The California Highway Commission yesterday allocated $30.6 million to finance repair of state highways damaged by last winter's floods.

Vernon J. Cristina, commission chairman, estimated $25.4 million of the total would be federal funds and the remaining $5.2 million would come from the state's highway disaster fund.

He said state revenues would be provided by the temporary 1-cent-a-gallon fuel tax increase recently enacted by the Legislature.

The commission also approved $350,000 in general highway funds to pay for construction of the six-lane detour around the Interstate 80 cave-in near Pinole.

BRIDGEWAY WIDENING TAKING FINAL SHAPE

Sausalito's emergency vehicle lane on Bridgeway begins to take shape as workmen for contractors Maggiora and Ghilotti pour cement for the raised lane. When the lane, which reached this stage yesterday, is done, there will remain more than 2,000 feet of sidewalk to pour, to complete the $144,804 street widening project. The contractors said they expect to finish the project in a week's working time. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Burger Undecided On Cutting Mayo Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Warren E. Burger, chosen to become chief justice, says he is undecided whether to continue as a trustee of a foundation which pays him $2,000 annually for attending four days of meetings.

Burger confirmed today he had received payments from the foundation which owns the famed Mayo Clinic in Minnesota.

Justice Abe Fortas resigned from the Supreme Court a week ago in the controversy over a $20,000 check from the family foundation of a jailed financier. Justice William O. Douglas is under fire for payments from a foundation which has had ownership links with Las Vegas casinos.

Sen . Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said there did not appear to be any impropriety in Burger's role in the Mayo Foundation. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he saw no conflict with his court duties. But both said they would not make any final judgment until they had more facts.

The two are senior members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will hold hearings on Burger's nomination by President Richard M. Nixon to become the nation's highest-ranking jurist.

Mark G. Brataas, a clinic administrator, said Burger received a $2,000 honorarium in 1966, 1967 and 1968. In addition to this $6,000, Burger received $1,500 in 1963 for his work on a long range planning group before the regular annual payments began.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson is also a member of the foundation board at the same $2,000 annual salary, Brataas said.

Warren Calls Gathering On Judiciary Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren, moving in the still heavy wake of the Abe Fortas affair, has called a special meeting of federal judges to consider proposed rules to govern the financial dealings of the U.S. judiciary.

Warren has summoned the 11-member Court Administration Committee for a meeting tomorrow, three months before its next scheduled session.

It was obvious that Warren, who steps down as chief justice next month, proposed the early meeting to overcome any public doubt about the nation's court system following the resignation under fire of Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas.

No agenda is set for the meeting, but the judges from U.S. circuit and district courts are expected to discuss bills pending in Congress that would require judges to disclose their income and investments.

Warren heads the conference, a network of leading federal judges, which over the past 27 years has laid down a series of rules for judges—but no total code as such. Currently there is nothing requiring a judge to reveal his income sources or investments.

Presiding at this Saturday's committee meeting at the Supreme Court will be Judge Robert Ainsworth of the U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans. Ainsworth, an appeals court judge since 1966, was chosen last January by Warren as chairman of the administration committee which has one representative from each of the 11 federal circuits.

The meeting is expected to last only one day.

Mobile Home Permits Win Board Nod

The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday unanimously approved use permits for two mobile homes just outside Petaluma on which the Petaluma Planning Commission had split earlier this week.

The board approved the applications of Willi Kamm for a mobile home at 91 Aloha Court and Vincent R. Marsicano for a mobile home at 893 Fair Avenue.

Tuesday, the Petaluma Planning Commission divided 2-2 on the two applications, while the city's planning department recommended they be rejected.

The county zoning board yesterday also approved use permits for James W. Sutherland for a second hand furniture store at 2013 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, and for Mrs. Joe Pine for a commercial dog kennel for breeding and training only at 204 Denman Road, Penngrove.

Mrs. Pine cannot board dogs and will be limited to 10 animals, the board ruled.

The Petaluma planners had recommended approval of Sutherland's application

BART Approves Approach Funds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District have approved paying an extra $528,500 for the San Francisco approach to the transbay tube and a change in a highway underpass in Richmond.

But the extra costs, BART's engineers said yesterday, would not exhaust the district's funds before the 75-mile system is finished. They said there was still $37 million in the contingency fund.

The directors approved paying an extra $220,500 for the San Francisco approach to Perini Corp. and Brown & Root, Inc., in addition to the $14.6 million contract awarded for the approach.

17 Petaluma Seniors Honored At Banquet

Seventeen graduating seniors at Petaluma high schools were awarded $100 scholastic achievement awards last night at Petaluma's Community achievement awards banquet.

The students ranked at the top of their graduating classes scholastically.

Winners from Rancho Cotate High School were Philip Terribilini, Raymond Ericksen, Vickie Rippin and Holly McDermott.

The awards program, supported by Petaluma businessmen and others interested in the quality of the city's educational program, has awarded $10,000 to 100 students over the last 10 years, said Herold Mahoney, program chairman.

One Brother Pleads Innocent

One of two Novato brothers charged with selling drugs at their father's service station yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to the sale of marijuana to a narcotics agent. The case of George T. Bonomolo was continued until next Thursday for setting of a preliminary hearing.

His brother Frank Joseph Bonomolo, 22, is charged with selling LSD, but has not been brought from Sonoma County Jail for arraignment. He also faces charges there of possessing LSD and marijuana for sale.

The brothers were arrested Tuesday.

Innocent Plea In Oakland Murder

OAKLAND (UPI) An ex-convict from Michigan has pleaded innocent to kidnap and murder charges in the death of a dentist whose body was found in the Oakland hills riddled with bullets.

Chester A. Johnson, 22, Jackson, Mich., entered the plea yesterday before Superior Court Judge Leonard Dieden who said he would set a trial date on June 5.

The body of the dentist, Dr. Glenn I. Olsen of Oakland, was found in the Oakland hills Feb. 19. He had been shot three times.

Alabama's governor is paid $25,000 annually.

We don't have to start from scratch each year.

We've been making the same basic VW for so long now, you'd think we'd be bored with the whole thing.

But the fact is, we're still learning.

You see, at the VW factory we spend 100% of our time making our car work better and 0% making it look better.

Any change is an improvement.

And when we do make new parts we try to make them fit older models. So there's nothing to stop a Volkswagen from running forever.

(Which may explain why Volkswagens are worth so much at trade-in time.)

Starting from scratch each year can get in the way of all that.

Just when they've ironed out the kinks in the current model, they have to face the kinks in the next.

We'll never understand all the hoopla over the "big changes" for next year's models.

Weren't they proud of this year's?

Attanasio was a brigade chemical officer in Vietnam and is now assigned to the Presidio of San Francisco.

Mother Says Army Out To Get Her Son

FORT ORD (UPI) — The mother of one of 14 soldiers on trial for mutiny has charged that the Army is being "vindicated" in charging her son with two counts of desertion as well as mutiny.

"It looks like the Army wants to get Lee one way or another," Mrs. Natalie Gentile of Hampton, Va., said yesterday. "Why do they want to do that?"

Her son, Pvt. Richard Lee Gentile, 22, was placed in the San Francisco Presidio stockade "for punishment" after he was AWOL for 13 hours to take part in a peace march.

The desertion charges stem from Gentile's alleged escape from the stockade from Nov. 2 to Nov. 5 and again from Dec. 10 to Dec. 30 last year.

The mutiny charges arise from a sitdown demonstration by 27 inmates of the stockade Oct. 14 to protest what they said were unsanitary and inhumane conditions and the fatal shooting of a prisoner by a guard.

A San Francisco psychiatrist, Dr. Earl Cohen, testified yesterday that one of the defendants, Pvt. Danny Seals, 22, Orangevale, Calif., was unable to tell right from wrong.

The psychiatrist said Seals was mentally retarded, had an IQ of about 80 and probably suffered from organic brain damage.

Pistols Stolen

Richard J. Argento of 520 Canal Street, Apartment 11, San Rafael, reported to police Wednesday that two loaded pistols were stolen from a bedroom closet by burglars. Police said there was no sign of forced entry.

San Quentin Inmates Testify For Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three San Quentin inmates were the first defense witnesses in the murder trial of two other convicts charged with killing a deputy sheriff in the Lake County courthouse in 1967.

The trio took the stand yesterday after Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh turned down defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal of John Lynn, 24, Ventura, and Larry Taylor, 23, Santa Rosa in the Oct. 11, 1967 shooting of Deputy Dave Hoyt, 52.

The trial was in weekend recess today.

The testimony yesterday concerned Raymond Pettis, who was involved in the officer's death and hanged himself with an electric cord in his San Quentin cell 10 days later.

Daniel Smith, serving time for robbery and assault, testified that Pettis contacted him through the prisoners' code system using the plumbing system and told him he was going to try to escape the next time he, Lynn and Taylor were taken to Lakeport for arraignment on charges of escaping from a prison camp.

After the abortive escape attempt in which Hoyt was killed, Smith said Pettis again talked with him.

Pettis was quoted as saying he had been acting strictly on his own when he tried to seize a gun from Deputy Sheriff Glen Isham. Pettis said that Hoyt was killed accidentally by a shot from Isham's gun as Lynn and Pettis struggled for it.

Smith testified Pettis told him Taylor had nothing to do with the struggle for the gun or the shooting.

Wayne Rowden, serving time for armed robbery, and Ronald Kane, imprisoned for auto theft, escape and possession of a weapon, both said they were in the same cell block and corroborated Smith's testimony.

Necklace Stolen

Burglars took a handmade necklace from the home of Virginia Armstrong, 93 Woodbine Avenue, Mill Valley, between 10 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Tuesday, police have reported.

Two Accused In Major Burglaries

The arrest of two San Francisco men yesterday has cleared up several recent burglaries including one in which $15,000 worth of silver was taken, according to Inspector Bowen Bridges Jr. of the Marin Sheriff's Department.

John Peter Kearney, 23, who is on probation in San Francisco for burglary, has been linked to the May 2 burglary of the residence of Dr. Robert Todd Cary in Greenbare, Bridges said.

Among the articles taken from the home was an antique silver coffee and tea set valued at $15,000, which has not been recovered. Bridges said that Kearney attempted to pawn the set, and a San Francisco merchant became suspicious and called police.

Kearney was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of stolen property found at his home as well as burglary. Bail was set at $12,500. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Also arrested yesterday was John Andrew Collins, 18, who is accused by sheriff's officers of committing two burglaries in China Camp, one near Fairfax and another in Sausalito.

Collins was arrested May 13 in Sausalito in connection with a Sausalito burglary but was out on bail awaiting a prelimianry hearing in municipal court. He was re-booked with bail set at $12,500 and was to appear in court today on the new charge.

Cotati Budget May Increase $53,316

Cotati City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe last night presented the city council a preliminary budget for fiscal 1969-70 totaling $282,075, up $53,316 from the current budget of $228,759.

Howe said the increase would not require any hike in the city's tax rate, currently $1 per $100 assessed valuation for property owners within the city limits but outside the old utility district and $1.25 for those within the old utility district boundaries.

The bulk of the increase, he said, is in capital outlays for a new booster pump and for hooking Cotati's disposal plant into the Rohnert Park sewage disposal system.

Other increases, Howe said today, were routine, one-step salary increases for city employees.

The council last night authorized Mayor Frank P. Dolinsek to sign a contract with the state employees' retirement system to make a study on how much it would cost Cotati city employees to participate in the program.

In other action, Deputy City Clerk Eloise Smiley reported, the council unanimously passed a resolution ordering the city manager to abate weeds within the city limits.

Doctors Advise On Heart Care

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The best way to avoid heart attacks is to keep thin, says the cardiology chief at the University of Southern California.

Dr. David Blankenhorn told a seminar yesterday there are two major causes of premature coronaries: diabetes and an excess of fats and proteins in the blood.

There's no single diet that can free young males of large heart attacks, he said.

Vandals Strike At Construction Site

Vandals did $340 in damage at the construction site at the end of Marin Valley Road south of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101, Larry W. Oskland, general contractor, reported yesterday to Novato police.

The vandals, thought to be teen-agers, dumped 150 gallons of oil, valued at $150, on the ground; broke a truck windshield valued at $125; broke a tachometer valued at $50 and a tractor headlight valued at $15. The vandalism happened sometime Wednesday night or yesterday morning, police said.

Stanford Faculty Sets Review On Secrecy

STANFORD (UPI) — The full Stanford faculty plan to review new guidelines on secret campus research adopted by the Academic Senate during anti-war demonstrations last month.

The 1,000 member Academic Council will review the decision at its next regular meeting in September. A petition signed by 50 faculty members requested the discussion and a secret ballot on the change.

The council's 53-member Senate adopted the new guidelines April 24.

"The principle of openness in research—the principle of freedom of access by all interested persons to the underlying data, to the processes, and to the final results of research—is of overriding importance," the new rules said. However, one or more researchers could have access to classified information when it would "significantly advance" their work.

Judge Drops Contempt Counts

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The judge who will hear James Earl Ray's bid for a new trial in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., dismissed contempt of court charges against seven persons today in connection with the Ray case.

Ray entered a guilty plea March 10 in the murder of King and was sentenced to 99 years in prison by Judge W. Preston Battle, who died later that month.

Judge Arthur Faquin, who took over after Battle's death, acted at the recommendation of a special bar association committee on publicity.

DAVID E. HOLMES

Vietnamese Need Care, Soldier Says

A Novato soldier, in a letter describing agony in a Montagnard village in Vietnam, says the Vietnamese need the Americans to care for them.

In a letter home, Sp/5 David E. Holmes of 1107 East Court Road told of the death of a Montagnard man and his 6-year-old son of disease and starvation after prolonged suffering.

"What really gripes me the most is people back home there who think they know everything and want us to pull out," Holmes said in a letter to his mother, Evelyn. "They say these people don't need us.

"Ma, if you could only see. If everybody could only see. These people are dying of diseases like smallpox plague, malaria and other disease we cured long ago.

"Then to top it off, the VC and NVA come in and terrorize these people at night . . . steal all the rice and pigs and everything else they can get their hands on — until the Americans can get there to stop them."

Lecture, Slides On English Life

Joseph Ryan, a resident of England for eight years, will lecture and show slides of English homes and gardens at 7:30 p.m. today at the barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Proceeds of the show will go to the fire protection fund at the center.

The program by Ryan, now with the Defense Language Institute at the Presido of Monterey, will include humorous anecdotes, deal with the life of 18th century British aristocracy and feature the birthplace cf Winston Churchill.

Boy, 8, Hurt In Bike-Auto Collision

Mark Frederick Ashdown, 8, of 200 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a broken leg he received when he rode his bicycle in front of a car on Ricardo Road at Timoteo Way in Strawberry.

California Highway Patrol officers said the boy at 9 a.m. rode his bicycle directly in front of a car driven by Robert R. Judson of 228 East Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley.

Larkspur Trustees Delay Salary Action

Larkspur School District trustees last night postponed action on a proposed teacher's salary schedule for 1969-70, trustee Curtis P. Kamai saying he is concerned about the money being demanded by the teachers.

Sizes of classes would have to be increased and personnel cut back if the teachers' demands are to be met, Kamai told the board.

The board set a meet-and-confer session with the teachers' negotiating committee at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the district office to be followed at 8 p.m. by a special board meeting at which action is expected to be taken on all district salaries, Supt. Milton S. Cohen said.

The teachers have proposed salary increases of 18.6 and 15 per cent both of which the board has rejected. The board countered with a proposed 7.6 per cent salary increase but the teachers have turned this down, Cohen said.

The Larkspur School District board also:

SUMMER SCHEDULE — Adopted a one-meeting-a-month summer board schedule, setting meetings for June 19 and July 3 with the August meeting date to be set.

MUSEUM CONTRACT — Approved a $174 contract with Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum to use the museum for field trips and other types of studies.

LIBRARY PROGRAM — Received a letter from the state Department of Education commending the district for its expanded media centers and "most exemplary library program."

Sonoma College Boosters Elect New Officer Slate

Other officers elected to head the citizens group were Dr. Richard McKenna of Cotati, first vice president; Ted Grossman of Santa Rosa, second vice president; and John Henman of Rohnert Park, treasurer. New directors named were Robert Kerr and Charles Carter of Santa Rosa.

During the meeting, Sonoma State College President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. told members that the college will have an enrollment of 3,400 students this fall and eventually will reach a student population of 12,000.

Applications for admission to the college next year were cut off in February.

Nichols said the college now has almost 2,500 full-time students although the budget and staff are currently tailored for only 1,950 students. The school's budget for the coming academic year, he said, is based on 2,900 students instead of the expected starting enrollment of 3,400.

Looking at future enrollment, Nichols said the college will be able to accommodate 500 more students in 1970 when a present library is converted to classrooms. Another 750 enrollment will be possible upon completion of another new classroom building in 1971, he said.

He said the college should increase by 1,200 students a year after that until an enrollment of 12,000 is reached.

Hospital Board Hears Report On Equipment Needs

Dr. Fred Draper, pathologist at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma, told the hospital board last night the hospital's clinical laboratory needs $6,900 in new equipment to bring it up to modern standards, administrator Loreee Smith reported today

The board postponed consideration of Draper's requests until its budget session, to be held sometime next month, Mrs. Smith said.

Mrs. Smith said the hospital's intensive care unit is almost completed and possibly will open in mid-June. The hospital board last night accepted a donation of two-thirds of the estimated $600 cost of landscaping outside the new unit from the Hillcrest Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Club of Petaluma.

In other action, the board put over consideration of bids on a new steel storage building for the hospital until its next meeting.

Burlingame Man Hurt On Freeway

Roland G. Almalel, 28, of Burlingame, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a scraped nose and scrapes on both knees received when he drove his car into the center divider strip on Highway 101 south of Madera Boulevard in Corte Madera to avoid another car.

California Highway Patrol officers said Wenche Crawford of 203 West Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, at 5:45 p.m. pulled his car into the lane in which Almalel was driving and Almalel swerved into the divider strip.

Press Barred From Medal Ceremonies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsmen and photographers were barred today from a White House ceremony at which President Nixon presented two posthumous Medals of Honor awarded to Army heroes of the Vietnam war.

Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary, said Nixon regarded it as "a private ceremony" and thus did not summon representatives of news media to his oval office for it. Warren said he was not certain this would be Nixon's continuing policy at such events.

The President was disturbed several weeks ago by publication of a news picture in which he appeared to be smiling at a weeping mother who had just received a posthumous Medal of Honor on her son's behalf.

One of the medals presented today was accepted by eight-year-old Wesley C. Hosking of Allendale, N.J., whose father, M. Sgt. Charles E. Hosking Jr., lost his life when he wrestled a grenade-brandishing prisoner to the ground and covered the enemy's body with his own until the grenade exploded.

The second medal was awarded to Spec. 4 Don L. Michael for destroying an enemy bunker under heavy fire that cost his life in 1967. The medal was received by his father, Roy O. Michael of Lexington, Ala.

Seaman Wins Assault Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Superior Court jury awarded $24.000 yesterday to a merchant seaman who charged police with assault, battery and false arrest.

The award was made to Richard Trepanier, 29, of San Francisco, who said that on Jan. 21, 1966, he was stopped and beaten by two plainclothesmen as he left a Market Street theather.

He was treated at Park Emergency Hospital for a broken jaw and later underwent surgery at St. Luke's Hospital.

The decision was against the City and County of San Francisco and the plainclothesmen.

Daniel Gallagher resigned from the department after the incident and Stanley Odmann was suspended for 90 days.

Douglas Quits Casino-Linked Foundation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has resigned as president of the Albert Parvin Foundation, which recently sold its $2 million stock holdings in a firm which owns three Las Vegas, Nev., gambling casinos, the foundation said today.

The resignation as president and a member of the board was accepted "with deep regret" at a meeting of the board Wednesday in Santa Barbara, the foundation said.

"Justice Douglas indicated to the board in early April that he had been anxious for some time to be relieved of his post as the foundation's sole officer since its expanded activities now involved too heavy a work load," the foundation said in a release.

The foundation named Fred Warner Neal, a professor of international relations and goverment at Claremont Graduate School near here, as Douglas' successor to head the organization, which it said "operates principally in the area of education and international affairs."

Douglas, as the only paid official of the Albert Parvin Foundation, had come under fire in Congress for his outside salary and stock ties with the casino ownership.

The latest available tax returns covering 1967 show Douglas' salary equaled one-fourth of the grants for university's fellowships made by the foundation that year.

The records show Douglas was paid $12,000 a year as president and director from 1962 through 1966.

The payment was boosted to $12,765 for 1967. Harvey Silbert, secretary-treasurer of the foundation, said he thought Douglas received the same amount last year.

Reclining Nude Adorns Yearbook

The auburned haired girl is wearing a white nurses cap and a small pearl pendant, but nothing else. She's lying on a blue rug, reading a medical text.

Jan T. Raynak of Greensburg, Pa., the yearbook manager, said the picture was included in only about 300 of the yearbook's 1,200 copies, but it is available for insertion in all of them.

He declined to identify the young woman, in her 20s. He said she is not a nurse and has no connection with Jefferson.

Flat License Fees Sought By Corte Madera Chamber

The Courte Madera Chamber of Commerce board favors a flat rate for business license fees, rather than paying according to gross sales, chamber manager Barbara Packard reported yesterday.

The board on Wednesday recommended to the Corte Madera Town Council that a businessman who has less than $10.000 gross sales a year pay a flat $30 fee.

Businessmen now paying $30 fees plus $4 for each employee over five would pay $45 plus $6 for each employee over five. The board recommends an escalator clause in the ordinance to state that when the cost of living increases 5 per cent that the business license fee be increased accordingly.

The board's objection to a proposal by Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher that the fees be based on gross receipts, led to a study by the board's subcommittee and town staff.

The subcommittee first suggested supporting a 30 per cent across-the-board increase in existing rates. The town staff counter-proposed the flat $30 fee and this was accepted by the subcommittee.

Usher said today that he will outline the two proposals — the flat fee and the one based on gross receipts—to the council in the near future.

The chamber board also formed a committee, headed by Joe Stewart Jr., to investigate the proposed solicitor's ordinance now under consideration by the Council.

It recommended to the town council that the board's March suggestions for an upgraded fire protection service be considered by the council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

For Women Only

FATHER'S DAY isn't far away, we realized when folks started making reservations for his day. Since Cafe Bon Vin is becoming known as the place to celebrate an occasion (or even just to celebrate a celebration!) we expect a full house on Father's Day. To make sure your man is part of the reason the place is full, make your reservation now. Another reason for haste: our new menu, and new wines, will be available — and each new Gala brings out a host of "regulars."

For Men Only

MEALS at Cafe Bon Vin ($4 to $10) are acknowledged bargains, judged by content, variety, quality, atmosphere, flavor — and all the things by which great cuisine is measured. But even bargains cost money — and leave less for grass seed and pasteurized milk and baby blankets. So, with your plight in mind, Fred Cherry offers the men of Marin a rare opportunity to save enough to pay for a memorable meal at Cafe Bon Vin each month. The method: Join our Jug-of-the-Month Club. The current selection is Petit Sirah, which ordinarily costs $2.50 a fifth when it's as good as ours. Our fine Petit Sirah sells for $3.50 a gallon. While you savor the flavor of this excellent wine (six long years of wood age) you save $9 — enough to dine grandly at Cafe Bon Vin.

For Parents Only

GRADUATION PARTIES deserve youth-oriented food (and proper wines, when of permissible age). A chef who prepares great French food can prepare remarkable hamburgers, too; and our chef has developed several sensible menus for graduation parties and receptions which he will discuss with you most gladly.

WEDDING PARTIES are another thing we do very specially at Cafe Bon Vin. We can also prepare and deliver our sumptuous fare to church or home — which saves you money. A good many Bay Area weddings have already called upon us and we are prepared to serve many more. One delightful wedding custom we've introduced to Marin brides and grooms: a wine selection able and worthy of lasting 25 years — to be drunk on the happy occasion of the Silver Anniversary.

For Wine Lovers Only

BUENA VISTA is to be commemorated, tasted, discussed, and enjoyed at the California Night next Thursday (May 29) and it looks like another sellout. The price of $8.50 includes a sit-down wine tasting and discussion, followed by a Vintner's Banquet featuring recipes suggested by the winemaker. A great evening, and almost sold out. Phone 456-6660 while you're thinking about it.

MAIL THIS COUPON

State Takes Over Novato Companies

The Key Insurance Exchange and Key Insurance Underwriters Inc., both of 1510 Grant Avenue, Novato, have been taken over by the state Department of Insurance because their liabilities exceed their assets, according to Barry Bertram, assistant insurance commissioner.

James Weirich has been named conservator to handle settling the Novato firm's affairs, Bertram said. The state took over the firm on May 1, Bertram said from his Los Angeles office.

"There are approximately 400 claims and lawsuits against the company which amount to somewhere around $1.2 to $1.4 million," Bertram said.

"Against this, the company has assets of somewhere between $300.000 and $500,000," he said.

The compnay's main asset is its building at 1510 Grant Avenue, formerly the Talbot Building. It purchased this building and moved into it in August 1969, Bertram said. Earlier the company had operated five years in San Francisco, he said.

"It may take a year or more to sell the building, and probably about two years to settle the claims, so it will be at least that time before the full extent of the loss of the company is known," Bertram said.

Burglars Litter Seadrift House

Burglars who smashed a window to break into the summer home of James M. Stubbleshine at 3 Seadrift Road, Stinson Beach, Tuesday, took a pair of binoculars and canned goods which they apparently carried away in a pillow case.

The intruders also drank part of a bottle of wine and scattered matches in the house, sheriff's deputies said today.

Sausalito Poised For Holy Ghost Festival

The Portuguese Holy Ghost Festival in Sausalito, now in its ninth decade, will be held Sunday with traditional feasting, dances, parades, religious observances and participation by other Portuguese communities in the Bay Area.

The festival originated in Portugal in the 13th Century when the nation was threatened with famine. Queen Isabel ordered national prayers, and food-laden ships appeared on Pentecost Sunday. The queen offered a High Mass and festival and ordered the people to celebrate their relief with a day of thanksgiving to the Holy Ghost every year.

In Sausalito, the Portuguese community has observed the festival since 1888.

A parade will start at 9:30 a.m. at the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, and proceed to Star of the Sea Catholic Church at 180 Harrison Street, where a High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. After mass, the parade will return to IDESST Hall, marching through downtown Sausalito and the Vina del Mar Plaza, for the Chamarita feast and dancing, with traditional food of "sopa y carne."

The queen this year will be Yvonne Silveira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Silveira of Santa Venetia. The 'Little queen" will be Deborah Carlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Carlton of Mill Valley.

Antoinette Brazil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brazil of Petaluma, will portray the historic queen, St. Isabel.

Miss Silveira's attendants will be her sister, Maria Louisa, and Joyce Nunes of Lucas Valley. Cape holders will be Maria Mattos of San Rafael and Elceida Cabral of Novato.

The little queen's attendants will be her sister, Donna, and Judy Machado of San Anselmo. Cape holders will be Kenneth and Karen Kirkland of Mill Valley.

Marching units in the parade will include Santa Rosa's Campion drill team, state and national champions for many years, and the Mandarin drum and bugle corps of Sacramento, St. Mary's drum and bell corps of San Francisco, and the Victorine drill team of San Francisco.

The Portuguese communities of Petaluma, Sebastopol, Benicia and Novato will also be represented in the parade.

Kiwanis Clubs Plan Gnoss Field Air Show

An air show will be held Aug. 16 and 17 at Gnoss Field near Novato, sponsored by the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club of Mill Valley and the Novato Kiwanis Club.

The show will include air races, sky diving and radio operated model airplane displays.

Goldenaires Set Sierra Outing

The San Rafael Goldenaires will make a three-day trip to Sequoia and Kings Canyon national parks next month.

Chartered buses will leave from the city recreation center at 8 a.m. June 10 and return at 8 p.m. June 1.

The tour is open to all Marin adults over 50. It is sponsored by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department which also sponsors the Goldenaires. Additional information is available from the center.

Fairfax Lions Raise $1,200 For Project

The Fairfax Lions Club grossed $1,200 from its rummage sale last weekend, chairman Charles J. Vergara has reported. Proceeds of the sale will go toward Lions' eye care program for the indigent.

ON VIOLENCE: Fashions Reflect Violent Trend

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Violence and ruffles make strange bedfellows. Yet chains and boots and industrial zippers have shot their bolts. And, in the revolt, violence has bred ruffles.

If it is true that fashion reflects the tempo of the era, we're in for an ultrafeminine, conservative backlash. Most of the clothes on the racks are coming up pretty and girlish.

WHETHER the current breakdown in morality brought about the see-throughs, pantsuits and boys-and-girls-together unisex look is a moot question. It worked the other way around as well, according to New York designer Jo Copeland of Pattullo-Jo Copeland.

"Designers have to come up with something new," she said. "In these days when even the small standards we've had for generations have been discarded, the only way to make news is to shock." Miss Copeland doesn't shock. Her clothes remain beautiful season after season.

"People behave the way they dress — they way they think they look," she said. "If a woman wears a dress that barely veils her body she'll behave like a slut. Put the same woman into a pastel wool suit and she'll act like a lady."

ON UNISEX, a look which indicates how far to the left the pendulum of behavior has swung, Jo Copeland again says there are two sides to the coin of whether fashions breed violence or violence breeds the fashion.

'It often is a matter of a designer taking advantage of the current breakdown in morality and not necessarily the other way around.

"Unisex," she said, "is a diabolical idea generated by the homosexuals in the fashion business. They are using their art to destroy their enemy — femininity. And in these permissive days when anything goes, they're making hay out of their own aberrations."

THIS MAYBE true. But it does remain that the unisex look started in the Army-Navy stores. Its beginning, at least, can't be blamed on any designer. It started with the young people who chose this mode of dress for reasons that ranged from the permissiveness of the times to budgetary convenience. The designers hitched a ride on the gravy train and made the look more effete for the buys and more boyish for the dolls and are selling it at a healthy price. You won't find gussied-up unisex rigs in an Army-Navy store.

EVER SINCE Courreges introduced boots and tough chic a few years ago women have popped out of topless swimsuits and dresses, worn pants to chic parties, emulated the young thugs, Bonnie and Clyde, and clanked around town in enough chains and hardware to put Marley's ghost to shame. And it would be foolhardy to say that the unrest and rebellion against convention that have become a way of life haven't affected the clothes we wear. The activities peculiar to any era always do.

According to costume historian James Laver, the most striking change in men's appearance in the early 15th Century was due to the development of defensive armor. A chin piece instead of the formely worn chain-mail cowl was attached to the helmet. And without the 19th Century women's passion for bicycling, Amelia's bloomers might never have become the forerunner of today's lady's pantsuits.

IF WE WERENT already "thinking violent" where would Paco Rabanne be? Imagine anyone in Louisa May Alcott's day saying, "I have to have my seam welded. It just split. "Rabanne uses a hammer and soldering iron to make his dresses, not needle and thread.

The miniskirt, like the short dress and flattened bosom of the '20s, is a reaction to restraint and convention. But now we have a reaction to the reaction. The death knell is sounding for violence in design.

Fashionable savagery did some good in menswear. it broke down the gray flannel barrier and made it possible for men to look different without having inhibitions.

For women it was simply a cycle. Now they're tired of the act—and it was an act. The song of the new revolution is "I Enjoy Being A Girl."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Salary Reward Merited, But Amount Excessive

We think Douglas J. Maloney is a first class county counsel. He may even be one of the eight best in California.

But we don't think he should be the eighth highest paid county counsel in the state, as he will be as result of the board of supervisors' action Tuesday which raised his salary from $24,000 to $28,000 per year.

THE SEVEN county counsels higher paid than Maloney, with the new salary he will receive starting July 1, are those of Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Santa Clara, San Francisco, Riverside, and Kern counties.

All of these counties are considerably larger than Marin. Los Angeles County, which pays its county counsel $36,500 per year, has a population of 7,101,400, and its expenditure for the county counsel's office in fiscal 1968 (the latest available) was $2,033,403.

Nearest to Marin in size among the seven is Kern County, with population of 340,700, paying its county counsel $29,400. The Kern County expenditure for the county counsel's office in fiscal 1968 was $236,599. Marin's was $117,719.

Marin's current population estimate is 207,400.

IN SUCH A HUGE county as Los Angeles, there is of course a great deal more work for the county counsel's office. There must be a large staff for the counsel to direct. The counsel must be prepared for legal contests much more numerous and of much wider variety than those encountered by the legal adviser of Marin County.

It is worth noting, also, that Alameda, San Bernardino, Sacramento, Fresno, Ventura, San Joaquin, Santa Barbara and Monterey counties, all of which are larger than Marin and all of which have larger budgets for county counsel offices, do not pay their county counsels salaries as high as that given Maloney.

A salary increase of $4,000 a year is not merely a reward for good service and recognition of inflated cost of living. It is considerably more than that.

EVERY MEMBER of the board of supervisors has publicly declared himself in favor of holding down the tax rate and trimming county expenses.

However, based on the raise given the county counsel and the $2,157 per year raise (as of July 1) — with more promised — given earlier to court reporters, it begins to appear that only one of the five supervisors has meant what he said. That one is Louis H. Baar, who voted against both these raises.

By their votes ye shall know them.

'One Man, One Vote' For Bonds

Back in December, 1967, attorney John Sobieksi of Belvedere and Pasadena proposed to the Pasadena Board of Education that it challenge the constitutionality of California's two-thirds requirement for passage of local bond issues on the basis that it is contrary to the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" interpretation.

Nothing has yet come of such a challenge in California, but one has been brought successfully — at least through its first test — in Poctaello, Ida.

Idaho also requires two-thirds vote to pass bond issues. In a challenge resulting from defeat of a million-dollar Pocatello bond issue, Judge Gus Carr Anderson of the state's district court (equivalent to superior court in California) ruled the requirement unconstitutional.

Those who are downcast over recent school bond defeats may take some heart from this — although we wouldn't try to hold our breath while the Idaho case is fought up through the courts and then applied in California.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Space Probe Could Help Save Earth

I would like to suggest that after the Apollo series, the space program be continued at least until manned or unmanned probes determine for sure what seems to be likely true, that all the "nearby" planets (say from Mercury to Jupiter) are uninhabitable by humans.

If it should be determined beyond doubt that any other planet within reach of our present technology (that is, that can be reached by vehicles observing the Einsteinian speed limit of the speed of light) are unfit for our race, then people would probably begin treating Earth with a bit more care and respect and would slow down the rate of pollution of the air, water, and environment in general.

Song Of Bulldozer Now In Bear Valley

Drive out to the headquarters of Point Reyes National Seashore some sunny day soon and hike through Bear Valley.

The quiet peace of the forest is gone. Instead of bird and brook, you hear the song of the bulldozer carving subdivisions out of land authorized for the park seven years ago.

Please listen closely when you hear the song of the bulldozer in the wrong place. The words that go with the tune are: profit today for a few, destruction forever of a great and good dream.

JOE R. WILSON

Population Real Cause Of Pollution

Our hearts bleed for the conservationists as we watch their frantic efforts to save the redwoods, the Bay, the Grand Canyon, the whooping cranes. Surely the conservationists know deep inside that their cause is lost, that the splendid wonders of nature they are working so hard to preserve are doomed to the fate of the buffalo, Hetch Hetchy, and the passenger pigeon. The hordes of human beings about to swarm over the earth will not, can not, be denied. They must have space for their homes, stores, factories, beauty parlors, highways, parking lots.

It is not clear that the basic problem is overpopulation? Are not the conservationists misapplying their zeal, attacking the symptoms instead of the disease?

Possibly if they and all the rest of us hurry we can stop the flood of humanity before it overwhelms us. This does not mean abandoning the campaign for clean air and water and a spot here and there for recreation; nor does it mean only passive acceptance of the Pill. It means also a multimillion-dollar crash program for the perfecting of contraceptives, for general education in the imperative need for family limitation, and, if these ends are not immediately realized, the coercive control of reproduction.

The alternative is nuclear war or the smothering of life in pollution, while we struggle for food under the already all but tolerable restrictions on personal behavior that are inevitable on an overcrowded planet. . . .

Real Reason Asked For Tax Increase

The Mill Valley School District puts forth two basic reasons for requesting a tax rate increase in an election June 3.

First, an increase slightly over 15 per cent in enrollment from 1962 to 1969 and second, the fact that inflation has increased the cost of books, equipment, salaries, maintenance, etc.

To the first, I am certain that new housing placed on the tax rolls during the period as well as new business properties has kept pace with the number of new students.

Second, Marin properties are reassessed each four years and taxes (including the school district's portion) raised each year. Since 1962 my taxes have been raised almost 250 per cent. Why not give us the real reason for the requested tax increase?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Golf pro Doug Sanders' favorite golf course is one in Hawaii where they use ripe pineapples for tee markers instead of the traditional wooden ones. "If you have a bad round, and finish out of the money," explains Doug, "you can always eat the markers."

Seized with thirst at Rio de Janeiro's famed Copacabana Beach, a tourist ducked through traffic to a hotel bar where, everyone, naturally, was gabbing away in Portuguese. Button-holing a gentleman who obviously hailed from London, the tourist told him, "I can't speak a word of this darn language. Would you be good enough to order a Scotch on the rocks for me?"

"Of course, I will," said the obliging Londoner. He then turned to the bartender, and in impeccable English, requested, 'Would you mind fetching this poor fellow a Scotch on the rocks?"

THE DRUMMONDS

Humphrey, Nixon Now Agree On Stand To Take In Vietnam

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

MINNEAPOLIS — Hubert Humphrey, the man who almost won it himself, is acting to strengthen the hand of President Nixon in the Vietnam peace negotiations.

Humphrey is serving notice on Hanoi that there is no use waiting for a better settlement than Mr. Nixon is offering.

He is assuring the president that he is prepared to do anything in his power as leader of the Democratic party to help build a common front at home which will enable the United States to negotiate more effectively in Paris.

WHILE HUMPHREY has major disagreements with Mr. Nixon on domestic issues, he has no major disagreements with the president on Vietnam today.

This is one of the most significant political developments since Mr. Nixon took office. It means that the president and Humphrey are firm allies in working out the most crucial problem the nation faces —getting peace in Vietnam.

This Humphrey - Nixon alliance on Vietnam emerged clearly in conversations we had with the former vice president at his office at Macalester College and at the University of Minnesota where he is lecturing.

FEW THINGS could do more to promote productive peace talks than a Humphrey-Nixon common front. It will make it far less likely that Hanoi can exploit disunity within the United States as a means of extracting one-sided concessions at the conference table.

Unquestionably there will continue to be peace - at - nearly - any - price forces in the United States, but they will be less potent with Mr. Nixon and Humphrey standing together.

There were no reservations in Humphrey's willingness to help on Vietnam within the terms for negotiation which Mr. Nixon is now setting out.

He is convinced that the president is dedicated to ending the war as soon as possible.

He believes the country has reason to trust Mr. Nixon to do so.

He feels that President Nixon did right in going before the American people and asking them to give him the time and support needed to move the talks ahead.

Humphrey is giving him that support.

WHAT IMPRESSES us, even beyond the foregoing, is the extent to which Mr. Nixon and Humphrey have come to similar conclusions on the whole range of Vietnam questions which are at the core of getting an agreement. It may be that, as president, Mr. Nixon has become somewhat more flexible and that Humphrey, now that the campaign is over, is freer from the pressures to accommodate himself to the conflicting views within his own party.

Whatever the reason, today they are agreed on the essentials of a settlement which the president said we "could live with and be proud of."

This means that they are united against two things which they both believe imprudent: (1) hasty, substantial unilateral withdrawal, and (2) imposing an unelected coalition government on the elected government of South Vietnam.

They're also agreed on the essential ingredients of a workable settlement: (1) staged reciprocal withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese forces by formal or informal arrangement and (2) free elections which guarantee that the people of South Vietnam will have a government of their own choosing.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

Academic Underworld Exists Within Faculties

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Does an academic underworld run our public colleges and universities? Even the most stable members among our citizenry, those who are not easily shocked, would be appalled if they knew of the influence hoodlums have in controlling higher education across the country.

Black goons and white hoods often form coalitions on campuses. And their activities frequently result in destruction of the academic climate necessary for meaningful study by serious students.

Some of the most insidious acts of subversion and violence have been hushed by some college administrators, not necessarily because they are spineless, but because their sympathies often lie with the student and faculty radicals. Consequently, such informaseldom makes the news media.

THE TENTACLES of radical ideologies which emanate from one campus may, and often do, stretch out in all directions to encroach on other campuses across the country. And revolutionist and subversive faculty members, after organizing movements on one campus, often move on to ignite the fires of student and faculty unrest at other educational institutions.

A study of the backgrounds of some members of college and university academic councils and senates would reveal information which, if it became public, would rock the foundations of these institutions.

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, the backgrounds of two college students added as voting members to a senate which has a long history of inept activity. One, a student radical, recently convicted on two counts of grand theft, has been active as a student leader in opposition to the college's ROTC program. As a condition of probation after his conviction for grand theft, he was sentenced to serve weekends in jail for six months.

This weekend jailbird, and week-long campus radical recently ran for the office of student body president. And he polled a substantial number of votes. But more significant is that from his vantage point on the college's academic council, he reportedly was instrumental in landing three seats for students on a newly formed committee charged with the responsibility of screening candidates for college president. One of the three students appointed to the presidential selection committee by the academic council's executive committee is a black militant who, last November, allegedly attacked the sports editor of the college's student newspaper, and he reportedly has been on the vanguard of campus disruptive tactics by black militants. He will be a voting member of the college's academic council during the coming year.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ANNE BARDWELL

Is It The Moon Or The Ions That's Bewitching City Fathers?

Some scientists tell us that the number of positive or negative ions in the air can affect your mood for the day, and a man last week claimed that the moon's gravity can warp the brain enough to produce a change in mood, thus justifying the term "lunacy."

I don't know whether it's moon gravity or ions or just plain lack of good sense that has been affecting the Mill Valley City Council these past few weeks. Not only has the council's collective mood been off, it has refused to make any decisions on its proposed $2 million budget and it has handled the selection of a new city manager in such amateur manner as to provoke harsh criticism from some of its strongest supporters.

Complaints have been loud and long around Lytton Square lately.

THE NEW city manager has been selected and will be joining the staff June 15. He is William H. Cunningham from Yuba City. None of the sidewalk critics claims to be able to evaluate Cunningham or his possible performance as city manager, although many had other preferences in the field of candidates — mainly Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

What the criticism is about is the bush league way in which the whole thing was handled. The council declined to name a professional panel to screen the 103 applicants for the council's own interviews. Then, in setting itself up as the screening panel, the council invited a representative of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce to sit in as a non-voting participant.

This one move alienated other factions in town who wished to know by the Mill Valley City Employees Association, the conservation groups, etc., weren't also asked to participate. It was illogical at best to include only the chamber of commerce, many members of which aren't even Mill Valley residents.

Finally, retiring City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer was thoroughly excluded from the proceedings, thereby depriving the council of Balmer's professional opinions. He didn't even know the name of the new man until Tuesday noon, only a few hours before the public announcement was made.

AS TO THE BUDGET debacle, the council so far has managed to delay, postpone and procrastinate on making any decision through six budget hearings, two more than it usually takes to settle the whole matter.

At one meeting things got so bad the council indulged itself in audience participation by asking the 20 or so persons in the chamber to indicate by raising their hands which items they would be willing to finance through a tax increase.

Fortunately the council stopped short of deciding the budget by such thoughtful means.

The capper of that particular evening came when, in answer to a question from the audience on how the city's many tennis players could indicate their desire for more tennis courts in Boyle Park, the mayor suggested the best way would be for the players to kick in some money to entice the city to install the courts. A little seed money never hurt anyone, or anything, the mayor indicated.

The tennis players were somewhat indignant to think the council would ask them personally to pay for an improvement which they felt should be financed out of city tax funds.

Institute Sets Volunteer Forum

A meeting for volunteers of the Behavior Therapy Institute, 300 Valley Street, Sausalito, will be held at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the institute.

A movie on a training program for behavior modification for children will be shown and Dr. Stuart Nixon of Stanford University will speak. Other speakers will be Dr. David Fisher, director of the institute, Christopher Schuepbach, school director, and Nancy Helem, secretary and temporary chairman of the volunteers.

Discussion will be on special techniques for volunteers who assist the staff in elimination of behavior disorders among children.

Fusselman

What a renewed feeling of awe to sit in front of our television sets and hear the clear distinct voices of Apollo 10's crew and to see them on their way to the moon and their emergence from the other side after circling it. And as we gaze with almost unbelief at the color shots they are sending, one cannot miss being impressed with the manner in which the use of wave lengths has become such an important part of our daily lives.

Through the magic of these invisible electronic channels, we are daily informed, many times instantly, of events from every corner of the world — alerted to all air-borne activities by radar and under-sea by sonar. Billions are being spent, when in the infancy of all this we, in San Anselmo, spent slightly more than $900 for the installation of the police radio I told you of last week.

PERHAPS YOU WILL be interested in what our plans were then. The control center, located in the city hall office, and the sets in the cars were built by two men in the Berkeley Police Department. When we started to test them, we found that the central set would have to be rebuilt. So, it was during this period that I drove time after time all through the night checking for clarity and charting the locations of good reception.

As an example, we lost contact when we started down the other side of White Hill and then were almost knocked off our seats with the strength of the signal as we passed the entrance to Woodacre. Then again on Lincoln Avenue we would lose it about halfway to Puerto Suello Hill, but could pick it up again over by the Dominican Convent area.

Berkeley had a strong station that was heard up and down the Sacramento Valley and some of the San Joaquin. We put a duplicate set, of one in the city hall, at the fire lookout station atop Tamalpais and worked with the cars' way out on the Black Point road, on the Richmond-San Rafael ferries, and over on the East Bay. The intent was to build up a chain of communication to include San Quentin, the cities of the county, and Berkeley.

THIS WAS LATER found unnecessary. Mansfield Lewis, who had maintained and built up the San Anselmo service, came over to the county as director of communications, and has developed the fine operation we now have. I worked closely with him and helped with getting the money to finance things during the time I was on the board.

My car was equipped with a set in the latter years and I have worked (talked) with com-center from places such as in the midst of a large orchard north of Sebastopol and down in the canyons of the financial district of San Francisco. I did a lot of driving on the job and kept my set tuned in constantly — monitoring and reporting in.

LAST WEEK I told you that a matter was to come before the board of supervisors which is vital to the safety of everyone in the county. It has not been reported in the press nor on the air to my knowledge.

Next week I will relate in detail what is being attempted. This must be remembered at all times: The taxpayers within the cities pay two-thirds of the taxes that are spent by the board of supervisors. Any attempt to unload the county budget at the expense of the city governments doesn't relieve the folks in the cities, but just fouls things up.

U.S. Court Drops Boat Owner Suit

A federal judge yesterday dismissed charges by a Waldo Point houseboat owner that Marin County officials are violating his civil rights by ordering his boat off underwater public streets in Richardson Bay.

Judge George B. Harris of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco dismissed a suit filed May 1 by Piro Caro, 67-year-old landscape architect who lives on the old ferryboat San Rafael.

Through his attorney Carl B. Shapiro, Caro accused county officials of conspiracy and harassment and denying houseboat owners their constitutional rights. He asked the court to stop the county from ousting his and other houseboats from the Donlan J. Arques property.

Shapiro said yesterday he had not heard of the decision and had not yet contacted Caro to see what the next move will be. "There's a very good chance we'll appeal to the state Supreme Court," sais Shapiro.

Blood Center Open

The Marin Blood Center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. next Thursday instead of Friday, Memorial Day. Regular hours will be observed Monday and Wednesday.

Suit To Seek U.S. Test Data

NEW YORK (AP) — The Consumers Union goes into U.S. District Court Monday for a suit that might gain consumers access to federal test data on everything from floor wax to frozen foods.

The union, nonprofit publisher of "Consumer Reports," wants secret National Bureau of Standards test data on hearing aids made available to its clients. It says the data on brands and models would mean "vast potential savings to the consumer."

If the suit is successful, it could mean public availability of all federal testing results. The government contends it could wreck the Bureau of Standards testing program, by discouraging cooperation from private manufacturers.

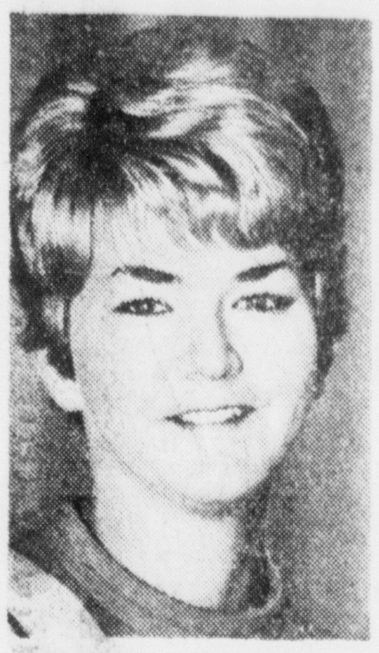
Marinite Chosen 'Miss Maritime'

By MOLLY MARIN

Kathy Heilbron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Heilbron of Mill Valley, has been chosen Honolulu's "Miss Maritime of 1969" and will reign over the city's Maritime Week celebration that began yesterday.



KATHY HEILBRON

She was chosen over other city-wide finalists in the annual meeting of the Honolulu Propeller Club, and she will represent the club and the industry at maritime functions through the year.

A 1967 graduate of the University of California, Kathy went to work for Matson Lines last September after working for a bank in San Francisco.

THE WAY to really see the scenery of a country close up is a bus trip, report Capt. and Mrs. Raymond J. Zanzot of Greenbrae, who have recently returned from a three-week-tour of Mexico.

"Mexico is a country of great contrasts," says Mrs. Zanzot. Moving leisurely day-by-day through the country, we also were able to get close to the people."

They traveled first to Juarez, then via Chihuahua, Saltillo and Guanajuato to Mexico City, where they spent a week. Other places they visited include Acapulco, Cuernavaca, Taxco, Hacienda Cocoyoc, Toluca and Guadalajara. Next they went along the tropical Pacific coast from Mazatlan to Los Mochis, Guaymas and Hermosillo and entered the U.S. through Nogales.

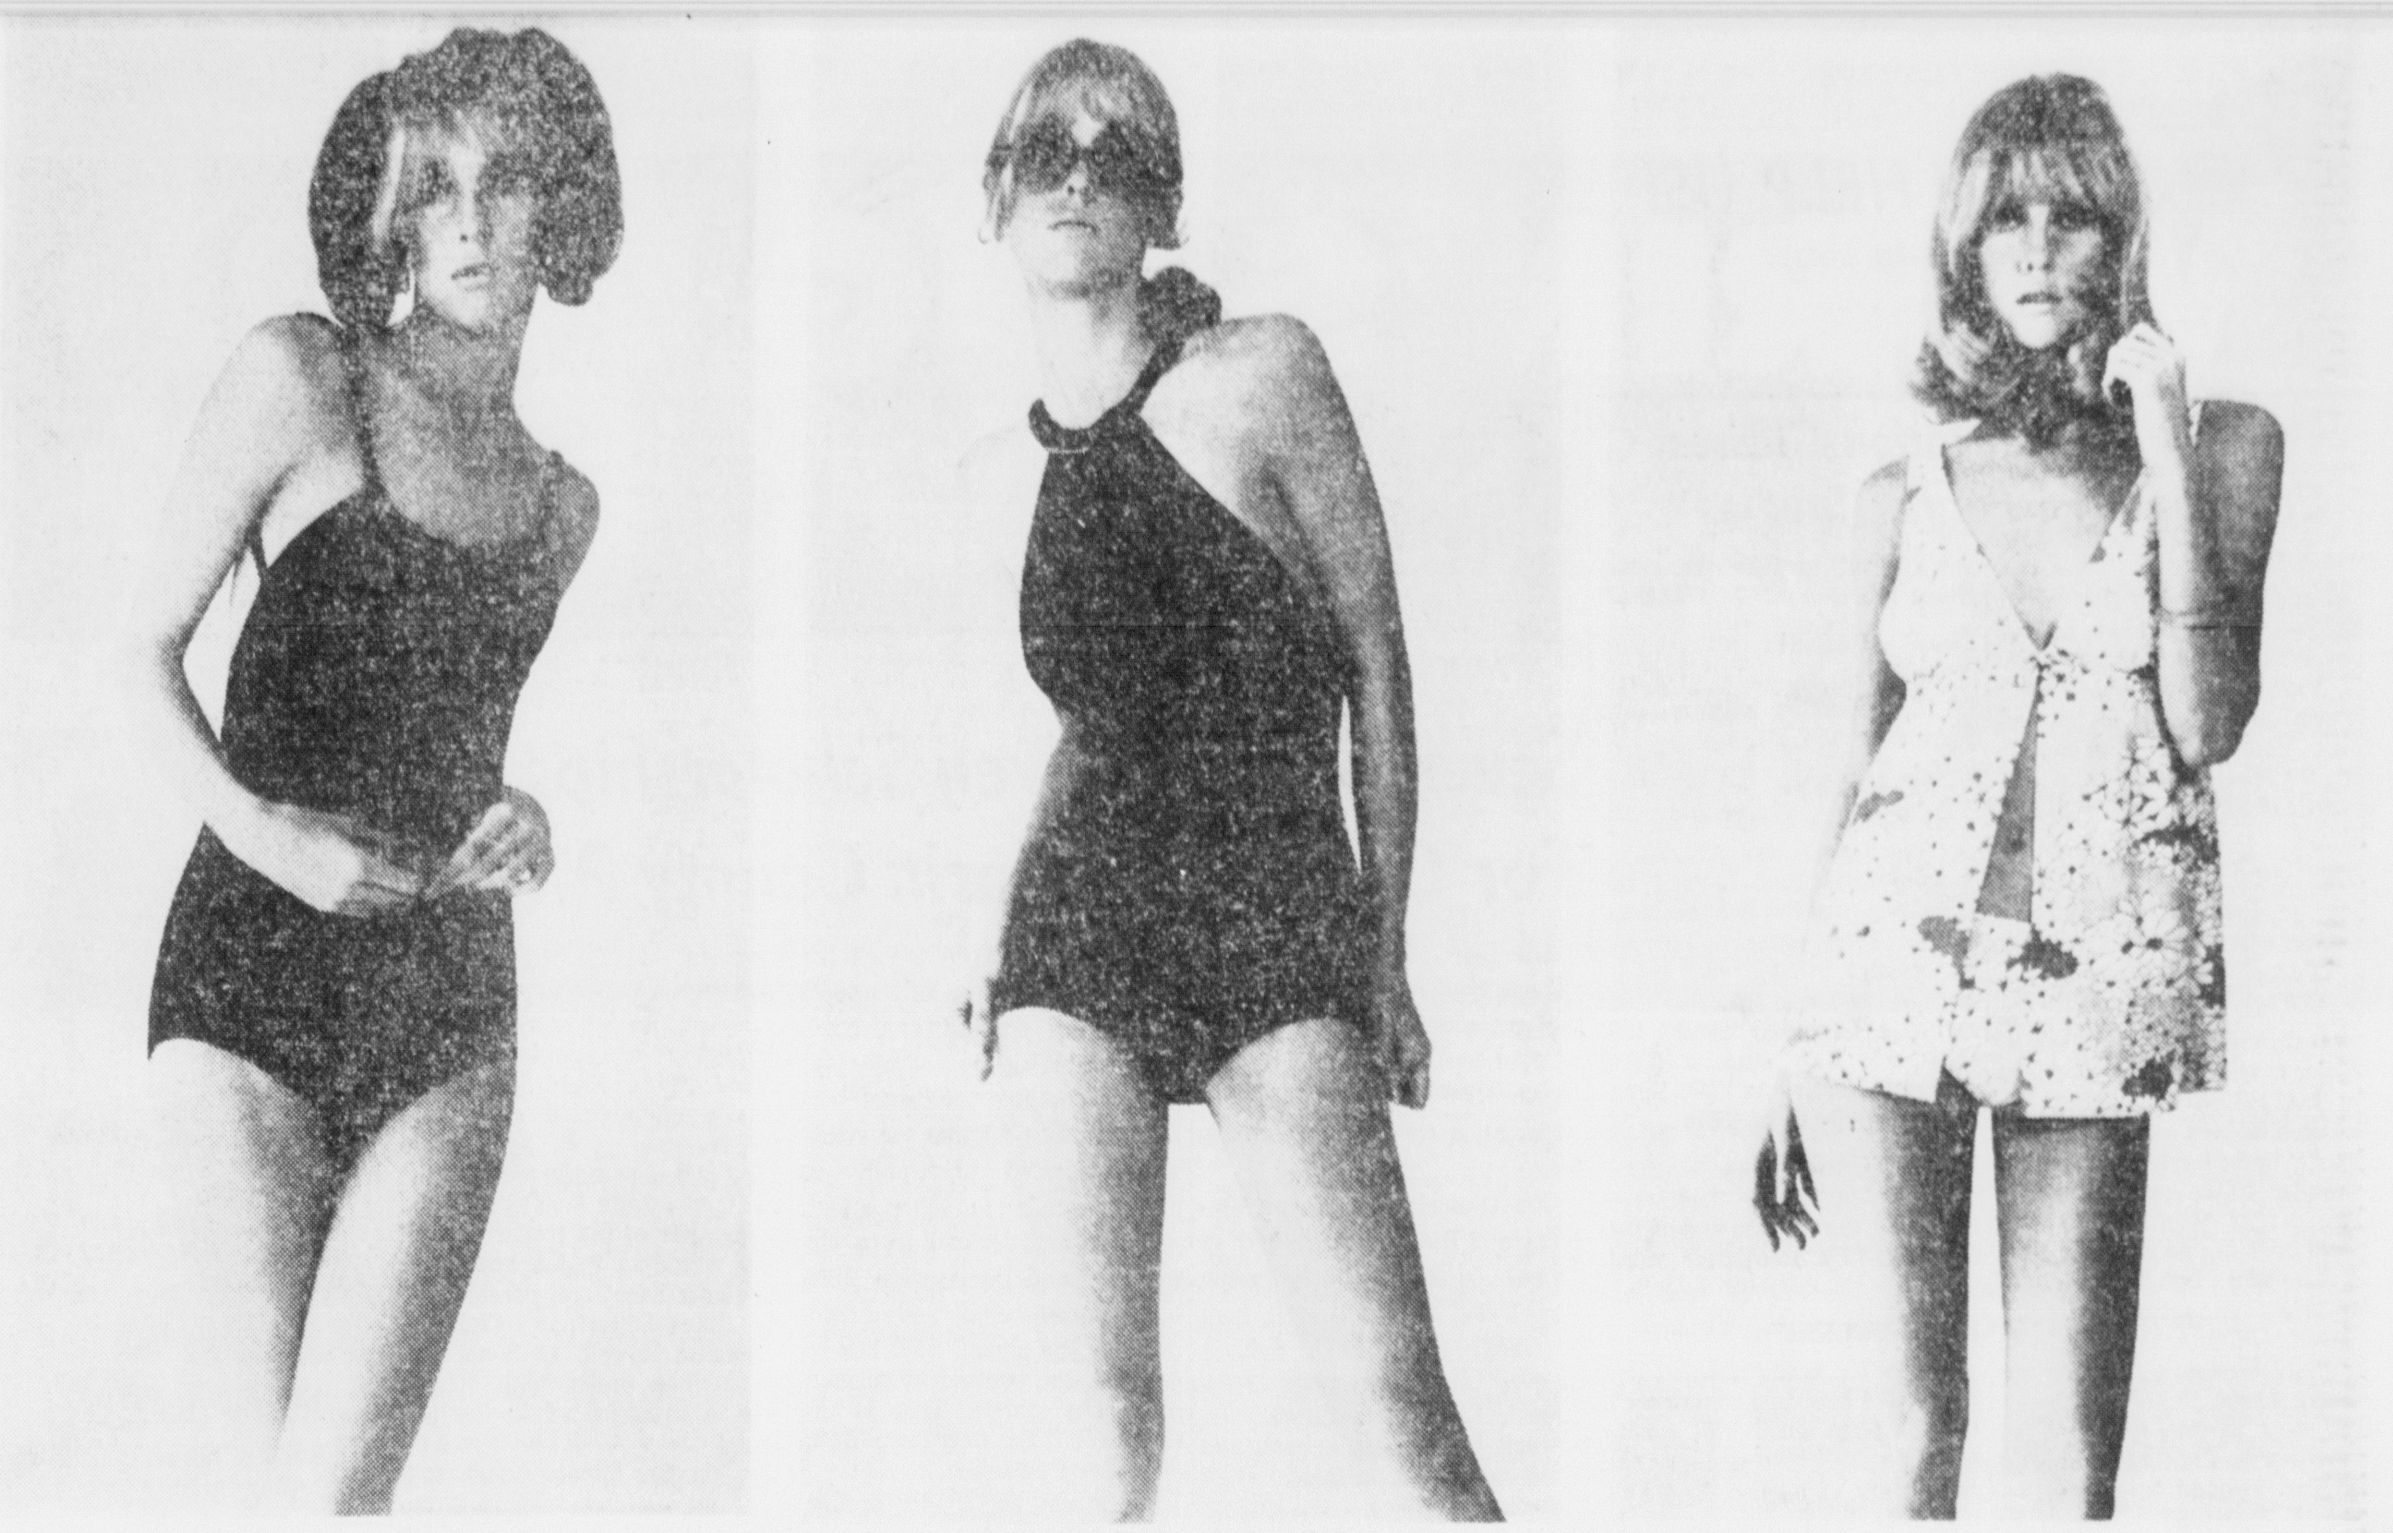
LA CANADA is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Michetti, formerly of San Anselmo. Jo Ann Michetti and the couple's sons Mark, 4, and Matt, 3, are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Berryhill, in their San Anselmo home until the Michettis can take possession of their new home.

THE ROBERT Edwin Callahans (Leslie Polak) of San Rafael are parents of a son, born May 13 in Kaiser Hospital in Terra Linda.

The baby, whose grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Polak of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Callahan Jr. of Lafayette, is a sixth generation California. His great grandmother is Mrs. Edwin Callahan of Lafayette.

A SURPRISE farewell party was given Saturday evening for Sylvia and Olivia Squeri of San Anselmo by Lynnette Pareglio and Pat McNaboa at Lynnette's home in Woodacre. Sylvia and Olivia will leave on a six months driving tour of Europe, including Holland, Germany, France, Scandinavia, Yukoslavia, Italy, Spain, Greece and the British Isles.

AFTER 83 years of arranging special events for Men Only at Corintrian Yacht Club, the club's Cooks and Waiters society gave its first Ladies' Night on Saturday. Wives and dates had a chance to sample the special hospitality at a successful dinner party which chairman Hal Monozon now calls the "first annual." Is the stag at bay?



FOR TODAY'S TIDE

Catalina presents swim suits to suit three different moods. If you are in a classic mood the gossamer weight nappy velour knit, left, will make you feel and look like a Grecian goddess. When a sophisticated mood hits, on the jersey draped maillot, center. It is long, lean and close to the body for elegant motion in the water or out. The floral print jersey swim cage, right, is designed for the delicately faminine mood. The cage, which skims the body, has matching brief trunks. The look is new in both fabric and design.

Knit Suit Is Adapted For Men

NEW YORK (UPI)—Men's tailored knit suits, sportsjackets and slacks are already being worn by various style leaders but Robert J. Kirkpatrick, who knows about such things, says it will be several more years before they are ready for the masses.

Kirkpatrick is marketing representative and coordinator for men's tailored clothing-knits for Du Pont and even has picked up a few patents himself in 10 years or so of research in fibers suitable for men's tailored knit wear.

Kirkpatrick was reasonably dapper himself in a brown, double-breasted Edwardian-type suit which on close inspection turned out to be of knitted fabric. It had been whipped up by some Du Pont tailors out of an experimental knit and was not really on the market.

HIS SUIT, and most of those on the market now, he said, are de-feminized adaptations of knits aimed primarily at the women's field where one-third of all garments sold now are knitted. By 1975 Du Pont expects one-half of all apparel worn in the United States to be knitted.

"I think we're in a strange situation where the cart is leading the horse," he said of men's tailored knits.

The advantages of knits are evident—more give and more comfort, less wrinkling when packed.

"But for broad consumer acceptance the fabrics must be right," Kirkpatrick said. "Now they are for the fashion look but not for the John Doe in Upper Middletown."

"No technical breakthrough is necessary—we know how. But we must put all the bits and pieces together and put it on the proper equipment which is just now reaching the mills. There is no problem of style for women's wear since they can style it up with decorations. But men's wear must have style built in in a number of ways."

ONE OF THESE ways is color since men's solid color clothes are really many different colors woven to look like one, and there must be such patterns as plaids, herringbones and the like because men expect it, he said.

Another is that the clothing must have a different feel—men are accustomed to the touch of wool or worsted with its warmth and softness and expect this in tailored knits. Above all they do not want a fabric that is slippery smooth.

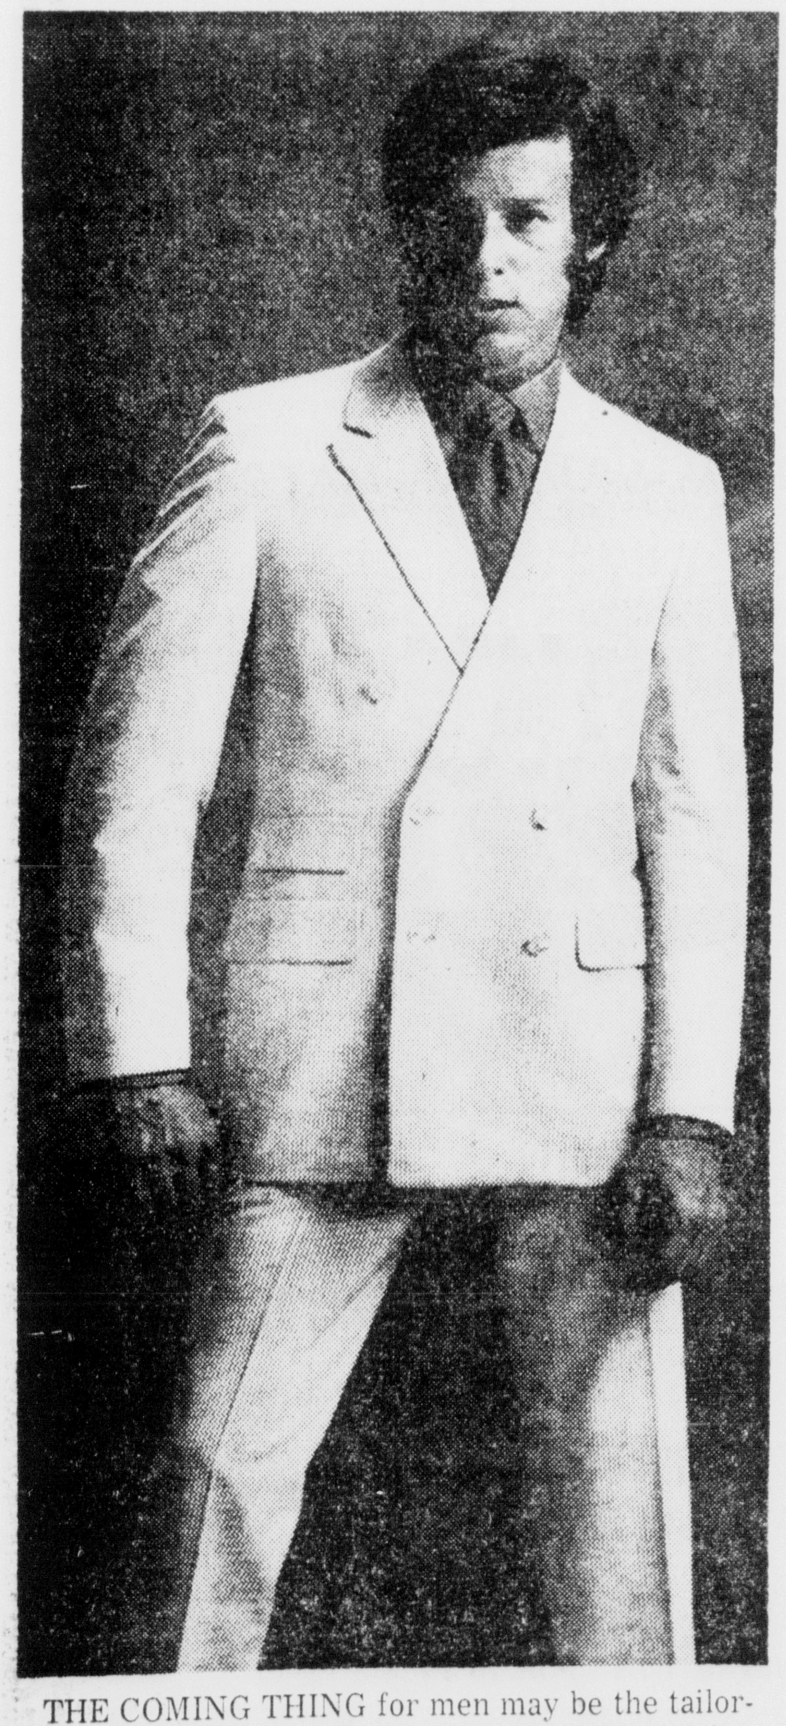
A third is that the men's knits must be sturdy. A woman, for example, might wear a dress 20 times and then discard it while a man might wear a pair of slacks 60 or 70 times and expect it to remain reasonably new looking for the life of the garment. The surface must not snag, scuff, distort or pull.

Another major difference is that men's clothing traditionally comes in different weights—7½ to 8½ ounces for summer, 10½ to 11½ ounces for fall and winter. Women wear any weight at any time, depending on how they want to look.

THE NEW KNITWEAR coming onto the market in a year or two represents eight to nine years of research and a search for fibers developed specifically for men's clothing. One is a mixture of an ordinary spun yarn and a filament textured yarn. A filament textured yarn is a silk-like fiber that has been deformed so it will give a bulky effect.

The outer surface of the cloth would be a spun yarn, giving a soft wool feel and looking like a typical men's wear fabric. The back of the fabric would be a textured Dacron filament for both comfort to the skin and its stretch-and-return characteristics.

By 1972-73, Kirkpatrick said, these knit fabrics are expected to make up as much as 10 per cent of the market. They could be a higher percentage later if the current revolution continues in men's clothing since from idea to finished garment takes 60 days or less in knitwear and the same process takes at least six months in weaving.



THE COMING THING for men may be the tailored knit suit. This blue and white striped version is 85 percent Dacron polyester and 15 percent rayon, designed with body-shaping, wide semi-peaked lapels and deep side vents. Men's tailored knit suits, jackets and slacks are already being worn by style leaders, but manufacturers expect that it will be several more years before the masses take to them. (UPI Telephoto)

Pet Peeves About Products Aired By U.S. Housewives

Every once in a while someone thinks to ask the housewife consumer what her pet peeves are concerning the products she is asked to buy.

The latest survey by a New York advertising agency has unearthed a list of most mentioned gripes about products, with the intent to let manufacturers know how their products might be improved.

The agency sampled by written questionnaire the views of some 5,000 housewives selected at random from the telephone books in 50 cities. They were asked to mark from a pilot list of common peeves what bothered them most, annoyed them slightly or not at all. Then they were invited to add their own pet gripe to the list. The results were presented at the annual meeting of Sales and Marketing Executives International in Cleveland.

The peeves most often mentioned are:

1. Weekend supermarket specials that are always gone by the weekend.

2. Inability to tell freshness of products, such as bread, cakes and dairy products, because of lack of coding.

3. Bread, rolls and buns that are crushed in non-crushproof packaging.

4. "Cents-off" labeling on packages where it is impossible to know the reguar price or the real saving.

5. Bags of sugar that leak, spill and tear.

6. Drippy meat packages.

7. Cartons that leak.

8. Milk Cartons that leak.

8. Milk cartons that are difficult to open and don't pour properly.

9. Prewrapped meat, vegetables and fruit that hide the bad side or soft spots.

10. Sliced cheese pack wrappers that tear and will not rewrap tightly.

12. Packages that say "push here" and which won't push and often break fingernails.

13. Packages that say "Tear here" and they don't tear.

14. Easy twist-off tops that don't twist off.

15. Boxes, such as cold cereal that say "insert finger, lift up tab, and then reclose," but they tear or rip off and don't reclose.

16. Cans with dents.

17. Cans with keys attached that are difficult to work and which often come with keys missing.

18. Rimless cans that won't open with an electric can opener.

19. Cans that rust counter tops and shelves.

20. Spray cans that don't spray.

21. Plastic wrap that sticks so closely you lose the end.

22. Bread wrapper end stickers that are supposed to reseal for freshness, but don't reseal.

23. Paper towels that don't tear off where they are supposed to.

24. Bacon packages that are hard to open and that hide fatty bits and pieces.

25. Honey and syrup bottles that drip and congeal.

26. Egg cartons that don't protect eggs.

27. Refrozen fruits and vegetables that are apparent because one side has a cake of ice.

28. Improper instruction as to whether frozen foods can or cannot be refrozen.

29. Canned or jarred fruit with too much syrup and not enough fruit.

30. Spice jars and cans that measuring spoons never fit.

31. Black pepper and spice cans with a center top opening which won't pour without spilling.

32. Low calorie foods without calorie content on package.

33. Pasta and noodles in cellophane or plastic bags that won't reseal.

34. Canned spaghetti and pasta that is too soft and mushy.

35. Tiny candy bars in big wrappers.

36. Potato chip and snack bags that won't open easily so that the contents get crushed.

Today's Sex Education Classes Compared To Former Studies

DEAR HELEN:

What's all the big flap about so-called sex-education in our schools? Even back 30 years ago we took biology and health classes in which we learned about reproduction, marriage and the family and even the hazards of unwed love, including VD.

Our children tell me about their present day family life courses and what they discuss in them. They're very frank. We approve.

But this is in the same school where massive open meetings are being held to discuss the inclusion of sex education. It's already here, for heaven's sake. I wonder if the avid haters — those people who travel from school meeting to school meeting to shout that "sex education is a Communist plot, etc." — ever communicate with their children? Evidently the kids are keeping the facts of life away from these parents or they'd realize they're fighting a battle that has already been won. — AWARE PARENT

DEAR HELEN:

I think one of your young correspondent's words regarding sex education is the best argument yet: "Anything you learn in school couldn't be any fun." —DORRANCE

DEAR DORRANCE:

DEAR HELEN:

When you study sex in school, you'll want to take the after-hours lab course! — AGAINST

DEAR AGAINST:

See the above quotation. Family life education informs more than it entices.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

What's in a word? Somehow our fine family life preparation program has been labeled sex education, and the fight boils up. We have excellent guidelines and qualified teachers, and things were going along smoothly until someone screamed "sex!" Will the world ever outgrow being scared to death of a little three-letter word?—TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER:

Not so long as the shouters — the professional pure-in-hearts— consider it a four-letter word. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

You're for wise sex education, Helen, but how do we know we'll get the wise kind? This means teaching love, responsibility and the pitfalls of misuse. How long would it be before they'd be teaching the fun and games stuff that was Sweden's downfall? — MRS. D.M.

DEAR MRS. M:

If I read in-depth studies correctly, the fun and games stuff has never been stressed in Swedish schools' family life program, and Sweden is far from down.

I'll count on our school system to keep sex education wise. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is to the mother whose daughter says she is working at a planned parenthood clinic. I too am a volunteer and we do have several college girls who give their time to this worthwhile cause.

These girls know that over-population will be our greatest problem of the future unless we educate now. (It's been said that when we get to standing room only the reproduction problem will take care of itself, but there has to be a better way.)

The majority of people who come to us are married. They can't afford any more children, but we help single girls too, after counseling has failed. If they are determined, then at least we can save them the heartbreak of an unwanted child. — SOCIAL WORKER

Selection of seven Marin County high school seniors who will receive scholarship awards of $250 has been made by the Marin County Parent-Teacher Association scholarship committee.

The students are Wayne Satmary and Barbara Ford, both of Tamalpais High School; Joseph Rowell and Regina Rowell, both of Terra Linda High School; Sharon Stout, Tomales High School; John Giammona, Sir Francis Drake High School; and Fred Adam of San Rafael High School.

Sandra Michel of Tamalpais High School and Deborah Tieman of Novato High School are alternate choices for the scholarships, which have been given annually since the Marin County P-TA scholarship fund was founded in 1928.

Applicants are chosen on the basis of seriousness of purpose, chances of success and need, thus providing opportunity for highly qualified students who might not be eligible for scholarships based principally on highest academic achievement.

Funds are derived from elementary and high school P-TA units, parents clubs and individuals. As the annual fund has increased, the number of scholarships has grown. This is the first year it has been possible to give seven awards.

Recipients and their families will be honored at an award presentation reception Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the E Street Administration Building of the San Rafael Schools.

Wayne Satmary played varsity soccer and football at Tamalpais High School and is a member of the International Christian Youth Exchange.

Joseph Rowell excelled academically and athletically at Terra Linda High School. He was a commended student in the National Merit Scholarship Test and a semi-finalist for the California State Scholarship and a member of the track, football and wrestling teams and is an Explorer Scout and president of the Black Letterman's Club.

Regina Rowell, an honor student since junior high school, was a semi-finalist in the National Merit Achievement Awards. Her talents include music and art, and she plans to study teaching following graduation from Terra Linda High School.

Sharon Stout is a member of the California Scholarship Federation and a recepient of the Bank of America Home Economics Award. She is secretary-treasurer of the senior class at Tomales High School and plans to become a dental hygienist.

Barbara Ford is a member of the CSF and plans to study sociology with the goal of becoming a social worker.

John Giammona ranks close to the top of his class academically. His interests are math, science and art, and he plans to study engineering at the University of California at Davis.

Fred Adam is president of the Future Teachers of America at San Rafael High School and is master councilor of the Marin Chapter DeMolay and has earned the representative DeMolay award and 25 merit bars.

Pact Readied For Novato Housing

An amendment in a contract with the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development was approved last night by the Marin County Housing Authority, clearing the way for the authority to sign a contract with Smith and Haley Construction, Inc., for 40 senior citizens apartments in Novato.

Federal approval of the project means a $672,395 loan will be available for the project, Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman said.

Lacking a report by Marin Development Co. on the feasibility of leasing any of a proposed 17-unit development in Marin City, the authority postponed discussion of leasing the units for its leased housing program.

The Marin County Housing Authority also:

WAGES — Increased maintenance wages by an average of 6.5 per cent. New wages are $4.80 an hour for foremen, $4.50 for subforemen, $4.24 for maintenance mechanics, and $3.23 for maintenance men.

MAINTENANCE — Hired a maintenance man at $3.64 an hour to work in the Homestead Terrace and Venetia Oaks senior housing projects.

SUBSIDY — Was told a new federal policy provides a $10 a month subsidy to the authority for tenants earning two-thirds or less of maximum incomes for admission to low-income housing. The subsidy will produce $8,000 a year for the authority.

ROOMING HOUSE — Told Stutsman to ask the housing department in Washington if a program might be approved for units sharing cooking facilities. The San Francisco office has rejected the idea, Stutsman said.

Open Space Sought In Apartment Plans

Matthew Farr, owner of two acres between Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, presented plans last night to the Fairfax Planning Commission for a 48-unit apartment development.

Chairman Albert R. Gately said the commission asked Farr to provide more open space in the development and return at the next commission meeting, June 26.

The commission also asked that confusion surrounding the zoning of the property be resolved. Gately said the property had been zoned planned unit development, but the city council changed this district in 1967 to planned district development, which tightened procedural requirements.

The commission was uncertain whether Farr had to apply for rezoning before proceeding with development plans.

In other business last night, the commission denied a request by Phillip B. Lygren for a lot split at 64 Monte Vista Road, granted an application for a variance by James O'Leary for placement of a six-foot fence at 162 Meernaa Avenue and approved the variance application of Frank Healion for off-street parking at 8 Bolinas Road, but said he should seek a special use permit the city council for certain structural changes.

Heart Transplant At Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford University Hospital has its 14th heart transplant patient today, Ralph Trout III, 33, who had suffered repeated attacks during the past four years.

A team of surgeons headed by Dr. Norman E. Shumway performed the transplant yesterday. The donor was not named.

Trout, of Milpitas, is a professional organ player, whose father, Ralph, lives in El Sobrante, and whose brother, Charles, lives in Milpitas.

FTC Accuses Tobacco Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Tobacco Co. has been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of misrepresenting the amount of harmful tar in three of its leading brands of cigarettes.

The brands named are Pall Mall Gold 100s, Pall Mall Menthol 100s and Lucky Filters.

The FTC action—with one member abstaining—is aimed at forcing American to halt the advertising campaign which the majority contends fails to disclose material facts and "created the impression that its cigarettes are low in tar."

If you sell Women's Wear, Daily...you need Newspaperability
Did you know that women shop twice for every article of clothing they buy? First in the paper... and then in the stores. In fact, 8 out of 10 women look to newspaper ads for "fashion and style" information before they go shopping.
If you sell clothes, you need to run ads in the paper. Your competitors are doing it. In fact, retailers all over America will spend nearly 4 billion dollars this year on newspaper advertising. The average department store puts 88 percent of its advertising budget into newspaper ads; women's specialty shops, 86 percent. They wouldn't be doing it if it weren't working.
In an average week, about 30 women in 1,000 buy a new dress. So to sell 100 dresses, you must reach 3,300 women? How? In the newspaper... the only medium that reaches almost all women.
Like to see more empty hangers at the end of a day's selling? Reach your customers on their first shopping expedition each day—in the paper. That's what we mean by Newspaperability.

Symphony members will become strolling musicians in the evening to entertain diners.

Dinner reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Leslie J. Airth of Tiburon or by writing the Marin Symphony, 434 Greenwood Beach Road, Tiburon.

Performances will be given at the auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday. The play then will move Thursday to the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts, where performances are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. through June 1.

Mantovani Gives Beatles Credit

The 64-year-old musician, speaking yesterday at an awards luncheon for Britain's pop music industry, declared:

"I owe my continued success to the Beatles and the other groups. They are all alike and sound more or less the same. They are so loud that anything I play is like a breath of fresh air."

Marin Soloists Due In Youth Orchestra

Three Marin teen-agers will appear as soloists for the San Francisco Symphony's Youth Concert at 10:30 a.m. June 5 at College of Marin.

Flutist John Tomlinson and hs sister, Carol, a violonist, and pianist Joan Franzini will perform the first movement of Bach's Brandenburg Concerto 5.

Tomlinson, a junior at Terra Linda High School, has been a member of the Marin Youth Orchestra for four years and has been studying flute for five years with Merrill Jordan of Kentfield.

His sister, an eighth grader at Miller Creek Junior High School, has been a member of the youth orchestra for three years and has studied under William Pynchon of San Francisco for four years. In 1968 she was a finalist in the Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians' Contest and is a 1969 winner of a Pacific Musical Scholarship.

Miss Franzini is a junior at San Domenico School for Girls San Anselmo and studies under Faith France at the school. She is also a member of youth orchestra and has won a Marin Music Chest Scholarship.

Music Courses Set At College

Two new courses will be offered by the College of Marin music department this summer.

A string instrument workshop will be taught by Charles Meacham from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. The class will deal with solutions to playing problems in the performance of orchestral and chamber music literature.

Elementary musicianship, the other new course, will meet from 8 to 9:30 a.m. daily. The class is a pre-theory course for music majors and minors.

Social Security Pay Record In December

A record $1,525,000 in monthly Social Security benefits was being paid to Marin residents at the end of December 1968, an increase of 4.4 per cent above the amount payable at the end of February, 1968, according to Ed Leuin, district manager.

In Marin, 3,361 persons under 60 are receiving benefits, including 1,872 under 18; 503 between 18 and 21, and 986 between 22 and 59, he said.

Ward Austin Sets Latin America Report

Ward Austin, College of Marin president from 1943 to 1961, will present an illustrated forum, "Sociological Developments in South America," at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, at the College of Marin.

The program, part of the councert-lecture series, will cover visits by Austin to the Inca ruins near Lima, Peru, the Gold Museum in Bogota, Colombia and the cities of Sao Paulo, Belo Horizonte and Caracas.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

FAMILY

"African Safari" — Story covers a span of five years in central and East Africa, capturing live animals and snakes for zoos. The photographer records some awesome scenes. Incredible —a must see.

"Gone With the Wind" — Famous film classic now transposed to super screen with sterophonic sound remains one of the landmarks in American film making.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each one has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitimate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Changes" — A film about a youth searching for answers. He is a taker and never a giver; his immaturity prevents him from assuming respnsibility.

"Charge of the Light Brigade" — Realistic expose of the stupidity of war. An historical spectacle; cast is excellent, photography is exceptional.

"Night They Raided Minsky's" — Raucous replay of the low comic world of burlesque of the 1920's.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Sam Whiskey" — A western comedy suspense thriller about returning stolen gold to the mint undetected.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say aduls only)

"Coogan's Bluff" — Lawman from Arizona goes to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. There is much violence and explicit sex.

ADULTS ONLY

"Barbarella" — Sex-oriented science fiction tale portrays a bizarre world of erotic situations, sadism and nudity. Film well furnished with grotesque characters and gimmicry.

"Fanny Hill" — Tells of life within brothel.

"Marat Sade" — Play within a play by a superlative case. Engrossing drama of startling originality. Inmates in an asylum perform in a play as therapy but it has a reverse effect on them. A chilling, disturbing viewing experience.

"Night of the Following Day" — Taut thriller melodrama about internal pressures among four criminals during a kidnapping. Morbid violence, sadistic brutality with an illogical ending.

"Stolen Kisses" — Sophisticated French drama about young man who is a misfit gaining his maturity.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Criminal and Investigator become involved in a torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment; all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

"Where It's At" — Owner of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas trains his son too well in the shady business practices used to build his fabulous wealth and gets double-crossed by him.

Toll Plaza Session On Legislation

Legislation affecting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will be reviewed by the district's legislation-public relations committee at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday in district offices at the toll plaza.

Following this meeting, the rules and policy committee will consider a policy barring all public demonstrations on or near the bridge. Several recent demonstrations, including welcoming ceremonies for returning warships, have slowed traffic on the bridge.

Salary and wage increases for employees will be considered by the finance-auditing committee at 9 a.m. Thursday, and the full board will meet at 10 a.m. Its agenda includes action on an $11,500 bicycle from the Marin anchorage to Fort Baker, recognition of labor unions as bargaining agents for employees, a $75,000 engineering study for a new roadway west of the toll plaza and a proposal that the district seek federal funds for a master plan of its future.

Fifteen photographs of rock musicians in action, snapped by Fairfax photographer Robert H. Chevalier, are on display at the Fairfax branch of the Marin County Library.

Included are photographs of singers and musicians of Big Brother and the Holding Company, The Grateful Dead, Jefferson Airplane, the Generation, the Quicksilver Messenger Service, and Moby Grape.

The display will continue until the end of this month.

Flood Board Set To Resign For New Supervisor

Southern Sonoma's new county supervisor — when he is appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan — will have the opportunity to appoint a whole new set of flood control advisers from his district.

Members of the Petaluma Basin Zone 2A Flood Control Advisory Committee have agreed to offer their resignations to the new supervisor to give him a chance to pick his own advisers.

Southern Sonoma's seat on the county board of supervisors will become vacant June 30 when the resignation of Leigh Shoemaker takes effect. Shoemaker has resigned because of ill health.

The decision to offer the new supervisor the committee's resignation was made at the suggestion of chairman Herb Bundesen at a recent meeting of the flood control advisers.

Joerger, who is the city council's liaison with the flood control panel, would not be affected by the resignations because he is appointed by the council.

Congressional Report At County Library

The Marin County Library has subscribed to Congressional Quarterly Service, a new research service providing information on national government and politics.

A workshop on various aspects of drug abuse will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 7 in the library of Bel Aire School, Tiburon. The workshop is sponsored by the Citizens' Committee to Study Drug Abuse of the Reed School District and the cities of Belvedere and Tiburon.

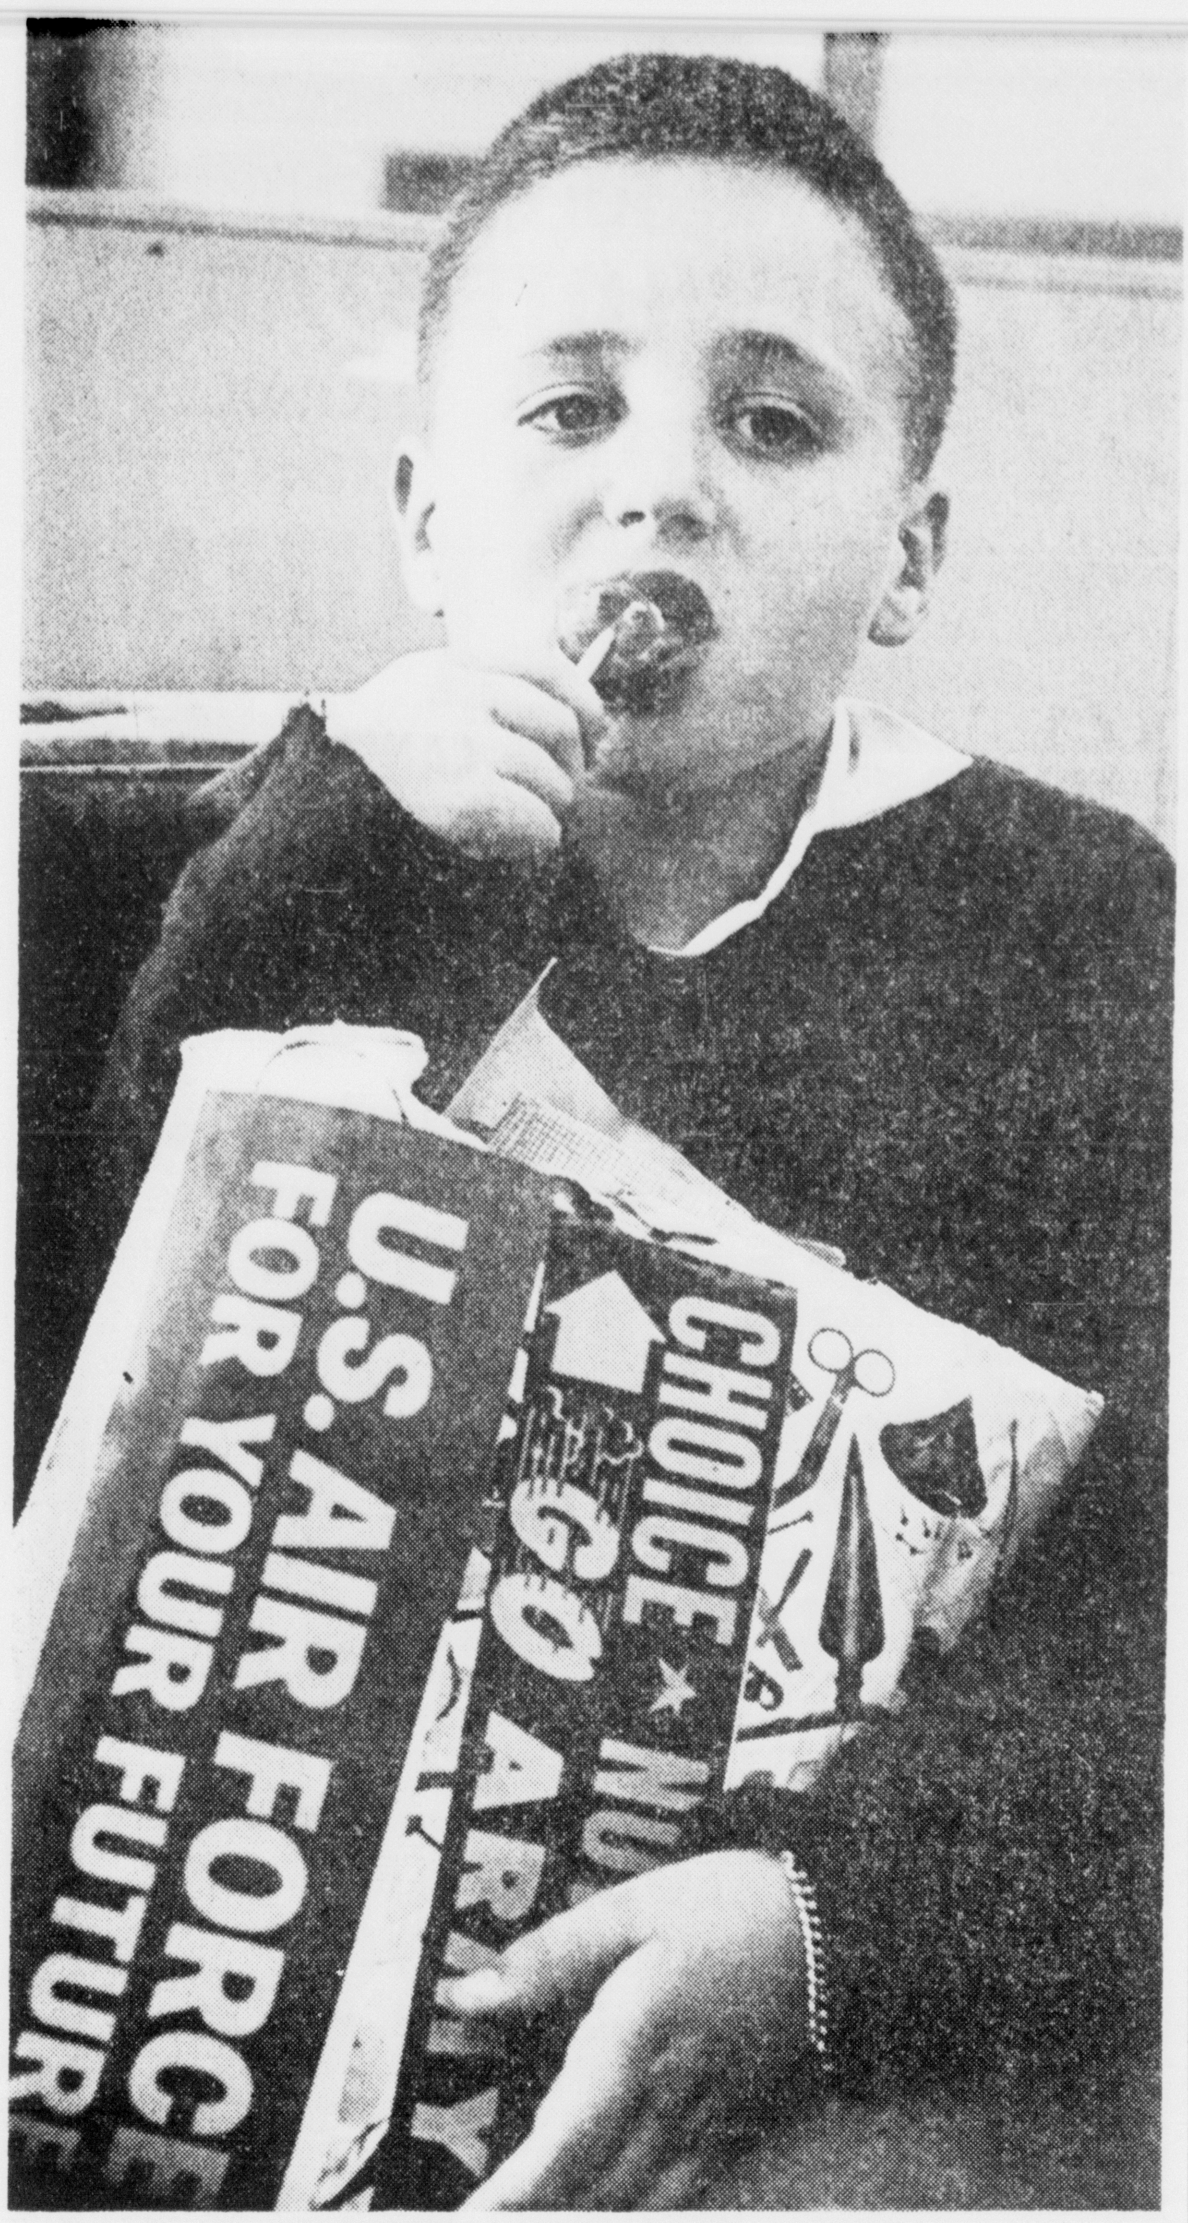
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1969



HE COUNTED THE LICKS

One of the vexing questions of our age has been, how many licks in one of those round candy pops? Well, Paul Panichelli, 8, stopped by the Independent-Journal news room the other day to report it had taken him "a little over 4,000" licks to eat one of the pops. Four thousand licks seem like a lot, but Paul, only 8, says he has a small tongue. "It took me an hour and a half," said Paul, who lives at 7 F Street, San Rafael, and attends St. Raphael's School. The stickers on Paul's books were gifts from the armed services recruiters at the Mission Post Office. "One of the sergeants gave me a badge, too," Paul said. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Two Juvenile Hall Escapers Arrested

Two escapees from Marin Juvenile Hall were arrested early today on a woody hillside in San Rafael after stealing a car and committing three burglaries, police said.

Police said the youths, James Joseph Ghilotti, 15, of 32 Ridgewood Drive and James Charles Kisling, 16, of 325 Ironstone Court, both San Rafael, have escaped from juvenile hall numerous times and boasted upon their arrest today could leave the facility at will.

The pair was caught a short distance from Ghilotti's home, hiding behind an embankment. A neighbor had telephoned police after hearing a loud noise shortly after 1 a.m. and seeing the youths running with sleeping bags under their arms.

Police said the sleeping bags came from the home of William A. Muzinich at 106 Reservoir Road, which was allegedly entered by the youths shortly after they escaped from the hall Wednesday night and stole a car in Marinwood.

The stolen car was recovered shortly after 9:30 a.m. yesterday in front of 162 Maywood Way. A witness said she had seen the pair crawling along the porch of the home at 162 Maywood and police, checking the home, were told by Caroline A. Arnett, 14, who lives there, that she was in the home when the youths broke in, but hid from them.

Nothing was apparently taken from the Arnett home, but police said the youths also broke into the home of attorney Frank B. Peebles at 31 Maywood Way yesterday, ransacked the residence and walked off with $11 in nickels.

When caught, police said, Kisling was carrying $6.10 in nickels, a glass cutter and a screwdriver.

Returned to Juvenile Hall, the youths were booked on suspicion of burglary, escape and auto theft.

Ministers Urge Reagan Peace Move

Ministers and priests at three southern Marin churches have written Gov. Ronald Reagan, urging him as "the stronger party" to make the first move toward peace in Berkeley by withdrawing the National Guard.

They wrote: "The presence of National Guardsmen in Berkeley at this time heightens the tension and should be removed . . .

"We are also convinced that the University of California is capable of dealing with the present crises, and that the authority of the state is better expressed through the university than through the outside police power."

MASS ARRESTS NAB MARINITES

Richard William Beban, 21, Times editor, and James Kimo Campbell, 22, running for president, were in the group of 461 adults and 43 juveniles who were ringed by National Guard troops in the mass arrest, said officers.

Berkeley Police Lt. Darrell Hickman reported that Campbell and Beban were booked into Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center at Pleasanton between 1 and 7 p.m. on suspicion of obstructing traffic and unlawful assembly.

Bail on each was set at $800.

Beban lives with his mother, Mrs. Robert Beban of 10 Tarrant Court, San Rafael. Campbell, who is from Hawaii, lives at 1 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito.

Yesterday was the first mass arrest since demonstrations broke out on May 15.

Police herded the demonstrators, who were marching at noon from Sproul Plaza on downtown Berkeley, into a parking lot on Center Street half a block from the campus.

The marchers' purpose was reportedly to start a new people's park at Shattuck Avenue and Cedar Street.

Those arrested were placed in vans and taken to the Alameda County sheriff's facility at Pleasanton.

Both Beban and Campbell have been active in demonstrations against Army Corps of Engineers work on Tamalpais Creek in Kent Woodlands—part of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

They were pulled out of Tamalpais Creek by sheriff's deputies April 28 and booked into Marin County Jail with 36 others on suspicion of failure to disperse and trespassing.

Beban was also charged with resisting arrest, reportedly going limp when arrested.

The 38 defendants pleaded innocent May 7, a trial for 22 defendants being set for June 5 and one for the other 16 being set for June 19.

Both Campbell and Beban are on a slate in today's election; Campbell for president, Beban for treasurer, Bonnie Aby for secretary and George J. Shea for vice president.

Marin Boy Gets Achiever Award

Tony Symmes of 309 Tamalpais Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was the big winner last night as the 1969 Bay Area Junior Achievement Awards were presented at a banquet in the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco.

Symmes, a student at Lick-Wilmerding High School in San Francisco, was chosen president of the year. He was president of a compmay called Plastiques. Counsellors of the company were Arthur Andersen and Co., accounting.

Tiburon City Manager Fair-Marin Finalist

Rose said yesterday only that he had been asked if he were interested in the job and had replied," "I might consider it."

He refused to comment whether he had actively sought the post. Saying he was busy and couldn't talk, he hung up the telephone.

Earlier, Rose said "that's not true" when asked if the fact he had been in the running for the Fair-Marin job meant he had begun to look around for another job.

However, Rose had also competed for the city manager job in Novato which was filled by Charles A. Brown, according to informed Novato sources.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning said Rose had not given any indication to him or other members of the city council that he was looking for another job. "He gives every evidence of being very happy," Fanning said.

Fanning said the council had not suggested that Rose seek employment elsewhere, but noted, "It is not unusual for a bright, dynamic person such as Larry to seek a better paying job in a larger city. After all Tiburon has a fence around it professionally."

Leon Kalimos, former executive director of the San Francisco Ballet, was named Fair-Marin manager on May 5 out of a field of 57 applicants and eight finalists. He will earn $16,000 a year.

Rose, who presently is paid $17,100 a year in Tiburon, has been city manager since Tiburon was incorporated in 1964.

Sewers Approved For Subdivision

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night approved an agreement to provide sewer service to Lucas Valley unit 7, a 47-lot subdivision on Lucas Valley Road at Mount Shasta Drive.

Accident Victim Dies Of Injuries

A retired San Quentin Prison correctional officer died early today of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car yesterday while crossing Third Street, west of Irwin Street, in San Rafael.

The victim, William F. Herrick, 66, of 199 Main Street, San Quentin, died at 1:20 a.m. in Marin General Hospital of multiple fracures and a head injury.

Police quoted the driver of the car, Donald C. Olsen Jr., 16, of 323 San Anselmo Boulevard, San Anselmo, as saying Herrick suddenly walked in the path of his westbound auto shortly after 7 p.m. Herrick was thrown by the impact.

Olsen, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School, said he was on his way home from his part-time job at G and R Motors in San Rafael when the accident occurred.

Police issued a call today for witnesses to the accident, including the driver of a blue or green late model van or bus that was alongside Olsen's car. Police said the driver of the vehicle left the scene without stopping.

Herrick's death was the 13th attributed to traffic accidents in Marin this year, compared to 11 at this time last year.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Herrick today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Student Musicians Set Sunday Festival

The San Rafael schools' 22nd annual Instrumental Musical Festival will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

About 900 youngsters from grades four through 12 will perform. Recipients of private study and group music awards will be announced at the program.

BEFORE PLANNERS

Children Oppose Change Of Market

A move to replace a neighborhood grocery store with a franchise-store operation in San Rafael's Sun Valley today brought a protest from the jawbreaker and bubble gum set.

Before the San Rafael Planning Commission for public hearing next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in city hall will be applications by Joseph L. Giomi of 15 Eye Street to rezone two areas adjoining the Sun Valley Market at 2202 Fifth Avenue from residential to commercial, and for architectural approval and use permit for a Speedie 7-11 Store and adjoining shops to replace the existing market.

Seven youngsters of the Sun Valley area today addressed a letter to the Independent-Journal, asking that it be printed. The letter said:

"We have head that the landlord of Sun Valley Market on Fifth and California wishes to tear down the present store building and put in a Speedie 7-11.

"As children of the neighborhood, we would like to say that we do not like the idea of Sun Valley store being changed. Our reasons for this are as follows: It is a very friendly store. We know the men that work there. It has been the same store for so many years that we wouldn't feel at home if they changed it. If it were a 7-11 store, there would be so many more people there that it wouldn't be as safe for little children. Also the children know they won't be cheated out of money, and the men that work there now treat us like people. They help us read our grocery lists from home when we get mixed up, and help us find things that we can't find."

The letter bore the names of Carol and Maggie Osborn, Sheri Nave, Pam Berner, Cathy O'Hern, Lisa and Jody Brunner.

The Sun Valley Market was built just after World War II. Walter Hammerman, who operates the meat department, has been there since the store was built. James C. Cook, the lessee, has been operating the market since 1949.

Mill Valley Police Nab Holdup Man

The first man to attempt to rob a Mill Valley bank or loan company since the early 1930s was captured yesterday by Mill Valley Police five minutes after he fled the Fidelity Savings and Loan Co. at 130 Throckmorton Avenue with $180.

Robert Walker, 48, of Menlo Park was booked into Marin County Jail for investigation of robbery, and turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation today for prosecution.

Police said Walker entered the bank at 3:17 p.m. and, simulating a gun in his pocket, ordered the three tellers, Eleanor Tiner, Teresa Horton, and Sheryl Higgins, into the safe.

After locking the women in the safe, Waller took $180 from one of the tellers' drawers and left the bank, police said.

However, during the initial confusion one of the women had managed to trigger the bank's silent burglar alarm and police arrived on the scene as Waller sped away.

Sgt. Douglas Stone chased Waller and stopped him on lower Miller Avenue near Almonte Boulevard.

Police department records indicate yesterday's robbery was the first financial institution robbery in the history of the city, but oldtimers around town recall one in the 1930's when two men were captured by police after robbing a bank.

Finance Deadline At Sonoma State

Students planning to attend Sonoma State College and to apply for financial aid should have all papers completed and in the college's office of financial aids by June 6, Dr. Marvin Dillon, dean of counseling, said yesterday.

Dillon said the college scholarship service will process applications for financial aid as long as funds are available, but stressed that it is likely all funds for the next academic year would be committed on the first round of awards.

He said a complete application must include the analysis of the parents' confidential statement of the college scholarship service as well as the college's application for financial assistance.

Achievement his year.

CREATIVE?
Then maybe you'll be the one to latch onto this great bargain we're offering for the first time this weekend. The present owners have started to remodel, but halfway thru the job, their plans have changed and this delightful, spacious, private, and very interesting home can be bought for a mere $17,500. Much of the heavy work is out of the way, and just a little effort would make this into a home worth much more than its modest price. Be the first to see it.

LOTUS LAND FAIRHILLS

Ever want to feel like an argonaut and sail through the straits of Scylla and Charybdis, be lured by the sirens, eat the fruit of the lotus, forget all your cares and live in happy indolence? This home, high atop Fairhills, brings to mind the old Greek myth.

We believe that not even the music of Orpheus could lure you away. Nor could Odysseus himself have escaped from this land of the Lotus. Your wife, too, will be captivated and enchanted. When she's not sharing the serene BBQ area with you, she'll be occupied in the kitchen "control center". You will not be disturbed when you retreat to your own wood paneled study. The children have not been overlooked. Separate bedrooms, of course, and even their own family room. And it is safe for them to play on over an acre of land, mostly level.

Many happy surprises await you — to name just one — built-ins galore. Now you've been warned. Set sail for this home and you'll never want to leave. So, bring your checkbook. Price $69,950.

BOATERS PARADISE MARINA VISTA

Here is the perfect family home that boasts 100-ft. frontage on a deep-water canal. Tie up to your own spacious dock—relax on your covered patio with the Bar-B-Q ready. You'll never tire of the view from all of the large rooms to your own back-yard Venice! The three bedrooms, two baths and big family kitchen lend comfort to this boat fancier's dream, close to the Marin Yacht Club. Most cooperative owner. $59,950.

LARGE FAMILY? LOS RANCHITOS

We have a large home for you. Complete privacy within and without for a very large family or for two families living together. This modern two-story home was designed for the owner with just that in mind. It is tremendous in every respect! The family room takes over the entire first floor — then up the stairs to a most unusual atrium suitable for dining the year around. The rest of the home includes five bedrooms and four and one-half baths, fashioned around the atrium center (which, incidentally, can be covered or open). Each room is accessible to an outdoor balcony encircling the house. The view is truly indescribable! $69,500.

DECORATOR'S DELIGHT SAN RAFAEL HTS.

Imagine a beautiful, custom-built home situated on a rustic and tranquil half acre. The four bedrooms and three baths include a deluxe master bedroom and Roman bath. Gold leaf tiling in the sunken living room is just one outstanding feature of this elegant home. You will spend many relaxing hours in the pool area, which is complete with cabana, BBQ pit, and a deck which completely surrounds the house. Owner will consider an all-inclusive deed of trust.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Retirement Communities Get High Marks From Residents

VAN DELLEN

It has been said that most older people prefer not to move in with their children. Studies have shown that they stay healthier and live longer if they remain in their own homes. Our modern retirement hotels and special apartments for the elderly are geared to their special needs.

WHAT ABOUT the retirement communities that are cropping up in Florida and the Southwest? Reports indicate that these complexes meet the needs of senior citizens, in that 90 per cent of the residents are reasonably satisfied. Seventy per cent are happier or as happy as they were before reaching old age or retirement. Only 2 per cent turned thumbs down on the entire idea.

RETIREMENT VILLAGES were selected for discussion because it means that the senior citizen must make a complete break with family, friends, and familiar surroundings.

These communities offer the advantage of moving to something, rather than from something. The majority do not regard themselves as decrepit and do not fear growing old. They have the personality, health, and finances to enjoy the facilities offered by a well planned retirement community. There is a place for persons from all walks of life and each seems to attract men and women of similar schooling and income.

THE WOMAN keeps house and the man putters about the garden. Reading is a popular diversion and so are radio and television. The men like to fish or play shuffleboard, the women love to gab, as always. These oldsters do not go for planned or rigid educational programs; they like their independence and do not want to be organized into Boy or Girl Scout troops.

Forty per cent attend church services regularly. Another 20 per cent attend at least once a month; women are more dutiful along this line. Ten per cent have part time jobs. Although many retired because of illness, 75 per cent say their health is so good, they need little medical care.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INFECTIVE AGENTS

A reader writes: What is the difference between viruses and bacteria?

REPLY

Both produce disease but bacteria usually are large enough to be seen under the ordinary microscope, and most viruses are not, unless an electron microscope is used. Viruses can live only within a cell whereas bacteria are found in secretions such as pus or in water or milk. There are other variants such as in the way they attack, multiply, and produce immunity.

Plea Entered In Battery Case

Douglas Stubbs, of 86 Benson Lane, is to appear in court at 9:15 a.m. June 5 for trial setting.

CHP Institutes New Tire Rules

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Highway Patrol put into effect today on an emergency basis new restrictions on the depth of tread on tires on public carrier buses and trucks.

Two legislators asked for the emergency action after a bus skidded out of control May 10 near Castaic on Interstate 5, killing three Girl Scouts.

The new regulations require at least one-sixteenth of an inch of tread on all tires of a bus. Formerly the tread depth restructions applied only to front tires of buses.

Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan said the new rules were put into effect now at the request of Sen. Walter W. Stiern and Assemblyman William M. Ketchum, both of Bakersfield. The rules will formally go into effect later this year after public hearings.

Don Keown, Editor

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

The aid-to-families-with-dependent-children program is a welfare concept that is sometimes critized from two sides. Taxpayers may attack it as too expensive. Recipients may regard it as inadequate. And both sides may contend that it is improperly conceived or ineffectively executed. Marin County has been the scene of an unusual study of this welfare program by a task force consisting of both recipients and taxpayers, and Marin Magazine editor Don Keown reports on their findings tomorrow.

Movies made by 13-year-olds? Yes, and by Marin 13-year-olds at that. Furthermore, these young filmmakers get school credit for their creative endeavors. They are enrolled in the cinematography course at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael. And it is probably the only class of its kind on that level in Northern California and one of but a handful in the entire country. Tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement reports with story and pictures on this unusual entry in the San Rafael curriculum.

Drivers To Battle For Spots In Indianapolis Lineup

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — One of the biggest crowds in sports history, swollen by an estimated 250,000 holders of rain checks from last weekend, probably will see a historic battle tomorrow for the pole position in the 53rd 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The scheduled opening sessions last Saturday and Sunday, which might have filled the 33-car starting field, were a watery blank.

The No. 1 or pole position goes to the fastest driver on the opening day of the trials, now Saturday.

Best prospects for pole position winner and about $20,000 in special prizes that go with it, are three-time winner A. J. Foyt Jr., former national champion Mario Andretti or veteran Roger McCluskey.

That trio and Al Unser, who was sidelined by a motorcycle accident last weekend, have dominated three weeks of practice for the time trials Saturday and Sunday.

Andretti lost his original 500 car, a new Lotus-Ford, in a fiery wreck Wednesday but he came back yesterday in a Hawk-Ford and soon was running only a couple miles an hour slower than the 171.789 miles an hour he had done with the Lotus.

He was thoroughly familiar with the Hawk, his winning car in a USAC championship race at Hanford, Calif., April 13.

"It's hard to tell whether the Hawk has the potential of the Lotus," the Italian-born driver said. "The Hawk is lighter and has two-wheel drive to the Lotus's four-wheel drive.

"We'll just have to keep trying. We (the STP racing team) have a spare new Lotus but it's four days away from being ready to run.

"I just hope I can give A. J. a run for his money," Andretti said.

The 33 fastest cars of 76 at the track will be picked in 10-mile time trials this weekend and later if necessary.

Foyt has been fastest in practice at 172.315 in his Coyote-Ford.

McCluskey has done 170.283 in a Coyote-Ford. Before his accident, Al Unser had hit 169.141 in a Lola-Ford which Bud Tingelstad could get to only 164.144 Thursday.

Joe Leonard set the Speedway one-lap record of 171.953 in a turbine, oversized under this year's rules, while winning the 500 pole position last year. The San Jose driver turned in his best piston engine speed yesterday, 168.729 in an Eagle-Ford.

Wally Dallenbach was a shade faster at 168.887 in an Eagle-Offenhauser.

49ers Score Early Win Over Raiders

Well, here it is, only the 23rd of May, but already the San Francisco 49ers have scored a victory over the hated East Bay rival Oakland Raiders.

No, I don't mean a triumph in the sense of touchdowns on the professional football field. I mean the 49ers have whipped the Raiders in the publicity department. They've scooped the Oaklanders.

Late in April the long-established San Francisco club had its 1969 pre-season prospectus off the presses and into the hands of the news media, two full weeks before the Raiders had their pre-season outlook in print and distributed.

Since the 49ers are looking for speed in the backfield, I suggest they look no farther than their publicity department. If publicist George McFadden can carry the ball as fast as he types, the Niners may be the surprise of the NFL this season.

Busy Winning Championships

Of course, in fairness to Oakland, the Raiders' publicist has had a late start in recent seasons. His team has won league and division championships lately and have been busy during the post-season while McFadden, stuck with a perennial loser, has had plenty of spare time to prepare the team's prospectuses.

While the 49er outlook through McFadden's rose-colored specs is unrestrained optimism, the Raiders are a bit more subdued in spite of their recent success.

New head coach John Madden, at 32 the youngest head coach in pro football, looks to 1969 "with cautious optimism," according to the preliminary outlook. Much depends on the return of a large number of veterans who were injured in 1968, the story continues, "particularly all-league defensive stars Tom Keating and Kent McCloughan. Though not publicized nationally as much as other clubs, the Raider injury problem in 1968 was probably more severe than any team in pro football."

Raiders A Bit Modest

After going through a position-by-position analysis, too lengthy to detail here, the report concludes by saying the 1969 Western Division race will see "ever stronger competition from Kansas City and San Diego along with a young and improving Denver club and expansionist Cincinnati. In the east the world champion New York Jets will be challenged by the talented personnel of Buffalo and the tough defense of Houston. Boston is on its way back and Miami had a dangerous and explosive young club."

After rating Kansas City "the perennial western division favorite," the Raiders conclude: "Oakland's young football team must be more dynamic than ever in 1969 to maintain their present standard of excellence."

That's the Raiders — cautiously optimistic and a bit modest.

MENTION OF Kansas City Chiefs brings to mind that their reserve end, Reg Carolan, will be busy Sunday at the annual Drake High Scholarship Foundation benefit car show at Northgate Fashion Mall in Terra Linda. Carolan, a Drake High grad, is a new director of the Drake Scholarship Foundation Board.

A's, Orioles To Collide

BALTIMORE AP) — John "Blue Moon" Odom goes after his eighth victory of the season tonight when the Oakland Athletics open a three-game series with the Balitmore Orioles.

Jim Palmer, 5-2, will be on the mound for the Orioles, who lead the American League's Eastern Division. The A's enter the game one game ahead of the Minnesota Twins in leading the West.

So far, the current A's road trip hasn't been exactly triumphant. After winning one game from the Cleveland Indians, Oakland lost three straight, one to Cleveland and two to the New York Yankees.

Tonight's game will be the first meeting of the season between the Orioles and the A's.

Ex-49er Donnelly Signs With Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Safety George Donnelly, former University of Illinois player, signed with the Chicago Bears yesterday.

Donnelly was a first-round National Football League draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1965. He suffered a broken arm in 1966, played 12 games in 1967 and was inactive last season.

49ers Deal Miller To Giants

KNEE INJURY

Miller missed the last five games last season after he sustained a knee injury against the Chicago Bears. Bill Belk took over and was outstanding.

Tommy Hart, a rookie last year, is considered a future star by the Prospectors and has picked up 25 pounds since last season without losing any speed.

Toss in veteran Stan Hindman and Kevin Hardy, the 290-pound strong boy who can go at tackle or end, and it was clear the 49ers were trading from strength in swapping Miller.

Miller's knee is okay now and Coach Dick Nolan said it was in no way a factor in the trade. The 246-pound Miller was a star at Utah State and was a former defensive captain of the 49ers.

AW, SHUCKS—As you can tell, Jack Nicklaus missed this 40-foot birdie putt in first round of the Atlanta Classic golf tournament yesterday and finished with a score of 70.
(AP Wirephoto)

Fast Start For Arnie; Knudson, Cupit Lead

ATLANTA (UPI)—Wouldn't you know it. Arnold Palmer just gets through complaining about losing confidence in his golf game and the he goes out and shoots his best opening round in three months.

Palmer, using an old putter he had all but forgotten, shot a 4-under-par 68 in the opening round of the Atlanta golf classic and went into today's second round only one stroke behind co-leaders George Knudson and Jacky Cupit.

HOT STREAK

Knudson, a fun-loving Canadian who hasn't won since capturing the Phoenix and Tucson opens back to back last year, started out just as inconspicuously as Palmer yesterday. But then his putter also heated up and he picked up five birdies in an eight-hole span.

Cupit, youngest of the five Cupit brothers who are pro golfers, was less spectacular but just as effective with 34-33—67 to tie Knudson for the lead.

Bob Johnson, a young ex-stevadore from Tacoma, Wash., who is scheduled to lose his playing card June 1 for failing to make a respectable showing of late, and veteran Mason Rudolph, who started with three straight birdies, shared the 68 spot with Palmer.

Bob Lunn, the defending Classic champion, was in the 70 group along with Jack Nicklaus, young South African Bobby Cole, Miller Barber, Charles Coody, Hugh Royer, Fred Marti and Bob Shaw.

BETTER

At that, Nicklaus did better than a lot of the other "name" players in the $115,000 tournament. South Africa's Gary Player had a 72. U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and Gardner Dickinson, winner of last week's Colonial Invitational, had 75s—and Doral champ Tommy Shaw, the man from Golf, Ill., had a 12-over-par 84.

Fifty players shot par or better yesterday over the hilly, 7,053-yard Atlanta County Club despire muggy heat that left them all wringing wet at the end of 18 holes.

Giants In Trouble

Sports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Giants' pitching problems multiplied yesterday when Juan Marichal pulled a muscle on the right side of his groin, putting him on the sidelines for at least 10 days.

With the ace righthander out, three of the four San Francisco regular starting pitchers are now out with injuries.

HOSPITAL LIST

Ray Sadecki, who manager Clyde King hopes will be able to return to action over the weekend, is also out with a groin injury and Bob Bolin is sidelined with back trouble. Righty Rich Robertson will go for the Giants tonight against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Candlestick Park facing Dock Ellis, who has a 2-4 season record.

Marichal left yesterday's game in the sixth inning with the Giants leading the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1. St. Louis tied the game with an unearned run in the ninth and went on to win 8-3 after exploding for six runs off reliefer Joe Gibbon in the 11th inning.

Marichal said the muscle started to bother him in the sixth inning. "I thought I'd better get out of the game before it hurt worse," he said afterward.

The Giants also announced yesterday they have recalled infielder Tito Fuentes from their Phoenix club in the Pacific Coast League. To make room for him, Cesar Gutierrez was dropped.

Fuentes, who will report in time for tonight's game, leads the PCL in runs scored with 27 and hits with 52. His batting average is a neat .359 in 38 games and he has 24 runs batted in.

Tamalpais Golf Team 2 Under Par

Tamalpais High School's golf team shot a record-breaking 163 team score yesterday while defeating San Marin High of Novato, on the Mill Valley Municipal course.

The Tam five-man team, led by junior Jeff Devoto's three-under-par 30, finished the round two under par. It was Tam's 19th straight victory of the year, the Indians winding up the Marin County Athletic League with a winning 14-0 record.

The sub-par golf yesterday was a fine tune-up for next Thursday's 26-team Bay Area Tournament of Champions at Lake Chabot Golf Course in Oakland.

Sox Owner Predicts Merger For Baseball

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Arthur Allyn, owner of the Chicago White Sox, said yesterday the American and National baseball leagues will merge in the near future.

Allyn predicted the merger could occur in December at the winter meetings.

"The merging would result in three eight-team divisions," Allyn said. "The new setup would be called just 'baseball.' "

"There would be West, Central and Eastern divisions, and would be created on a geographical basis. A look at the map would provide the key as to the location of the respective teams," he told newsmen.

The White Sox owner said the thinking of "independent people" as well as those in baseball is along the lines of a merger.

He explained that the new structure would be headed by a president of baseball in the form of today's commissioner, and "with the same powers." The present commissioner is Bowie Kuhn.

"Under the restructuring, baseball would operate like a business, with a president and officers carrying on just as in a corporation," Allyn said.

"It would have a board of directors, composed of owners of the 24 teams."

There would be three regional playoffs leading to the title game. "It would be a round-robin affair," he said.

Softball Victory

Hamilton Air Force Base downed Salt's Fish and Chips 9-5 last night in the San Rafael Softball League's B Division at Albert Field. Bob Turley pitched a five-hitter and Bill Kirauc collected three hits to pace the winners.

Oakland Road Runner Has Two Flat Tires

OAKLAND — The A's delight in calling Bert Campaneris "one of the most exciting players in the game of baseball." Or at least they used to.

The 1969 season has thus far been hellish for the little Cuban shortstop. After only two dozen games, Campy was a tired 27-year-old. His weariness has the club worried, for Campy has — or at least had — latent Most Valuable Player potential. He was unquestionably the club's MVP a year ago. And he said then he was still learning the game's finer points.

BUT NOW, after the first swing around the Western Division, Campy was batting under .160 and, more startling, was the team leader in strikeouts. Yes, he'd whiffed even more than Reggie Jackson.

Against an assortment of Western hurlers (if you wish to call most of the Seattle staff hurlers), Bert was averaging nearly a strikeout a game. In the previous season he fanned only 68 times in 159 games.

THEN THERE'S the matter of base hits I or lack of them. Campy led not only the A's but the entire American League in base hits last year with 177. But now five other A's regulars have more safeties.

The slump symptoms are simple: He's not getting around on the ptich. Amazingly, the speedy fellow is not even bunting with competence. And, of course, he's not reaching base with sufficient frequency to win his fifth consecutive stolen base title in the American League.

CAMPY, AND the club, are paying for Winter baseball.

For several years he's sought permission to earn a few bucks on Latin diamonds in the winter. Management, fearful of an injured shortstop, always said not. Until last winter.

Bert had an opportunity to play with a club in Venezuela. It would be on a three-day-a-week basis only, and he was most eager to accept. Begrudgingly, permission was given.

THE SETUP seemed to be working out fine. Campy was playing his three days a week — ad hitting about .370. During spring training, Campy was an alert .350 hitter. But when the regular season opened, his steam expired.

Campy didn't get a hit until his 19th trip and had already struck out nearly 50 per cent of the time. Since that initial hit, things have gotten a little better. But not much.

HAD DANNY CATER, Dick Green and Sal Bando not been hitting in the early weeks, Oakland would have been in deep trouble minus the Campy oomph.

IF AND when his normal zest returns, and if this fascinating spurt of A's power continues, Oakland will then become a consistent winner. A couple here and a couple there aren't sufficient to take a division title — particularly when your Roadrunner has two flat tires.

No Favorite In Petaluma Auto Races

Lon Williams of Fremont has scored the lone double win of the season. Other veteran drivers such as Gary Pacheco, Union City; Tom Abreu, Castro Valley, and John Soares Jr., Oakland, have all demonstrated streaks of skill, but no one has been able to dominate . . . or even stay close to the leaders each race.

The competition from local drivers has also led to speculation. Art Mossi, Petaluma, won the first main event of the year, but hasn't done much since.

WORRIES LEADERS

Another Petaluman, Bob Potts, Potts, has given the point leaders plenty to worry about, and Robert Roy, Santa Rosa, placed escond last week.

The drivers will tune up for the big Memorial Day 100-lap main event this week.

Sportsmen drivers will run the usual 20-lap main.

The specialty of the night will be the mechanics' race for stocker drivers.

Stockers will also run a full schedule of races.

Qualifying is set for 7 o'clock and the first race gets underway at 8:15.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Astros Continue Winning Ways

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Apollo 10 Astronauts are flying around the moon and their National League counterparts, the Houston Astros, have finally gotten off the launching pad.

The Astros spent the first three weeks of the season in their final countdown while the rest of baseball was blasting off.

They played 23 games, managed exactly four victories and seemed to be permanently grounded.

Then along came May and the Astros started their engines. It all began when Don Wilson pitched his no-hitter against Cincinnati on May 1 and, happily for Manager Harry Walker, it shows no signs of stopping.

FOURTH WIN

Wilson won his fourth game last night, beating Montreal 7-4 for Houston's fifth straight victory and 14th in 18 games this month.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta bombed New York 15-3, St. Louis whipped San Francisco 8-3 in 11 innings, Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and blanked Los Angeles 3-0, and Pittsburgh whipped San Diego 7-1.

Jimmy Wynn's ninth home run of the season gave Wilson a quick two-run lead against the Expos and then the Astros added three more in the second.

Joe Morgan, who singled home one of the second inning runs, doubled for two more in the seventh.

Wilson coasted with a 7-3 lead into the ninth but three Montreal hits including a homer by John Bateman knocked him out. Fred Gladding nailed down the victory.

It was the seventh straight loss for the Expos, who got three runs in the fourth on a pair of errors by Wilson and Doug Radar and a two-run single by Bob Bailey.

18 HITS

Atlanta collected 18 hits including homers by Hank Aaron, Felix Millan and Clete Boyer to wallop New York. Five Met pitchers absorbed the battering.

Aaron's two-run shot in the first inning was the 519th of his career.

MARIN, SONOMA GOLF

Rare Double Eagle By Former Tam Ace

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Rick Patterson, former golfing whiz at Tamalpais High School, just has to like that 510-yard second hole at San Geronimo National course.

Patterson, who is working for pro Bob Ellsworth at the San Geronimo links, only took two swings the other day on the par five hole. After getting off a drive of more than 300 yards, dead-eye Rick took out his trusty five-iron and banged in the ball from about 185 yards out for a very rare double eagle.

Patterson, who is planning to attend College of Marin in the fall, was playing an evening round of nine with assistant pro Bill Henderson and club member Stu Simmons of Sleepy Hollow. Rick ended up with a three-under-par 33.

THEN THERE'S Dean Hamilton who only took three clubs with him — 3-wood, 7-iron and putter — and shot a 39 over nine holes at San Geronimo.

PETRINI MARKETS of Greenbrae, San Francisco and Hillsdale will be holding its first Petrini Invitational tournament on Memorial Day on the San Geronimo National course.

Ten foursomes will be competing in the blind bogey event. Following the morning play, golfers will have an awards luncheon at 1 p.m.

THE 40 GOLFERS in the Director's Cup tournament at Rohnert Park Municipal will be playing the final 18 holes of the 36-hole tourney Sunday beginning at 8:30 a.m. It's a low net tourney, with full handicaps being used.

SEMIFINALS of the Peacock Gap Spring Handicap Tournament are scheduled tomorrow at the San Rafael course. Finals will be held the following Saturday, May 31.

INDIAN VALLEY'S Men's Golf Club at Novato is holding its big invitational tourney this weekend, 80 players (40 teams) in the best-ball twosome event.

A shotgun start today (players starting on all of the 18 holes) forced the course to be closed to open play this afternoon. Tomorrow's play will start at 8 a.m.

WALLY SCHMOKER is the latest member of the Indian Valley Men's Golf Club to join the exclusive "Ace" club. Wally, a 10-handicapper, scored his hole-in-one on the 135-yard fourth hole, and he was using his trusty eight-iron.

GOLF CLASSES for youngsters and another set for women only are coming up at San Geronimo National. The junior classes, for boys and girls aged 8 to 16, will be limited to the first 100 to sign-up and is FREE. The classes will be held June 16, 23 and 30, but youngsters will need to furnish clubs because there are not enough spares to go around.

The classes for women will start June 18, and will be held on Wednesdays and Thursdays, for both beginners and advanced golfers. Charge is $2 per classes, and it's a six-class series. Sign-ups for all classes will be taken in the San Geronimo pro shop.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Comer Stars For Seattle

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wayne Comer's claim to fame as the indispensible warm-up man for Mickey Lolich during last year's World Series appears over. Instead of warming up pitchers, he is making himself known by wearing them out.

After 6½ years in the minor leagues and portions of two seasons in the majors, Comer is making some noise as a hitter with the Seattle Pilots.

Washington heard from him last night when he rapped a three-run homer and a two-run double that boosted the Pilots to a 7-6 victory over the Senators. The five runs batted in gave him two more than he had last year with the Tigers.

IMPROVEMENT

In fact, the night gave him 23 RBI and six homers, along with a .253 batting average, far better than his .125 with Detroit.

Comer's outburst highlighted a night for hitters as not one American League pitcher managed to go the distance. In the other games, the Chicago White Sox jumped on Denny McLain for a 7-3 victory over Detroit, Baltimore trimmed Minnesota 6-2, Cleveland stopped Kansas City 4-1 and, in the afternoon, Boston added to California's woes with a 4-3 victory. The New York Yankees and Oakland were idle.

Comer, a 25-year-old righthander who batted only three times for the Tigers in 1967 and 48 times last season, did get a hit in his only at bat during the series, but it was his success as a warm-up catcher for which he received special notice.

SUPERSTITIOUS

Lolich won his first two games in the series with Comer catching him between innings, and when Comer didn't show before one inning of the final game, the superstitious Lolich refused to throw. He wanted only Comer.

Comer finally arrived and Lolich went on to win the deciding game.

But Comer never stood a chance of breaking into the power-packed Tigers' outfield, and off he went in the expansion draft to Seattle, where he has found a home.

His double in the third inning gave the Pilots a 4-2 lead. When the Senators pulled ahead 5-4 on Mike Epstein's 11th homer and sixth in five games with a man on and Ed Stroud's run-scoring hit, Comer came back with his three-run blast in the seventh.

The White Sox wasted little time handing McLain his fourth setback against six victories as they scored four times in the first inning, two on Bill Melton's homer.

COMBINE

Gerry Nyman, 2-0, and Dan Osinski combined on a five-hitter for the victory at Milwaukee before 15,948 fans.

Frank Robinson hit his 12th homer in the sixth inning and then singled in the tie-breaking run in a five-run seventh in Baltimore's seventh victory in eight games. Reliever Dick Hall, 3-1 got the victory after starter Jim Hardin failed to retire a batter as the Twins took a 2-0 lead.

Starter Horacio Pina's, first major league hit drove in the first run of a three-run second inning—Jose Cardenal's hit and a bases loaded walk drove in the others—and Ray Fosse added his first major league homer in the eighth for Cleveland.

A SAVE

Reggie Smith's two out single, only the third hit for Boston, drove in the winning run for the Red Sox in the ninth inning against Hoyt Wilhelm, 2-4 as California dropped its seventh straight.

Ray Jarvis, 2-1, was the winner in relief.

FISH AND GAME

Let's Review Laws About Falconry

Each year at this time a number of questions are asked of me concerning birds. One question asked by kids generally is, "What birds are legal to shoot?".

Section 3800 of the California Fish and Game Code names the nonprotected birds as English sparrows, crows, California jays, Stellar's jays and starlings. All the other birds are protected. Certain game birds have open and closed seasons.

Non-game birds are protected by other sections of the state Fish and Game Code. Hawks and owls come under the protected non-game bird list, though some listed below may be used in "falconry."

FALCONRY is the use of birds (called raptors) to hunt other birds or game. There are four true falcons in California — Peregrine Falcon, Prairie Falcon, Pigeon Hawk and Sparrow Hawk. Some hawks and some owls also are used in falconry.

The term raptor means birds with talons and hooked beaks suited for seizing prey, and includes the true falcons, hawks and eagles. Condors and the vultures are also raptors, but are generally not used as hunters. The practice of falconry is legal under Section 395 of the Fish and Game Code.

Here are some laws pertaining to falconry:

1. It is unlawful to possess or train a hawk or an owl for falconry, except under a falconry license. (cost $15).

(a) No license shall be issued to any person under age 16.

b) The following species may not be captured, possessed, or used in the practice of falconry: bald eagle, golden eagle, osprey, whitetailed kite, and all owls except the great horned owl.

(c) Raptors of species which are native to North America may be brought into California for the purpose of falconry under the provisions of a written permit from the Department of Fish and Game.

(d) No licensee shall at any time possess more than two raptors, and this shall include those that may be imported.

(e) Raptors which are legally obtained elsewhere may be imported into California only under terms and conditions of a permit which may be issued by the Department of Fish and Game.

(f) Licensees may take immature or fledging raptors from nests, except prairie falcons and peregrine falcons. Not more than one immature or fledging raptor may be taken from one nest by a permittee. Raptors may be taken by traps or nets which are humane in their operation and use. Raptors may be captured by traps or nets only between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, and no adult raptor may be captured by any other means except during such specified period. These regulations do not permit the taking of raptors in any national or state park, or in any area in which local laws prohibit such activity.

(g) Licensees shall have in possession a valid falconer's license when engaging in the practice of falconry. In addition, falconers loosing their falcons at game birds or mammals shall have in possession a valid hunting license. Licensees shall also buy pheasant tags prior to loosing falcons at pheasants.

(h) Each licensee shall abide by the Fish and Game Code and all seasons, bag limits, hunting hours, and other regulations of the Fish and Game Commission when practicing falconry on game speices. Falcons may not be loosed at any protected non-game bird or fully protected bird.

(i) Prairie falcons and peregrine falcons may not be taken in California. These falcons, legally obtained elsewhere, may be imported under the terms and conditions of a permit issued by the Department of Fish and Game. The department must be notified of possession.

(j) No licensee shall transfer ownership or possession of any raptor taken or possessed under the provisions of these regulations without first obtaining written permission from the Department of Fish and Game.

Section 3503 of the Fish and Game Code states: "It is unlawful to take, possess or destroy the nest or eggs of any game bird or nongame bird."

Stewart To Run Tomorrow; Time Change In Meet

Moore said field events will begin at 1 p.m. instead of 2 p.m., track events at 4 p.m. instead of 5 p.m. and opening ceremonies would be held at 5 p.m. instead of 6 p.m.

The state junior College championships will be held in conjunction with the meet. College of Marin's George Stewart will be running in the mile and two-mile events.

Moore said the television crew asked for the changes so there would be light available during more of the events.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 23, the 143rd day of 1969 with 222 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1945, Nazi secret police chief, Heinrich Himmler, committed suicide three days after being captured by British troops.

In 1960, Israeli agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina. Spirited back to Israel, Eichmann was convicted of being a mass killer of Jews in World War II and was hanged.

In 1965, the Organization of American States set up a peace-keeping force in the Dominican Republic to stand between rebel and loyalist factions.

A thought for the day: Henrik Ibsen said, "I hold that man is in the right who is most closely in league with the future."

Memorial Day Trip For Youth

A day at Disneyland has been scheduled for San Rafael High School seniors on Memorial Day. The trip will be sponsored by a group of seniors headed by Marc Litchfield, student body president.

A chartered bus will leave the high school at 10 p.m. Thursday and return about midnight next Friday.

Chaperones are being sought for the trip and persons who can assist may call the high school for additional information.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

One False Move Can Mean End Of Chance For A Grand Slam

One false move cost a great player a grand slam in today's hand, part of a collection of World Championship hands now being assembled by Parker Brothers for use with the Autobridge board. The victim was Massimo D'Alelio during one of the qualifying matches in the 1964 Bridge Olympics.

TAKES QUEEN

D'Alelio took the queen of hearts, discarded a spade on the ace of hearts, cashed the ace of spades and ruffed a spade. He got to dummy with the king of clubs to ruff another spade, led a trump to the ace and ruffed dummy's last spade.

South then cashed his own high trump, hoping that both opponents would follow suit. If so, he could claim the rest of the tricks.

Since East still had a trump, D'Alelio had to get to dummy to draw the last trump. He cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy, but East had discarded a club on the fourth round of spades and was therefore able to overruff dummy. Down one.

SAD HAND

It was a very sad hand, and if you want to reach for the crying towel, go right ahead. But don't cry too hard, because Italy recovered from this blow and won the world championship anyway.

D'Alelio should have made his grand slam by proper play of the hearts and spades. He should have begun by taking all three high hearts, discarding both of the low spades from his hand. He could then ruff dummy's three low spades without having to cash the ace of spades first.

East would follow suit to three rounds of spades without getting a chance to discard a club, and South would evenutally ruff a club safely in dummy in order to draw East's last trump. Only then, at the 13th trick, would it be correct to cash the ace of spades.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♥ 10
♦ K J 5 3 2
♣ A 10 9 6 5.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

The hand is not worth an opening bid in standard bidding systems. In the system used by Massimo D'Alelio and Cammillo Pabis-Ticci in the 1964 Bridge Olympics, an opening bid of 2-no-trump promised five clubs and five diamonds with slightly less than the high-card strength normally needed for an opening bid.

Market Backs Off Slightly

Normal pre-weekend, evening-up pressures and some bearish economic news items, including a slackening in mid-May car sales, reduced retail sales last week and a seasonal slowdown in industry steel ordering, were depressing factors.

Oils were mixed after several issues rose sharply earlier in the week in response to their oil ventures in Alaska and in the East Indies.

Steels generally backed off. Chemicals also were in slow retreat in the absence of new constructive factors.

Motors were mixed. Rails and airlines also traded on both sides of previous closings, but in relatively narrow ranges.

Lockheed recovered a bit after sliding several points earlier in the week when the Army canceled the firm's contract to build a new helicopter gunship.

Drug Holdings Look Good For Long-Term Increases

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We would like to invest $2,000 and then $75 montiy toward our son's education eight years away. Can you advise what stock and industry to start with? — T. M.

A. The strong growth trend of the health-care industry seems well-suited to your needs. Americans in the last eight years have doubled their spending for medical care. And a strong case can be made for similar expansion in the next eight years. More than 80 per cent of the population has medical insurance; hospital construction has reached a $2.5 billion rate annually, and by 1975 Medicare will cover 20 million people with Medicaid available for an additional 35 million. While major drug company stocks will not emulate the flamboyant performance of nursing home issues, sales of their products should grow at an 8 per cent to 10 per cent annual rte. In spite of political pressure, the drug industry is still one of the more profitable, with margins remaining around 10 per cent.

Because government standards for drug clearance are strict, costs involved in proving a new drug are substantial. Although this has tended to reduce the number of new drugs, those which have been marketed are of greater significance. More recently, combination products have come under fire and certainly some will be banned.

Specifically I like Sterling Drug, an important producer of proprietary as well as ethical drugs. Its nonprescription products — about 35 per cent of sales — include Bayer Aspirin and Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Analgesic drugs are a major product line. Broadening this line of well-known painkillers such as Demerol, Sterling introduced in 1967 a potent nonaddictive injectable drug, Talwin. A tablet form was approved this year by the FDA and should generate a good boost to sales. Another product — Sulfamylon, for treatment of severe burns — was cleared for sale this year. Overseas marketing of a vaccine to relieve the 200 million people afflicted with snail fever should begin this summer.

Earnings, which were $1.23 a share in 1968, are expected to reach $1.40 this year.

World Airways Reports Gain In Earnings

OAKLAND (BW) — World Airways has reported a gain in consolidated earnings for the first quarter of 1969.

Edward J. Daly, president of the company, said net income for the company and its subsidiaries was $3,415,000 for the 1969 first quarter, compared with $3,229,000 for the 1968 period.

On a per share basis, earnings were 34 cents vs. 32 cents for the respective quarters.

Airline revenues for the three months were $20,509,000, compared with $21,524,000 for the 1968 first quarter.

Shareholders' equity in World Airways at the end of the first quarter increased to $54.9 million, against $42.8 million for the same period last year.

SPRING CLEAN-UP NOTICE
MARIN COUNTY RESIDENTS

Back yard burning terminates December 31, 1969.

Have you an accumulation of fire hazards —

Debris — Brush — Lumber

Combustible junk in storage areas

Is there adequate brush clearance around your home for fire protection?

Check with your local fire department before burning and then dispose of your accumulated combustibles before the critical fire season.

If combustible debris is not burned now, it will have to be hauled after December 31 when backyard burning terminates.
